HAVANA STRUCK BY CYCLONE.

Cuba's Capital Suffers Its Worst Storm In Twelve Years.

Eighteen Natives Killed and Many Injured.

Priest Warns Americans In Time.

Tents Flattened In Camp Columbia —Cruiser Brooklyn Grounds. Losses $2,000,000.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HAVANA, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Eighteen dead, many injured, much property demolished, the Prado and parks destroyed, traffic and all electric communication within the city or with the outside world cut off, this is the extent of the evil wrought in the worst cyclone Havana has experienced since 1894.

The fatalities are confined to natives. The American troops and sailors are safe.

Cruiser Brooklyn dragged her cable at her moorings in the height of the hurricane, and touched bottom, but got off with no damage.

The other warships, the Minneapolis, the Texas, the Denver and the Prairie rode out the gale.

A thousand tents in Camp Columbia were blown down. The barracks were unroofed.

One trooper had a shoulder broken.

PRIEST GIVES WARNING.

The camp and fleet were saved by the timely warning of Father Loveat Gungoiti, a noted weather observer of the Belen College Observatory. He telephoned to the camp at 7:30 o'clock last night that the cyclone would sweep through it within an hour.

The soldiers jumped to make safe the property. Exactly at 8:30 o'clock the blast hit the camp and the roofs of tents went off like paper, the poles flying through the air.

The captains of warships also were warned in time to make all snug.

HEAVY RAIN AND WIND.

The storm began with heavy rain and wind. About 6 o'clock its force rapidly increased, and at 12 o'clock was at the height of its fury, blowing 80 miles. The streets were like rivers and the stores were flooded. Street cars were swamped; great buildings shook, and windows and doors gave way.

HOUSES BLOWN DOWN.

Several houses were blown down in the poorer section, and it was in this that all the deaths occurred. In the Prado, only six trees on the heavily-shaded thoroughfare remained standing.

MATANZAS GUANAJAY DESTROYED.

It is reported that the town of Matanzas Guanajay practically was destroyed.

Much loss of life in the interior is apprehended as the hurricane struck the island at Ortemesia and swept through Pinar Del Rio, its center passing very near and a little to the east of Havana.

Few people slept the entire night. Hundreds deserted their homes.

The city was in darkness, but there was no crime, the storm filling everyone with fear.

Most of the damage can be repaired, but it will take years to restore the former beauty of the city.

LOSS TO HAVANA $2,000,000.

The Havana damage is $2,000,000.

Three steamers were blown across the beach. A small schooner was sunk alongside the old Maine. Several launches were sunk.

MANY PERSONS BURNED.

Many persons were burned by live wires, three fatally.

The Jai Alai Building and Havana University were unroofed.

One hundred and fifty tobacco barns in the Alquizar district were destroyed.

The recently planted tobacco crop also was seriously injured. Enormous damage was reported from the Guira section, the center of the banana and plantation district. These crops, it is said, have been practically destroyed.

ENORMOUS LOSSES IN SAN SALVADOR.

Tempest Rages Ten Days in the Republic—Buildings Fall, Crops Go Down and Cattle Perish—Human Lives Extinguished.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN SALVADOR, Oct. 19.—A tempest has raged incessantly for ten days throughout the republic, flooding the rich valleys, principally that of Majada, and resulting in a great loss of life and the destruction of cattle and crops.

The San Salvadoran man-of-war Acazilcot was lost at Ajutla.

Buildings have fallen, burying their tenants in the ruins, and the iron bridges over the principal rivers have been carried away.

Upward of 15,000 tons of water has fallen. The aqueducts and electric light plants at Fonsonate and Salvador have suffered heavy losses.

Today the storm is abating. The railroads, telegraph and commerce are paralyzed, but traffic is being restored in some towns of the republic.

The water mains in some places have disappeared.

RIVERS BRINGING DEAD.

The rivers are bringing down the bodies of persons drowned in the storm, with the carcasses of cattle, and the sight of these tend to increase the terror of the people.

The loss is incalculable. The government has issued orders that assistance be given victims of the storm.

Guatemala and Honduras also have suffered severely. It is said the losses there will amount to many millions of dollars.

SHAKEN AS BY QUAKE.

HAVANA'S BUILDINGS ROCK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The Evening Telegram's Havana dispatch reported over one hundred dead, and says the whole American fleet was menaced. It says:

"When the tempest reached its height, buildings were shaken as by an earthquake, street cars were carried from their tracks, windows were blown in like paper and roofs and doors swept away.

"Several of the smaller frame houses were blown from their foundations and wrecked. These were situated in the poorer district, and were the causes of many deaths among natives.

"It is feared that great loss of life occurred in the interior, especially in Pinar del Rio and an island at Artemia. The wind is estimated to have blown at the rate of 80 miles an hour.

GREAT WAVES ENGULF BOATS.

"The greatest money loss will come from the damage done to shipping. Great waves engulfed about thirty-five lighters at anchor in the harbor, and they were smashed against the wharves."

All trains to the interior were discontinued. Pinar del Rio was the center of the storm. Extensive damage is reported to crops in that province.

IN NEW YORK CITY.

In this city and vicinity, the precursors of the hurricane were abnormally high tides at Coney Island and along the shore of the Hudson River in Manhattan, a fresh breeze all Wednesday night, yesterday and last night, and rain.

The northeaster whic hhas been blowing here for two days has driven in the water of the Hudson until it rolled over Thirteenth avenue yesterday afternoon a foot deep. Hudson River experts say this is the highest tide in thirty years.

Coney Island had one of the highest tides ever seen on the island. It pounded the great bulkhead at the foot of Ocean Parkway. Waves rolled over it with a boom, and inundated the roadways, bicycle paths, tracks of the Brighton Beach Railroad and the grounds of the Hotel Riccadonna.

FURIOUS IN FLORIDA.

Reports from Florida indicate that the hurricane was furious along the southeast coast, and severe damage there is apprehended.

MIAMI HOUSES WRECKED.

A conductor who arrived at Fort Pierce from Miami reported that 100 houses at Miami were wrecked by the storm. The Episcopal church and the Methodist Episcopal churches were blown down, and the concrete jail is leaning. The roof was blown off at the P. and O. warehouse, and the car shed was blown down.

When communication with Miami was restored by the Western Union Telegraph Company, Miami reported that the hurricane struck the coast there at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning and lasted until 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The train sheds and docks were badly damaged. The Methodist

MANY LIVES LOST OFF FLORIDA COAST

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MIAMA (Fla.) Oct. 19.—The steamer St. Lucie, Capt. Bravo commanding, has sunk off the Florida coast. A steamer arrived in port tonight bringing 60 injured, who were taken to the hospital.

It is believed now that a part of the Florida Fish and Produce Company's fleet was destroyed. Manager Adams sent out one of their boats this morning to look for the men and boats, and on its return the crew reported no signs of the fleet. The fishing nets were found strewn upon the shore.

The St. Lucie's home port was Tampa. She was built in Wilmington, Del., in 1888; was of 105 net tonnage, 122 feet long, 24 feet on the breadth and 4 feet depth. She was usually manned by a crew of 13. The St. Lucie had formerly been in service at New Haven. Details are lacking.

TIDAL WAVE ENGULFS ISLAND.

Capt. Bravo says that he anchored on the lee side of Elliott's Key, 25 miles south of Miami yesterday morning, and that soon afterward a tidal wave engulfed the island. He says there were 250 residents on the islands, all of whom were lost.

The St. Lucie was crushed by the same wave, and of the 100 passengers on board 25 were killed.

Capt. Bravo was seriously injured.

A barge, containing 100 people, is said to have been torn away from its moorings at Elliott's Key, and afterwards was picked up near the Bahama Islands, 50 of her passengers having been drowned.

GREAT WAVE SWEEPS HUNDREDS AWAY.

Elliott's Key, South of Miami, Engulfed, and Entire Population Perishes—Capt. Bravo of Steamer St. Lucie Tells the Story.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MIAMI (Fla.) Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Elliott's Key, twenty-five miles south of this place, was engulfed by a tidal wave yesterday morning, and the entire population, 250 souls, perished.

The news was brought here by Capt. Bravo of the steamer St. Lucie, of the Florida East Coast Line. His boat, anchored on the lee of the key, was swallowed up, and twenty-five of the ship's company of one hundred were drowned.

Fifty persons were drowned from a barge which broke loose at Elliott's Key with 100 persons on board, who had fled there for safety. She was picked up on Bahama Islands.

Seventy-five of the St. Lucie's people were rescued, and were brought here tonight.

Dr. Jackson, in charge of the hospital department of the Florida East Coast Railroad, has an ample corps of assistants who are giving every attention to the survivors of the St. Lucie, all of whom are maimed or seriously injured.

Capt. Bravo is known as one of the most competent commanders of the East Coast system. His boat is one of the Flagler Line, plying between this place and the keys along which the extension of the Flagler Railroad is being built.

CAPT. BRAVO'S STORY.

He told his story in the hospital, where he is, seriously injured.

"I anchored at Elliott's Key to get out of the cyclone," said he. "The waves were mountain high, and the wind at least eighty miles an hour. I had been there about two hours when the wall of water appeared. Our anchors were cut loose, or we all would have been lost.

"Elliott's Key was covered with water. Not a sign of land appeared anywhere. Houses, barns, trees, bodies, horses, cattle went by us in the flood. We reached shore by the waves' own force, or all would have gone."

GREATER HORRORS FEARED.

It is believed another day will tell the story of greater disasters in the keys.

It is believed now that a part of the Florida Fish and Produce Company's fleet was destroyed. Manager Adams sent out one of their boats this morning to look for the men and boats, and on their return they reported no signs of the fleet. The fishing nets were found strewn upon the shore.

LATER REPORTS BETTER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

JACKSONVILLE (Fla.) Oct. 19.—Passengers arriving here from Miami tonight report that the damage there by the hurricane was nothing like as first reported. The elegant seacoast hotels at Miami and other East Coast points all escaped damage, there being no damage of consequence elsewhere north of Miami. At Miami, the greatest damage was to small houses and fences. The drug store of Burdin & Quaterman, the Red Cross Pharmacy and the Saginaw Saloon were damaged, and sheds all over the city were blown down.

DIVER'S HATCH IS OPEN.

Submarine Is Found Full of Water and All Hands Are Given Up for Lost.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Divers have discovered that the submarine boat Lutin, which sank off Bizerta, is full of water. The hood of the conning tower was found open, but is obstructed by two dead bodies, proving that all within must have been drowned.

The submarine Korrigane, which plunged alongside the wreck today, reports having seen lights burning within the lost vessel.

THINKS THIRD TERM IS RIGHT.

VANDERBILT SAYS THE PRESIDENT WILL CONSENT.

Believes He Is Not Offering Himself as Candidate, but That Force of Popular Demand Will Lead to Final Acceptance—Denounces Interstate Commerce Law.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OTTAWA (Ont.) Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] W. K. Vanderbilt, multimillionaire, was in Montreal today. Asked if he thought the President would run again, he said:

"You ask me," said Mr. Vanderbilt, "whether I think the President again will offer himself as a candidate for the Presidency. I do not think 'offer' is the right word. I think he will be pressed to come forward by the most influential members of the Republican party, and that he will accede to what in the end will prove practically a unanimous request. I'm not a politician. My business has been of the kind that has kept me apart from political affiliations."

He also said he thought Admiral Dewey will visit Canada soon. He said he thought a third term permissible in the president's case, and characterized the new interstate commerce law as the crudest piece of legislation ever put before the Americans—"clumsy drafted by men with no practical knowledge of railroading."

HE DEBAUCHES RURAL ROUTES.

HEARST ACCUSED OF "WORKING" MAIL CARRIERS.

Republican Chairman of New York Charges Saffron-Sheet Magnate With Inducing Postmen to Dispose of Newspapers in Interests of His Candidacy.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Postmaster-General Cortelyou has received a letter from Timothy Woodruff, Republican chairman of New York, charging that W. R. Hearst is debauching the rural carrier force in that State.

Woodruff charges that Hearst has induced the carriers to dispose of his newspapers in the interest of his candidacy outside of the regular mails. Woodruff asks that this be stopped.

Department officials will not discuss the matter for publication, but it was learned from one high in authority at the department today that Woodruff's request cannot be granted for the reason that the department aims absolutely to keep out of politics, and that such act would establish a bad precedent.

LETS SPEAKER ALONE.

GOMPERS FEARS TO MEDDLE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It was announced definitely today that President Gompers would not go into "Uncle Joe" Cannon's district and make speeches against the Speaker in an effort to retire him from public life.

Two reasons for this are known. There is no doubt of Gompers's bitter opposition to Congressman Cannon, but he said enough when in Chicago a few weeks ago to show that he had no hopes of defeating the Speaker.

Another reason is that the State Federation had indorsed a Socialist candidate for Congress in the Danville district. He is a union miner, but being a Socialist "puts him in bad with Gompers," according to local leaders.

THREATENS GREAT SCHISM.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Warning the court of review that if it affirmed the conviction of Rev. Algernon R. Crapsey on a charge of heresy that a large defection in the Episcopal church would be the result, Edward M. Shepard today brought the defense of the clergyman to a dramatic close. Dr. Crapsey is accused of denying the Virgin birth and of holding heretical views concerning the divinity of Christ.

NUNS CAUSE STRIKE.

MADRID, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There is mutiny among cigarette girls here because they suspect that cigarettes are being made surreptitiously in some of the convents here, thus injuring their trade. The Governor of Madrid promised to investigate the affair, but they were not satisfied and today threw down part of the wall around the grounds of a convent and attempted to penetrate the interior. They were dispersed by the police.

POST ACCEPTS CHALLENGE.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] C. W. Post, the millionaire president of the Citizens' Industrial Association of America, has accepted the challenge of the Central Trades and Labor Union to the labor debate, provided the debate be held through the newspapers.

WAR WITH INDIANS.

Troops Marching on for Battle.

Five Hundred Men from the Tenth Cavalry to Leave for Ute Country.

Engagement May Result Near Scene of Custer's Last Conflict.

Redskins Wear War Paint, and Bucks Are Spoiling for a Slaughter.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OMAHA (Neb.) Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Another Indian war has broken out in Wyoming, and tonight United States troops at three forts are preparing to take the field against the 700 Utes which have been making life dangerous in Central Wyoming for the past four months.

Five hundred men of the Tenth Cavalry from Fort Robinson, Neb., under command of Col. Auger, have been ordered to be ready to move by train early Saturday morning, and to go after the Utes.

The Sixth Cavalry at Fort Meade, S. D., and the Fourth Infantry at Fort McKenzie, Wyo., have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to reinforce the Tenth Cavalry and to prevent the Indians from making a break either to the east or west of their location, some forty miles from Gillette, Wyo. The Sixth and Fourth will not leave the forts until further orders.

OFFICERS BUSY PLANNING.

It was not until after dinner tonight that orders came from the War Department at Washington for the troops to take the field and officers in the headquarters in Omaha are working all night on the plans and arrangements.

Trains have been ordered from the Burlington Railroad to be at Fort Robinson tomorrow morning and at Forts Meade and McKenzie during the day. Those at the latter places are to await further orders.

ON CUSTER'S TRAIL.

The present position of the Utes is almost identical with that occupied by Sitting Bull and the Sioux in 1876, when Gen. Custer started after them. At that time the Sioux ran northward and were overtaken about 100 miles north of where the Utes are now camped. There the famous Custer massacre was perpetrated, when Custer and every man of his command was killed.

MAY PASS BATTLEFIELD.

From the triangular position of the three bodies of troops which will start after the Utes tomorrow these Indians must either surrender or follow over the old Sitting Bull trail.

In the latter event they will pass within a few miles of the Custer battlefield.

Originally the band of Utes consisted of 700. One hundred have returned to their reservation. Most of these were women, children and old men.

Those remaining are able-bodied men and all are well armed, but somewhat short of ammunition, it is believed. The younger men are spoiling for a fight.

BUCKS IN WAR PAINT.

At Reddick Brothers' ranch, forty miles from Gillette, they acted threateningly and reports from there tonight are that many of the bucks were painted.

It was near the Reddick ranch that the two cowboys were killed yesterday. If the Indians get whisky there is no doubt whatever but that a fight will occur as soon as the soldiers arrive.

Fort Robinson is about 150 miles from Gillette, the nearest railroad point to the Indians, who are forty miles from the railroad. Troops cannot reach them until Sunday morning and then only by an all night's ride.

LATER: A Republican special from Gillett, Wyo., says that the band of Utes pulled stakes late this afternoon and started in a body in the direction of Montana. They heard of the order for troops and immediately began preparations for leaving.

REPORTS ON MISSIONS.

Bishop Tuttle Says That Last Year $850,000 Were Raised for This Work.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.) Oct. 19.—At today's session of the Episcopal Conference Bishop Tuttle read a list of figures on the contributions of the twenty missionary districts and the sixty-three dioceses in the United States.

Bishop Tuttle said that the sum of $850,000 was raised last year for the missionary cause.

D.A.R. DEDICATE GATEWAY.

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) Oct. 19.—A memorial gateway of granite to commemorate the movements of the Continental army during the days of the Revolution was formally dedicated today. Members of the Daughters of the American Revolution gave the gateway.

GREATEST DAMAGE IN HAVANA HARBOR.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HAVANA, Oct. 19.—The cyclone which began here Wednesday afternoon reached its full fury Thursday morning. The greatest damage occurred in the harbor and along the docks. A number of smaller craft and lighters were sunk, and some houses were blown down.

There are a number of sailors among the dead, and several score of longshoremen and sailors were injured.

STOPPED STREET CARS.

The torrential downpour of rain completely stopped the street car services, and the wind and rain made it impossible to get about the streets.

Trees in the parks and along the shaded avenues were blown down in large numbers.

The cyclone was confined to the provinces of Havana and Pinar del Rio. Matanzas City escaped. All telegraphic communication was annihilated.

WIND GREATLY MODERATED.

Today the wind moderated greatly, and the city is fast assuming its normal appearance.

GAY CROWDS PROMENADE.

Save for the activity in all quarters of the city of gangs of hundreds of men of the Public Works Department, under the direction of Lieut.-Col. William M. Black of the United States army engineers, in replacing uprooted trees, Havana today resumed its usual aspect. Gay crowds are promenading the streets and lounging in the cafés oblivious of the fearful experience through which their city has just passed.

A great majority of the trees are being replaced, but owing to the necessity of chopping off branches, they will be denuded of foliage, and it will be long ere the parks and the Prado are restored to their former beauty.

WRECKED LIGHTERS' MASTS.

No other traces of the hurricane are visible excepting masts of the wrecked lighters protruding from the surface of the harbor. These small vessels were almost all driven by the force of the wind against the harbor wall where they broke up and sank.

WIRES BADLY CRIPPLED.

Street car traffic was fully resumed this afternoon, but the electric light, telegraph and telephone systems are still badly crippled.

The harbor has been searched for dead, and it is now believed that all the bodies have been recovered.

All the stevedores and sailors who sustained injuries are tonight reported doing well.

TOBACCO FARMS SUFFER.

One hundred and fifty tobacco farms in the Alquizar district have been destroyed. The recently planted tobacco crop also has been seriously injured.

Enormous damage is reported from the Guira section, the center of the banana district. These crops are said to have been practically totally destroyed.

ANIMALS GO OVERBOARD.

The chartered army transport Cubana, from Newport News, with horses and mules and a few teamsters, arrived here this afternoon after a terrific struggle with the gale off the Florida coast. Her foremast was carried away and huge seas swept her decks. Her superstructure was damaged and a number of stalls were carried away. One hundred mules and twenty horses were swept overboard and many other animals were injured.

The total number of lighters sunk in the harbor is estimated at forty. Many of them were loaded with sugar and other merchandise, upon which the loss will be great.

UNIVERSITY SUFFERS.

The buildings of the University of Havana sustained damage amounting to many thousands of dollars.

A partition wall in the American legation was blown down. The office furniture was ruined, and the books and records of the legation were destroyed.

TENEMENT HOUSE CASUALTIES.

Eight persons were killed and four injured by the collapse of a tenement house on Inquisitor street. The other fatalities resulted from falling cornices, contact with live wires in the city or by drowning in the harbor.

The structure over the sea baths at Vedado was wrecked. The great unoccupied brick building covering the old United Railroad wharf near La Regla was totally demolished.

During the height of the storm there was great alarm among the guests of the Inglaterra and other hotels. Doors, windows and skylights were blown in and the fierce rain flooded the rooms.

STRIPPED OF TREES.

The destruction of trees by the cyclone was a most remarkable feature. Throughout the length of the Prado, scarcely one tree remained standing; they were nearly all uprooted. Havana has thus lost one of its chief beauties, for it will be many months before others can be planted. The streets in the lower part of the city were flooded to the depth of a foot or more, and the lower floors of buildings were inundated.

Reports received from Pinar del Rio City declare that the damage to buildings there was very great. The injury to the sugar crop is not serious.

The rivers of Havana and Pinar del Rio provinces have overflowed in the lowlands and horses, cattle and pigs by the hundreds have been drowned.

CRUISER BROOKLYN FLOATED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Secretary Bonaparte has been unofficially notified that the cruiser Brooklyn has been floated, and is all right.

GOV. MAGOON CABLES.

FEARS CONSIDERABLE LOSS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The following official dispatch was received at the War Department late this afternoon

HAVANA, Oct. 19.—The Secretary of War, Washington: Terrific hurricane swept over Havana and vicinity at midnight, lasting several hours. Wind officially reported 80 miles. Telegraph and telephone wires all down. Trees blown down in all parts. Two schooners ashore. Loss city and country heavy. Fear considerable loss of life. Eight deaths reported in city of Havana. Have called upon governors of provinces to report local conditions. Ocean going shipping in Havana harbor unharmed. Number of launches and lighters adrift and sunk.

[Signed] MAGOON.

STEAMER CUBAN DISMASTED.

Quartermaster-General Humphrey of the army tonight received a dispatch from Quartermaster Baker at Havana, as follows:

"Cuban arrived this morning at 7 o'clock and encountered heavy weather. Her foremast completely gone; mainmast top gone. No men injured. Considerable number of animals killed and injured. Will report exact number with full particulars as soon as can be ascertained."

REQUEST FOR STORES.

A cablegram dated today from Camp Columbia, seven miles outside of Havana, was received by Quartermaster Humphrey from Maj. Baker, chief quartermaster at Havana, making a request for military stores, but containing no reference relative to the storm.

LOSS UP IN THIUSANDS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MIAMI (Fla.) Oct. 19.—The most destructive storm in years struck Miami at 3 o'clock Thursday morning, coming from the northeast. The damage wrought throughout the city will amount to many thousand dollars, it being impossible now to give any accurate figures.

The warehouse of the Charles Watson Company on Sixth street was demolished. The New Orlendorff block, the Arcade building and First Methodist Church were all nearly wrecked. McNeill's stables were destroyed, but the horses escaped. Granger's livery stables were destroyed. A large portion of the terminal docks, and the car shed near the round-house were blown down.

On Avenue D a number of plate glass windows were smashed in, and several business houses were unroofed. Most of the merchants lost heavily from water.

RAGING ON ATLANTIC.

STORM THREATENS COASTERS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The tropical hurricane which swept from Cuba to the Bahamas now appears to be raging with full force about 200 miles out in the Atlantic, its only effect tonight being a falling barometer and a twenty-five-mile wind blowing off the South Carolina coast.

It is still hazardous for coasting craft along the Middle and South Atlantic coasts. The hurricane, according to Forecaster Henry of the Weather Bureau, seems to have temporarily subsided in its northeastward movement, and has not advanced in the past twelve hours, nor do the indications point to any change in the next twenty-four hours. Another storm is developing in Colorado.

ITALIANS FLOCK HOME.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—There began yesterday, with the sailing of the Republic, of the White Star Line, the annual exodus of Italian laborers who go to Europe to pass the Christmas holidays. In the steerage on this liner were 724 persons, mostly Italian workingmen. Persons who have to do with handling steerage traffic say it is almost impossible to explain the large exodus, in view of the great demand for labor in this country.

Hardware Men Versus Unions.

ATLANTIC CITY, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Denouncing organized labor as "A combination in restraint of trade," the American Hardware Manufacturers' Association has called on the President to urge laws against it.

INSURANCE SURPLUS IS POLICY HOLDERS'.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FRANKFORT (Ky.) Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] By a decision of the Kentucky Court of Appeals today, life insurance in this State practically is revolutionized. The court holds that the surplus of all mutual companies belongs to the policy holders and must de distributed to them, or credited on their premiums.

The case was that of the United States Life Insurance Company of New York vs. Spinks, involving the liability of the company to pay a $25,000 policy on Spinks's life.

Spinks failed to pay one premium, but gave a note for it. He failed to pay the note when due, and died before another premium fell due. The company declared that the policy had been forfeited for non-payment of the premium.

The court held today, by a unanimous vote, that the company must pay the Spinks policy, on the ground that each policy holder is entitled, each year, to his proportionate share of the company's "dividend additions" or surplus fund.

The decision is regarded as a death blow to deferred dividend policies in Kentucky.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) Oct. 19.—The telegraph companies here are advised that wire communication south of Jacksonville, Fla., has not yet been restored. Linemen have been hurried to the scene, and it is expected that at least one wire will be working by tonight. Train service between Jacksonville and Miami is but slightly impaired.

DUTCH STEAMER LOST.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN JUAN (P. R.) Oct. 19.—The Red Star Line steamer Philadelphia, from La Guayra, Venezuela, for New York, arrived here today forty-eight hours late. Her captain reports that a Dutch steamer was lost in the cyclone at a point near La Guayra.

The Philadelphia encountered the cyclone upon leaving the harbor at La Guayra Monday. She was blown ashore and slightly damaged. This and the heavy weather accounted for her delay in reaching here.

Twenty miles of the railroad connecting La Guayra with Caracas has been totally destroyed by the storm, according to officers and passengers of the Philadelphia. She left for New York this evening.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The War Department has received the following message from Gen. Bell, at Havana:

Not known whether any United States property suffered.

"Frederick Sutliffe, wagon master, Twenty-eighth Infantry, retired soldier, head badly cut; will recover."

ST. AUGUSTINE SAFE.

DAMAGE BY HIGH TIDES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. AUGUSTINE (Fla.) Oct. 19.—This city, beyond the damage done by high tides, was not affected by yesterday's hurricane. Messages received at the wireless station indicate that the storm passed this point about sixty miles to sea.

About 10 o'clock this morning, a Red D liner reported that it was running into a terrific storm north of St. Augustine.

A wireless message from Key West tonight says: "Steamer Mascotte arrived at Key West; all on board O. K."

SWEPT FROM BARGES.

LOSS OF MANY WORKMEN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

KEY WEST (Fla.) Oct. 19.—The Austrian steamer Jennie, Capt. Dudnich, bound from Gulfport for Genoa, has called at this port to land forty-nine workmen picked up at sea near the Bahama Coast, 180 miles from Key West. The men were a part of a force of 150 working men belonging to barge No. 4, engaged on east-coast extension work. Most of the others were either killed or drowned in the storm early Thursday.

Nine other barges crowded with working men engaged in extension work were at sea with barge No. 4. There is no news of them and it is feared all were lost.

THIRTY TO FORTY KILLED.

W. P. Dusenbury, one of the engineers saved by the steamer Jennie, says the storm struck barge No. 4 at 5 o'clock Thursday morning. One hour later the houseboat went to pieces in the raging sea and thirty to forty men were killed in the crash. Dusenbury says none of the boats working on the extension at Long Key went to sea with barge No. 4.

FLOATED ON LOGS.

Officers of the rescuing steamer Jennie say that they heard cries for help Thursday night, and following the direction of the sounds, came upon a lot of men floating in the sea, clinging to logs, lumber and small rafts. Boats were lowered and the forty-nine men brought here were rescued.

Three other steamers, using search lights, came on the scene and assisted in saving lives. How many they rescued was not ascertained by those aboard the steamer Jennie.

ARREST OF "UNCLE JOE."

Speaker Cannon on Wheels Too Fast for the Quaker City Law.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—A dispatch to the World from Philadelphia says that Speaker Cannon and Congressman McCreary made a whirlwind automobile tour of Philadelphia last night. All went well until after a 9-mile trip to Germantown had been made in 15 minutes. The Speaker's car had barely stopped when a perspiring bicycle policeman, who had been in pursuit, arrived.

"Your are arrested," said the officer. Mr. Cannon was hurried into the hall, and someone explained to the policeman who he was. The officer contented himself with taking the number of the car and notifying the chauffeur that he was under arrest and would have to appear before a magistrate in the morning.

SPIRITS WITH PECULIARITIES.

A peculiar thing about the spirits which were evoked tonight at the Spiritualists' convention was that, with rare exceptions, they had all suffered from consumption. One exception arrived with an odor of gas. He had been accidentally suffocated, and apparently had never been able to get rid of the taint from the leak in the gas pipe. The afternoon session was devoted to the election of officers. All outgoing officers were reelected. President Barrett enters on a fourteenth consecutive term. The next annual convention will be held at Los Angeles.

LIPTON'S TUNEFUL PROTEGE.

Laura Herbison sang "Annie Laurie," and warmed the heart of Sir Thomas Lipton. The jolly nobleman sat entranced as her strong voice rang out at his recent banquet and reception. Miss Herbison, pretty and but 17 years old, received her reward today, in the announcement that she is to become the protegé of Sir Thomas and be placed on the operatic stage of London, where she will be given ample opportunity for advancement.

GLICKMAN OUTLIVES DISASTER.

A large audience at the International theater tonight gave an enthusiastic welcome to Ellis Glickman and his band of Yiddish players. Glickman has been the victim of two disasters. His company played at the Lyceum Theater until the fire at the Iroquois. When the theaters were closed, Glickman took his band to San Francisco. They remained there until the earthquake, when the house in which he was playing was destroyed.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE INDORSED.

That Christian Science has done a great deal of good in cases of hysteria and that physicians should use more of the spiritual and less of the material in their treatment of that class of disease was the substance of an address today made by Dr. Richard W. Corwin of Pueblo, Colo., president of the American Association of Railway Surgeons.

Mrs. Burton will accompany him, and remain in Ironton while her husband is serving his sentence. Burton today began the final arrangements for his departure from Abilene. His face is lined with deep wrinkles, and the satin lining of his overcoat was frayed. He carried a walking stick, but he was not the plate of fashion that the people of Kansas once knew as their senior Senator.

YELLOW "OLEO" WINS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LANCASTER (Wis.) Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Yellow oleomargerine has won a victory in Wisconsin. Judge Clementson ruled in a test case that "oleo" that is not colored artificially may be sold in the State. The decision upholds the contention of the Chicago packers, that so long as the yellow tinge of the product is natural, it should not be excluded from the market, even if it does resemble June butter.

Stembridge was taken sick under conditions which his lodge says entitled him to $1 per week benefit. He contended for more and appealed to the Supreme Tribunal, which sustains the Syracuse lodge.

Mrs. Lydia Monroe of Riverside, Cal., has played the role of diplomat in finally securing an amalgamation of the Rathbone Sisters, of which she was the Supreme Chief, with the Pythian Sisterhood. She carried the proposition to the Pythian Sisters, and signed the ratification agreement.

Today Mrs. Monroe addressed a communication to the Supreme Lodge of Pythians, officially informing them of the consolidation and asking permission to adopt the name of Pythian Sisters for the united body. It was referred to a committee.

At the meeting of the Rathbones today Mrs. Monroe was advanced to the honored position of Past Supreme Chief. She will leave for California Monday.

RUNS DOWN GRAB GAME.

Grand Jury Pursues the Avaricious Hearstites.

Murphy's Talk Basis for Three Subpoenas.

Arrest of "Uncle Joe" for Speeding.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—An investigation of the charges made yesterday by Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, that attempts had been made by the managers of the Independence League in this city to secure delegates from Democratic nominees for Governor, Senate and Assembly, was laid before the grand jury today. Murphy and Francis F. Shober, Independence League and Democratic candidates for Congress in the Seventh District, were admitted to the grand jury room. Murphy was accompanied by City Magistrate Moss, and remained about fifteen minutes. Five minutes after he emerged, it was said that three additional subpoenas had been issued as a result of his testimony.

It was learned on what is considered good authority that the three men subpoenaed are Congressman Joseph E. Ransdell, William Astor Chandler and Joseph Prendergast.

When Shober came out of the grand jury room he said: "Mr. Jerome asked me if I knew anything about the attempts made upon the candidates to induce them withdraw and offers made to them to do so. I told him I did not know anything personally about it, but that what I had heard had been mere rumors."

Judge Rosalsky, who went before the grand jury immediately after Shober, remained only a few minutes. He said the grand jury asked him if he knew at any time made any campaign contributions or offered any money for the indorsement by the Independence League. He told the grand jury that he had not. The indorsement came from the Democratic State Committee. That is all I or any one else has subscribed, directly or indirectly, to any person or party."

SAN LUIS OBISPO WELCOMES CHIEF AT IMMENSE RALLY.

Standard Bearer's Visit Acclaimed by Enthusiastic Host Which Crowds Streets and Fills Pavilion to Its Doors—Telling Points of Speakers Win Great Applause.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There was no sign in San Luis Obispo today of abatement in cordiality with which the people of Southern California have greeted Republican nominees for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor. Gillett and Porter were received on their arrival from Santa Barbara by the executive committee, consisting of Supervisor T. A. Norton and Secretary C. V. Wright of the County Committee. State Committeemen F. W. Bowers, Benjamin Brooks, John Bonebrake, Warren M. John and Victor Montiel. The candidates and the committee accompanying them spent the forenoon in making acquaintance with the citizens and discussing the political situation in Southern California generally. Gillett, for the tall axman from Tehama, said he looks good to the people of the Southland. San Luis says Governor Porter are the sort of men that will give them proof of the value of a substantial majority.

The city was ablaze with crowds and illumination tonight, two bands of music, torchlight processions paraded the streets and a marching club from Arroyo Grande and an excursion from Santa Maria in Santa Barbara county came in a special train. It was an old-fashioned rally, such as it called to mind that has been common in California outside the campaign of 1896. The capacity of the Pavilion was packed to the doors, and overflowing was estimated that there remained fully 3000 persons on the outside. Frank Burke, Democratic candidate for Assessor, made a brief address, as did many of the party candidates for county offices. Frank Burke, in his address, made a humorous reference to the fact that he had been charged with being an Englishman. He said he was proud to be classed as an Englishman, for the English people were the best friends the Americans had. He was also proud of the glorious record which the Democratic party had made in California. He asked that the Democrats of California be judged by the record of Gillett and Porter, and not by the record of the Democrats in the East. He said he was an inch a man and an ounce on trust, the trusts and combines of the country, and was opposed to large standing armies. He was in favor of a large Navy, and was proud of the fact that Spanish tongues were heard on board the warships of the United States. He was proud to be classed with the Democrats who had fought for the liberty of the Philippines, and who were now fighting for the liberty of the Filipinos.

Ben Ward was then introduced, and when he came in for a share of the applause, he said: "I am glad to be classed with Democrats who have fought for the liberty of the Filipinos, for I was one of them myself. I was in the Philippines for two years, and I am proud of the fact that I was there. I am proud of the fact that I was one of the boys who helped to put down the insurrection there, and I am proud of the fact that I was one of the boys who helped to put down the insurrection there, and I am proud of the fact that I was one of the boys who helped to put down the insurrection there."

NON-PARTISANS REACH VOTERS.

CANDIDATES STIR ENTHUSIASM AT NIGHT MEETING.

Ben Ward and Other Candidates on County Ticket Forward Their Cause at Gathering on Washington Street. Assessor Denies Statements Made by the Opposition.

Candidates of the Non-Partisan County Organization addressed a meeting of voters last evening at Faulk's Hall, Washington street and Burlington avenue. They were given an enthusiastic reception by the people that braved the wind and the dust to hear them. George Alexander, Supervisor of the Second District, who won as an independent candidate two years ago against great odds, was in charge of the meeting.

Dr. James P. Booth, candidate for Coroner; G. M. Giffen, for State Senator, Thirty-eighth District; Ben E. Ward, for County Assessor; Frank G. Henderson, Marshall Stimson and other candidates for the Assembly; Dr. W. A. Lamb, for Supervisor; Albert Lee Stephens, for Justice of the Peace, and several other candidates, made short addresses.

W. R. Burke, a member of the Non-Partisan Committtee, told of his knowledge as a Democrat, of the manner in which the worst elements of the Republican and Democratic parties conspired in each campaign to elect to office such men as would be acceptable to them, irrespective of party. He called attention to the danger of voting a ticket straight just because it happened to bear the name of one party or another.

It is within the power of the people to elect to office just such men as they wish to represent them, he said. The large number of candidates in the field gives an opportunity for the selection of good men. He urged a careful study of the ballot as a whole before the casting of a vote.

Ben Ward was greeted with cheers when he came in near the close of the meeting, with Dr. Lamb and Marshall Stimson, after a swift automobile ride from a meeting at Sherman.

Ward made a characteristic speech, in which he told of the attacks made on him by the Republican organization. He denied that his system of assessments had caused Los Angeles county to pay 45 per cent. of the total of the State taxation.

"Los Angeles county," he said, "pays less than 18 per cent. of the total, while San Francisco, in its present stricken condition, pays 24 per cent., or 6 per cent. more than this county."

The Non-Partisans will hold a meeting tonight at Odd Fellows' Hall on West Jefferson street. There also will be a meeting today at the Soldiers' Home.

WHOLESALE NATURALIZATION.

FRAUDS IN MINNESOTA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 19.—Wholesale naturalization frauds in the Hennepin county district courts have been discovered. The evidence has been turned over to the United States authorities and sixty-two warrants have been issued by the United States Marshal's office. Moses Winthrop, a well-known Democratic politician, has already been arrested and bound over to await the action of the Federal grand jury.

It is expected that large numbers of foreigners have perjured themselves, in taking out their second papers, in overstating the time they have been in this country for the purpose of making voters of them.

CABINET ASSISTANCE.

SPEAKERS FOR CAMPAIGN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Secretary of State Root, Secretary of War Taft, Atty.-Gen. Moody and Representative Sherman of New York held a conference with the President at the White House tonight. The conference lasted two hours.

It was stated that many administrative subjects were discussed without action. Mr. Sherman, who is chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee, remained through the entire conference, and discussed with the President and Cabinet officials the subject of campaign speeches by Messrs. Taft and Moody. Sherman will arrange an itinerary for them which may be announced in a day or two. Secretary Wilson also expects to make two or three political speeches in Iowa, just preceding the election.

CONGRESS OF ESPERANTISTS.

WORCESTER (Mass.) Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] William E. Baff of this city, widely known as an advocate of Esperanto, the so-called "universal language," is working on a plan for a congress of Esperantists of the world, to be held at Jamestown Exposition next year. He is now engaged in organizing American Esperantists for the coming event.

Langdon was billed to speak in Stockton, last night, but was called to San Francisco to organize a new grand jury. Albert Johnson addressed the meeting. Congressman McKinlay addressed a large Republican meeting and paid a high tribute to Gillett.

Mr. Charles Bowes will give the song cycle "Elliand" at the Church of the Unity, 925 South Flower, tomorrow evening. The choir, Mrs. Colby, Miss Joy, Mr. Zinck and Mr. Bowes, will assist. Silver collection only.

THE POLITICAL WATCH TOWER

Some of the Republican organization managers should get after the lawyer vote and whip it into line. It is pretty big and is "awfully" independent this year; that is, if there is anything awful about independence. There are about a thousand lawyers in Los Angeles and they are taking a deep interest in the election of a number of the candidates for judicial offices. They are extremely blind to party lines. Somehow they don't seem to be paying much attention to the politics of the various candidates. They are talking, for instance, about reflecting Justice George H. Smith, a Democrat, to the Second District Court of Appeals. They have picked out Albert Lee Stephens for Justice of the Peace for the township of Los Angeles, and they are preparing to zigzag down the line of nominees for Superior Court judges.

Many members of the legal profession have met at different times recently to discuss the question of the judiciary. Equipment for the duties of a judge is the principal consideration, and the lawyers are manifesting a strong intention to look not at the party name at the head of the ticket, but rather to weigh the merits of the various candidates whose names are presented.

The movement among the lawyers is in line with a generally expressed sentiment that politics and the bench should be separated. It is a movement that is not at all popular with the party managers, nor does it appeal to candidates who realize that they do not posses the necessary qualifications for the offices to which they aspire. It doesn't matter much to the lawyer who is to conduct the routine affairs of some of the less important offices, but they do want able men on the bench. They have a tremendous influence in themselves and among their clients, and it would not be at all surprising to see more scratching done in the cases of judicial nominees than in any other portion of the ballot.

The counting of the vote at the election of November 6 is to be a tremendous task. Party leaders declared yesterday that it likely to be several days thereafter before the exact result of the vote in Los Angeles county will be known. They even predict that the result of the first night's work in the count of the ballot will give absolutely no idea of the outcome of the election. No voting machines can be used on account of the large number of tickets.

A consideration of the number of offices to be filled and the number of candidates for those places makes clear the grounds for the predictions of the politicians. On the official ballot that is to be voted in the city of Los Angeles, for instance, there will be listed no less than fifty-eight offices, State, county, district, township and city. Counting the candidates of the different parties in the State and county, as well as the independents in the county, there will be a total in the neighborhood of three hundred.

All of these names on the ballots, together with the fourteen proposed constitutional amendments, must be scrutinized carefully by the election officers for the purpose of tabulating the returns. An accurate check on the expressed will of the people is a slow process, even when the number of candidates is small. Election machinery in the hands of inexperienced officers is exceedingly clumsy. It will be more cumbersome than ever this year because of the immense amount of ticket-splitting that is in prospect.

With returns to be gathered from 139 precincts in the city of Los Angeles and from 125 precincts in outside districts of the county—a total of 264—it will not be at all strange if the public is obliged to wait some time before it learns who has been elected.

Sacramento county will go for Gillett by a large majority, according to advices received yesterday at local Republican headquarters. The county went for Franklin K. Lane, the Democratic candidate for Governor, by about 500 votes four years ago. Throughout the Sacramento Valley it is reported that the Republican candidates will make great gains over the vote cast for Pardee in 1902. Other northern counties that went Democratic in the last State election are reported from State Republican headquarters to be strongly in line for Gillett. It is predicted now that the estimate of a Republican plurality of 5000 above the Tehachepi will be exceeded by several thousand. Below the Tehachepi, Gillett will roll up a handsome majority that, in connection with the vote of the northern and central counties, will be a convincing proof of his popularity with the voters of the entire State.

The fight to prevent the name of S. T. Eldridge, Republican candidate for Supervisor of the Third District, from being placed on the Democratic ticket, has been carried into the Superior Court. Anthony Schwamm, chairman of the Democratic County Central Committee, who already had petitioned the Supreme Court for a writ of mandamus to prevent the County Clerk from placing Eldridge's name on the Democratic ticket, has asked the Superior Court for an order restraining the same official from printing the name of Eldridge in the Democratic column. Schwamm's contention is that the committee which selected Eldridge in place of the regular Democratic nominee, who withdrew acted without authority. The Supreme Court yesterday issued the writ applied for by Schwamm, and both sides will have an opportunity to present their arguments before the court at 10 o'clock next Monday morning.

The amazing fact has been discovered by the Republican County Central Committee that there is not a Republican in the precinct of Hermon, the settlement of Free Methodists over in the Highland Park hills. At least, there has been difficulty in finding a Republican committeeman to represent that precinct, in which reside about 100 voters. No one seems to know the political complexion of the residents of that district.

True to his announcement of several weeks ago, A. C. Harper now is an avowed candidate for the Democratic nomination for Mayor. Mr. Harper stated long ago that if Dr. Lindley were to be the Republican nominee, he would seek the Democratic nomination. He hopes for election through the division of Republican votes between Dr. Lindley, as Republican nominee, and Lee C. Gates, candidate of the Non-Partisan City Central Committee. Stanley "Seagram" Wilson has the same 'igh 'opes.

THE WATCHMAN.

The battleship Maine, flagship of Rear-Admiral Evans reached New York yesterday from target practice. It is said thirty-two out of possible thirty-nine hits were found in a report broadside of six-inch guns at a target two miles distant. The target was sixty by thirty feet and was knocked down, it is said by the thirty-ninth shell.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 19.—Mrs. J. W. Gaskell, who lives on Eighth street, routed a gang of workmen who were sinking a hole for an electric light mast at the corner of the alley alongside her home by calmly walking out when the post hole was two feet deep and sitting down in it. The electric company applied for a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Gaskell in case she interfered and also sent an agent to her to explain that the intention was to deflect the high-voltage wires that struck her house, and she finally consented to let them go ahead; but when the workmen went down another foot they struck a sewer and the lady won, regardless of police interference.

IDENTIFIES PRISONER.

IMPLICATES HIM IN MURDER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—Ralph Scanlan, now in charge under suspicion of murdering William Friede, a Market-street storekeeper, was positively identified yesterday by Mrs. C. H. Gilman, and her daughter Ruby as a lookout stationed outside Friede's shop on the day he was beaten to death behind his counter with a length of gas pipe. Mrs. Gilman is the mother of Mabel Gilman, the actress.

Mrs. Gilman and her daughter were taken into a room at the Bush street station and there mingled out Scandan from a group of other prisoners and declared they could not be mistaken in their identification of him as the man they had seen and conversed with outside the shop on the day of the murder.

Scanlan who had been maintaining all along that he was nowhere in the vicinity of the crime on the afternoon it was perpetrated was evidently badly taken aback by the completeness of the identification.

FORGETS HIS NAME.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 19.—A man about twenty-five years old, well-dressed and showing evidences of refinement, applied to the local police today and requested them to help him find out who he is.

The stranger says he awoke two days ago in a box car in Reno, Nev., but he knows absolutely nothing of what took place prior to that time. He does not know his name nor where he came from and has no recollection of any of his friends he must have had in the past. The initials have been cut from the hatband of the unfortunate, laundry marks have been removed from his clothing, and he is adrift in a world he knows nothing about. He seems to be sincere, and City Attorney Howe, to whom he applied for assistance to find himself, believes his story.

WASHINGTON.

WILL BOARD A MONSTER.

The President Going to Ride in Battleship.

Down to Panama Louisiana Shall Carry Him.

Message to Congress Is Almost Completed.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When the President sails from New York November 8 for Panama he will be aboard the Louisiana, the new monster battleship, which this week braved severe storms in the tropics, and brought Secretary of War Taft safely from Cuba to Hampton Roads.

There has for some time been some doubt as to which battleship would be selected for this trip, but the question was settled as soon as Secretary Taft made his report to the President in regard to the big ship. Details of the trip are now being worked out at the Navy Department and White House.

NEWEST CRUISERS ALSO.

Although the President has not yet formally asked for a convoy, it was decided today by the Navy Department that the Louisiana should be accompanied by the newest cruisers in the service. Originally, it was the intention to send only one, but it is now preferred to send both, as, they being sister ships, it will be an excellent opportunity to try them out.

Whether or not the President will, upon his way back from Panama, stop in Cuba is being discussed here. It is understood suggestions have been made to him that he stop at Havana for a day or so. The fact that Cuba is nominally a ward of the United States may take an important part in the President's decision as to whether or not he will visit that country upon his return and study the situation there.

MESSAGE TO CONGRESS.

The President is spending most of his spare time upon his message to Congress. It is believed that he has it almost completed. He gave considerable time to the message during his sojourn at Oyster Bay. He desires to have the message completed, with the exception of a few details, before he sails for Panama. He is having frequent consultations with Secretary Root while he is completing the foreign-relations portion of the message, as the Secretary of State is the only Cabinet officer who does not submit an annual report to the President or to Congress, and such information regarding international affairs as are given to the public reaches it through the President's message.

SQUIERS FOR MINISTER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Herbert G. Squiers, former Minister to Cuba, is being considered by the President for appointment as Minister to Panama, and it is believed he will accept and the announcement will be made in a short time.

The Comptroller today approved the First National Bank of Los Angeles and the Crocker National Bank of San Francisco as reserve agents for the First National Bank of Kingsburg.

LECTURER SHOWS ALCOHOL IN PATENT MEDICINES.

The President Asks Foreign Delegates to Meet Him in Washington. Menace of Mormonism Is Denounced—Mrs. Stevens Withdraws as Presidential Candidate.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BOSTON, Oct. 19.—An impressive service for members who have died during the past three years was one of the events of the second day of the triennial convention of the world's W.C.T.U. in Tremont Temple.

In delivering a brief address today on "Medical Temperance," Mrs. Martha M. Allen denounced patent medicines which contain alcohol and gave a demonstration of the presence of alcohol in two such medicines by heating samples of them in specially constructed lamps and showing to the delegates that the gas thus generated would burn brilliantly.

Reports of many department superintendents were read during the day.

Following an address on the "Menace of Mormonism," by Mrs. Marie Weed, the convention unanimously adopted a resolution indorsing the work of American women in trying to secure a constitutional amendment prohibiting polygamy in the United States.

A message was read from President Roosevelt inviting the foreign delegates to the convention to meet him in Washington, November 7.

Mrs. Lillian N. Stevens of Portland, Me., who had been supported by the British delegates for the presidency of the world's union, has declined to be a candidate. The election of officers will be held tomorrow.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CLARKSBURG (W. Va.) Oct. 19.—George Rashil, the Syrian leper, who months ago was driven from various cities in the East because of his affliction, died in a shanty near here today. Heart disease was the cause of his death.

The body will be cremated by the county authorities. The leper had been located in a shanty built especially for him after his removal to that place by the Baltimore & Ohio Railway Company, a few months ago, when a nurse was placed in attendance.

MELANCHOLIA ENDS IN DEATH.

BISHOP POTTER'S DAUGHTER TIRES OF EXISTENCE.

After Long Suffering from Nervous Disease, She Eludes Nurses in Private Sanitarium and Commits Suicide by Hanging—Husband a Wealthy Wool Manufacturer.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HARTFORD (Ct.) Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It was made public today by the authorities of a private sanitarium at Cromwall, that Mrs. Winthrop Cowden, 44 years old, daughter of Bishop Henry Potter of New York, committed suicide in the sanitarium Tuesday night.

Mrs. Cowden had been closely watched as the attendants feared she would do violence to herself, but after several unsuccessful attempts, she managed to elude her nurses and escaped into the cellar of the building where she hanged herself from a beam in the ceiling.

No reason is assigned by the authorities of the institution for their failure to disclose the matter earlier.

Mrs. Cowden, who has been under treatment for nervous melancholia for nearly a year, occupied a private house near the main building and was not generally known to be a patient.

Tuesday afternoon she returned from a drive with one of the nurses and went to bed early, apparently in good spirits. About an hour later, the nurse returned and found Mrs. Cowden's bed unoccupied. An alarm was given and after a brief search, the body was found with a soap box lying near, upon which Mrs. Cowden apparently stood when she tied the rope about her neck.

Mrs. Cowden was Bishop Potter's second daughter. Her husband is a wealthy wool manufacturer, well known in New York social circles. They were married on November 3, 1886.

Mr. Cowden's factory is at Passaic, N. J., and he is the possessor of a fine estate at Mount Kisco, N. J., where the funeral of Mrs. Cowden was held today. Bishop Potter attended the services.

At Episcopal See house it was said that Mrs. Cowden had been in ill health for three years.

KINGS INDICTED ON LAND-FRAUD CHARGE.

"Chicago Ranch" Scheme to Gobble Up Fifty Thousand Acres of Nebraska's Government Soil Declared to Be Huge Fraud.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OMAHA (Neb.) Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Pat" King, the policy king of Chicago, Lawrence King and W. J. Baird, promoters of the "Chicago Ranch" scheme in Sheridan county, Neb., have just been indicted by the Federal grand jury at Lincoln on the charge of fraud and conspiracy in seeking to obtain title to 50,000 acres of land in Sheridan county.

The "Chicago Ranch" scheme was a new one to the land officials and was a pretty sharp piece of practice nipped just in time. The company originally consisted of fourteen or fifteen entrymen, who filed on whole sections of land and then organized themselves into a company known as the "Chicago Ranch."

HOW SCHEME WORKED.

These parties were Chicago people, and each put in from $50 to $250 in cash and become a stockholder. Some of the proceeds of this cash stock was devoted to fencing the entire tract of 50,000 acres, and buying live stock, the latter consisting of one cow and five or six horses.

An assessment of $250 per month was made on the stockholders and the scheme was moving along famously. Then it became necessary to secure titles to all the land enclosed by fence, and the country was raked for a number of old soldiers to make filings on the lands.

The soldiers were paid a bonus of $25 at the start, all expenses of filing being paid, and then they were required to sign an agreement to sell their holdings only to such parties as the "Chicago Ranch" people might indicate.

VETERANS ARE DUPED.

After a time the veterans were persuaded to relinquish the land for an additional consideration, in order that other parties might be persuaded to file on their claims.

In no instance did the veterans see the lands prior to filing on them, and it was only in occasional instances that they made any pretense of going on the lands.

The purpose of the "Chicago Ranch" people was to cover up the land by fraudulent filings, and then to speculate on securing other filings by parties who could be persuaded to become stockholders in the enterprise.

The old soldiers were in no instance to be considered as stockholders. By this method the "Chicago Ranch" concern had procured a filing on all but about 6000 acres of their 50,000 acres in the inclosure.

Gov. Vardaman Seeks United States Senate on Opposition to Fifteenth Amendment.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Announcement of a campaign planned to secure the repeal of the fifteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which gives the negro equality with the white man as a citizen, was made by Gov. James K. Vardaman of Mississippi, who was here yesterday, attending the Railway Surgeons' convention.

Gov. Vardaman, who is seeking election to the United States Senate, declared that if he won he would make his fight on the floor of that body, believing that he had the support of the entire South.

He insisted that a crisis in the relation of the races in the Southern States was at hand, and that the problem of white supremacy, or black domination, should be settled at once.

Probate Clerk Swore Jury Commissioners, Which Is Held to Be Illegal.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) Oct. 19.—More than 300 indictments, returned today by the April grand jury of the District Court of this county, were invalidated by a court decision of Judge B. F. Burwell today, who held that the probate clerk had no authority to swear the jury commissioners.

The list of names drawn from the wheel by the jury commissioners was not certified to by the clerk of the District Court, which was also held necessary. The decision is one of the most important ever made by a District Court in Oklahoma.

BRIDEGROOM MURDERED.

Harry F. Wilbur Is Shot by Arizona Desperado.

Friend Hit Before Sheriff Kills Assassin.

Widow, Married Month Ago, to Bring Body Home.

Yesterday, one month after his marriage to Louise Golding, news of the murder of Harry F. Wilbur was telegraphed to this city. Jack Purvis, an Arizona horse thief, shot the young Los Angeles bridegroom in a passenger train on the Gila Valley and Northern Railroad. Then he turned his revolver on Percy Vincent of Globe, Ariz. A moment later Sheriff Shanley, in whose custody the desperado was, killed Purvis.

The Wilburs were married at the home of the bride's parents, No. 421 Golden avenue. They had taken a bridal trip to Coronado and Avalon, and then had gone to Arizona, where Wilbur was confidential man for Robert Sherrer & Co., a Los Angeles firm of grading contractors. He had charge of the commissary and supplies.

Husband and wife had just arranged their little home and had occupied it three days when his life was so suddenly taken. Today Robert Golding will go to Arizona to bring back the body of the murdered man and his widow.

Rice Station was the scene of the tragedy. It is a small place, eighteen miles from Globe, Ariz. Here Wilbur and his bride had just made their home.

In his attention to commissary and supplies Wilbur had charge of purchasing draft animals for the contractors. Recently he bought a team of mules for $200 from Purvis. He found evidence that they had been stolen, and wired to the Los Angeles office of Robert Sherrer & Co., directing them to stop payment on the Purvis check. Meantime he told Sheriff Shanley. The officer hunted down Purvis and placed him under arrest.

A telegram notified Wilbur of this. He was directed to meet the train at Rice station and, with Vincent, was to identify Purvis. He did this Wednesday evening.

When Purvis saw the two men enter the car he opened fire. How he got his weapon the meager dispatches do not tell. He brought Wilbur and Vincent to the floor, both dangerously wounded. A moment later he was himself shot by the sheriff and killed.

Thursday Wilbur died, and yesterday the tidings reached the Goldings that their daughter was a widow.

Wilbur had lived in Los Angeles about five years. He belonged to an excellent family in Michigan. Miss Golding was a daughter of Thomas Golding, a well-known resident of this city. The funeral will take place here soon after the body has been brought back.

FENCE DISPUTE CAUSES DEATHS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

RISING SUN (Ind.) Oct. 19.—Jackson Norris and his father, George Norris, were both killed, and Joseph Richardson was probably seriously shot during a quarrel between the three early today.

The elder Norris and his son were working on their farm, which bordered on that of Richardson, when an argument arose as to where the dividing point between their farms lay. The younger Norris and Richardson engaged in a scuffle, and the father of Norris drew a revolver and in attempting to hit Richardson, the bullet struck his own son, who died several hours later.

AL KAUFMAN'S GREAT MISTAKE IN THROW MATCH WITH LOS ANGELES NEG

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—It was with regret that the friends of Al Kaufman in this section read that he had refused his match with Jack Johnson in Philadelphia and especially after articles of agreement had been signed. Al had been highly thought of in the east up to that time and it seemed a pity that he should advertently forfeit the good will and wishes of so many of his admirers. It is no exaggeration to say that no boxer has come to the West in years who made more friends than he and he was popular wherever he went. There was a frank, happy, whole-souled something about him that made friends and when he attended the bouts at the different clubs he was pointed out and admired, and when he was introduced from the ring it was the signal for an outburst of applause. The night Joe Thomas and Harry Lewis boxed at the National Club, manager Jack McGuigan announced both Kaufman and Johnson in the audience and stated that they were matched. Al's reception was vociferous and it must have made him very proud. He was hooked up with a big boost for him.

Deady, who was looking after the business in these diggin's, is one of the most popular promoters ever connected with boxing, and the fact that he had Kaufman under his wing created the youngster a warm welcome any time he started. To give an idea of Kaufman's popularity, it is a conclusion that his six-round-decision bout with Johnson would draw—one of the biggest houses known in the East. Orders for seats began to pour in as soon as the bout was announced and New Yorkers like Phil Dwyer, Judge Hamilton, Jack Curry, Charley Mahoney and others had already spoken for blocks of seats.

When Johnson first challenged Kaufman from the Broadway platform several weeks ago, Al jumped into the ring and said he would give you should have heard the applause that greeted the announcement. It lasted for several minutes. And then when he "called" Johnson in person the satisfaction evinced by the fight fans was most pronounced. Kaufman seemed to be a healthy, full-blooded boy from New York, and everybody was glad to see him in action. CIRCUS RIDER ASSAULTED.

FAMED PERFORMER HELD UP.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CINCINNATI, Oct. 19.—William Dutton, an old-time circus rider, known all over the civilized world, was the victim of an assault at Ninth and Sycamore streets last night, and may die of wounds received. The police have not yet arrested his assailants, and from their investigation believe that it was done for the purpose of robbery.

Dutton began as a bareback rider forty years ago. In his time he appeared before many notables of Europe, and was one of the first American riders to exhibit before the Khedive of Egypt, and the Czar of Russia. Dutton is a high Mason and a prominent Elk.

GETS FIFTY YEARS.

PRISONER PLEADS INSANITY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—James Sutton was today sentenced to fifty years in San Quentin. Sutton, whose real name is James Dowell, held up ex-Coroner T. B. W. Leland, near Vallejo and Laguna streets, July 16, and at the point of a pistol robbed him of $176.

The most sensational feature of Sutton's case occurred several weeks ago. When coming before Judge Cook for arraignment the prisoner assaulted His Honor with the handcuffs manacling his wrists. After this an attempt was made to prove Sutton insane, but the physicians who were called to examine him found a criminal but not an insane taint.

The trial of Sutton was one of the most expeditious ever held in the Superior Court where so serious a crime was involved. The evidence was all heard within a space of three hours. The jury took but seven minutes to arrive at a verdict of guilty. Motion for a new trial was denied, sentence imposed and the prisoner taken to the Broadway jail before the hour for court to adjourn.

BURTON TO PRISON.

EX-SENATOR TO SERVE.

ABILENE (Kan.) Oct. 19.—Joseph Ralph Burton, former United States Senator from Kansas, will begin serving his six months' sentence at Ironton, Mo., Monday next. He will be accompanied to Ironton by Mrs. Burton, who will remain in that town until her husband's release.

Burton, at his home here this afternoon, received a telegram from F. H. Lehman, his attorney at St. Louis, announcing that the latter had made arrangements for the ex-Senator to be in court in that city on Monday morning next, when Mr. Burton will be given into the charge of the court officials.

PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 19.—Nellie Doyle, alias Madge Wilson, an habitue of the North End, was killed this morning by Henry Hose, formerly a soldier in the United States regular army. Hose cut the woman's throat with a razor and then surrendered himself to the police.

Suspect Incendiarism.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—Officials of the New California Jockey Club, owners of the race tracks at Tanforan and Emeryville, believe that incendiary attempts upon the buildings are responsible for three fires that have recently been discovered in time to prevent extensive damage. KAUFMAN'S GREAT MISTAKE IN THROWING DOWN HIS MATCH WITH LOS ANGELES NEGRO.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—It was with sad faces that friends of Al Kaufman read that he had refused to match with Jack Johnson in Philadelphia and especially after a form of agreement had been signed, and was highly thought of in the ring at that time and it seemed a pity that he should advertently forfeit the good will and wishes of so many admirers. It is no exaggeration to say that no boxer has come to the front West in years who made more friends than he and he was popular wherever he went. There was a big, happy, whole-souled something about him that made friends and when he defended the bouts at the different clubs he was pointed out and admired. When he was introduced from the ring it was the signal for an outburst of cheering. The night Joe Thomas and Harry Lewis boxed at the National A. C. manager Jack McGuiggan met both Kaufman and Johnson in their dressing rooms and stated that they were matched. Al's reception was vociferous and it must have made him feel good. His was hooked up with Johnson in the East, and that also was the best for him.

Tex Rickard, who was looking after Al's interests in these diggin's, is one of the most popular promoters ever connected with boxing, and the fact that he had Kaufman under his wing gave the youngster a warm welcome the first time he started. To give an idea of Kaufman's popularity, it is a matter of record that his six-rounder with Johnson would have been one of the biggest houses ever known in the East. Orders for seats began to pour in as soon as the bout was announced and New Yorkers like Tex Rickard, Tex Dwyer, Judge Hamilton, Jack Curley, Charley Mahoney and others had already spoken for blocks of seats. When Johnson first challenged Kaufman from the Broadway A. C. a few weeks ago, Al jumped at the chance and said he would box Jeffries or Deady was willing. Had Kaufman had heard the applause that greeted the announcement, for several minutes. And when he "called" Johnson in the satisfaction evinced by fans was most pronounced. Kaufman proved to be a healthy, full-blooded craze in Philadelphia and New York, and everybody was eager to see him in action. He had an opportunity any boxer would jump at, but it is a long time to make himself solid in the East, but he let it slip by without reaching out to grasp it.

Nor can Kaufman say that the eastern press didn't receive him with kindly grace. Many and many a laudatory story was written about him and with the exception of a criticism or two in the Boston papers on account of his fight over there with Bradley, scarcely a roast was handed him up to the time his match with Johnson fell through. Even after the Tommy Burns episode, it was the California papers and not the eastern ones that put Al on the pan. The latter papers leniently overlooked it almost entirely and seldom a reference was made to it. They figured that it might have been some sort of a misunderstanding on Al's part and did not take him to task for it. The most regrettable feature about the Johnson affair was that even Al's friends who wanted to defend him didn't have a leg to stand on. Frankly, we admit it was a sad blow to us because we had tried to boost him along a little in our humble way and the good natured gibes that were poked at us, while deserved, didn't ease our position to any great extent. It was a bad mistake, Al.

Speaking about boxing colored men, most of the capable heavyweights have done so and, those who have drawn the colored line and lived up to it are scarce. Champion Jeffries has met three, Peter Jackson, Bob Armstrong and Hank Griffin; Bob Fitzsimmons boxed Starlight and the Black Pearl; Corbett met Jackson; Jack O'Brien has fought fully twenty battles with colored men, including bouts with Bobby Dobbs, Shorty Ahearn, Young Peter Jackson, Frank Craig, Joe Walcott, George Cole, Jim Watts, George Byers, Joe Butler, Black Bill, Larry Temple and others. Peter Maher boxed Jackson, Godfrey, Craig and Smith; Joe Goddard met Bob Armstrong, Joe Butler and Peter Jackson; Mike Schreck has fought Kid Ashe, Harry Lyons, Harry Peppers, George Cole and others; Jack Munroe met Hank Griffin and Jack Johnson, while Tommy Burns, Marvin Hart, Jim McCormick, Jack Sullivan, Kid Carter, Don Creedon, Paddy Slavin, Joe Choynski, Joe Kennedy, Jim Scanlon, Billy Stift, George Gardner, Sandy Ferguson, Jim Jebbords, Tommy West, Al Weinig, Dick O'Brien, Bill Hanrahan, and Australian Jim Ryan all fought colored men.

Eddie Chambers the sterling Philadelphian lightweight, who recently gave away a big chunk of weight to Indian Joe Gregg and boxed him to a draw, is out with a challenge to any of the boys in that division. In a letter to the writer, his manager says, among other things, "I'll back Chambers against any man of his weight in the country. He has had to give away weight in most of his battles as that seems to be the only way he can get a fight on. It seems about time that some boy of his own weight would step forward and meet him. It would be easy to get a purse as several of the clubs want him, but I guess the challenge I sent out last week was too businesslike and made these other lightweights seek the foliage.

The report that Bill Squires, Australia's sub or floating champion, is shortly coming to this country, may help liven things up a bit in the heavyweight ranks. Of course Jeffries is champion of Australia, because he won that title as well as the English premiership from Peter Jackson and is, incidentally champion of the world—the first and only world's champion the Queensberry ring ever knew. Some writers take a different view, but they can't prove it. Still, we take it for granted that it is meant that Squires was the best in Australia since Slavin, Goddard, Jackson, Hall and Fitzsimmons left that far-off land for America. Reports say th that Squires is 27 years of age, is 5 feet 9½ inches tall and weighs 172 pounds in condition. Also that he has had twelve fights and that but twenty blows have reached him in his career. That averages one and two-thirds blows to each contest. It might seem ill-timed to say discouraging things before the alien reaches America, but it is gold dollars to thin air that if he engages in twelve bouts in this country his countenance will be visited by more than a score of punches. When the exact date of his arrival is announced, O'Brien, Berger, Burns and Johnson will likely form themselves into a quartette and sing that beautiful ballad, "I am Waiting My Darling for Thee."

"No matter how big a cinch your bet seems to be, you don't always cash," said Charley Grapewin, the comedian, who is a baseball fan and a fight bug, for fair. "One day last summer a crowd of us were sitting in the tearoom at the Waldorf, drinking coffee and it wasn't long before we fell to discussing sporting affairs. There was one fellow in the party who was a nut on fancy pigeons and the bundle of talk he unstrapped about the swell lot of birds he owned would drive the average press agent to the high and wavy. Why some of my pigeons are the best that ever ruffled a feather,' said he. 'I own a bunch of homers that can ride rings around the Empire State Express and Knabenshue and his air yacht can only travel at a snail's pace in comparison. Some of them can fly a thousand miles without trying and I have two pairs that can go five thousand miles and not breathe hard.' Everybody said 'marvelous,' and we decided to put him to the test. 'I'll make a little wager with you,' said I, 'and we'll see if your pigeons are as good as you say. Tomorrow I'm going up to Albany, a distance of 150 odd miles, and I expect to stay there twenty-four hours. I'll take one of your birds up on the train with me, one of the 5000-mile kind and when I arrive in Albany, I'll turn him loose. Although I'll be there for a day and a night, I'll bet you the suppers for the crowd that I'll be back in New York before the pigeon.' He agreed and I took one of the homers with me. When I reached Albany, I set him free, but before doing so, I clipped his wings good and short. I stayed at the capital my allotted time and returned to New York by train. I telegraphed ahead and of course the gang was waiting for me at the Waldorf. I braced up to the bird man and said, 'Well, here I am; is the pigeon back?' 'Yes,' said he sadly, 'he's back, but you ought to see his feet.'"

AMUNDSEN TELLS OF GREAT FIND.

Capt. Roald Amundsen, the Norwegian who has so recently reached the Pacific Coast through the Northwest Passage, is more conspicuous by his reticence in speaking about this unequaled three years' journey than he is by telling the story of the journey. The New York Times has, however, secured an interview with him at Nome in the course of which he tells of his work in locating the magnetic pole.

Capt. Amundsen sketched for the interviewer his observation headquarters on King William's Land, as well as the different instruments and their positions. Graphically he described the place, in the midst of a bleak wilderness, rarely if ever visited by a white man, surrounded by a scant population of tribesmen who never before had known that there were white faces on the earth. King William's Island, he pointed out, was in latitude 68 deg. 30 min. north and 90 deg. west of Greenwich.

"I am sure," he declared, "that it is only ninety miles from the true magnetic pole. The station we erected there was not a bit larger than this cabin on the Gjoa."

The station, he continued, was built of wooden provision boxes constructed for the purpose before the party left Norway. The boxes were put together with copper nails and chinked in with snow and sand. 'King William's Island is low and flat and under the snow is to be found plenty of sand and gravel. The magnetic needles were adjusted in the blockhouse and but for the lamp behind the reflector the place was as dark as a photographer's developing room. No heat was allowed nor motion of any kind.

For at least three or four hours every day through the two years Capt. Amundsen sat in the observation room watching his needles. Oftentimes the thermometer registered 70 deg. below zero, Fahrenheit.

"We could not carry watches or keys or wear ordinary shoes, as the iron nails in them attracted the magnet," explained the discoverer. "Our clothing inside and out was made of deerskins.

"I believe," he continued cautiously, stroking his reddish, pointed beard, "that my observations during the two years I spent on King William's Island will not only set at rest much that is conjectural about the magnetic pole, but will define its location with greater accuracy than has been done in that direction since 1831, when Admiral Goss of the British navy made several observations, but not enough for accuracy. The advantage of the present over the past in taking magnetic observations cannot be overestimated. Great improvement has been made in fashioning the magnetic needles and photography is now a wonderful help in recording the observations.

"I have sent all my observations to scientific experts. They will calculate the real location of the pole from the notes. Probably Prof. Schmidt of Berlin or the authorities at Washington will make the calculations—I don't know exactly where it will be done. It may take two or three years."

Capt. Amundsen's modesty was surpassed only by his strictly academic English speech.

"Little, very little, is known of the earth's magnetic forces," he continued. "Their is a field much more undeveloped than that of electricity."

Many rolls of photographic films, recording every observation taken by day or by night through the two years, he said, had been preserved and would be developed in San Francisco—to which port, by the way, the Gjoa is now bound, while the captain himself has gone by way of Sitka on the railroad.

"I always longed for the sea," was Capt. Amundsen's reply to a request for particulars about his life and about the influences that had led to the accomplishment of so much at 34 years. "I was always fascinated by the earth's magnetic forces. My parents moved from Sharpsburg, my birthplace, when I was a little boy, going to Christiania, and when I was 19, having studied medicine at their behest for one year prior to my mother's death, I decided to take to the sea. It seemed better to me than medicine.

MINING CAMPS GET WIRELESS.

NEW TELEGRAPHIC APPARATUS FOR SEARCHLIGHT.

First of Its Kind in Nevada and Is Planned to Connect the Whole Territory—Ultimately There Will Be Communication from San Diego to Seattle.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SEARCHLIGHT (Nev.) Oct. 17.—C. S. Du Mont, general manager for the Occidental and Oriental Wireless Telegraph Company, accompanied by State Senator Fred M. Smith and Maj. Elon F. Wilcox, formerly of the Sixth Cavalry, U.S.A., all of Los Angeles, arrived in Searchlight, Monday, for the purpose of looking over the ground preparatory to the establishment of a wireless station here.

If the apparatus is installed as planned, it will be the first of its kind in Nevada. The plan is to connect all the big mining camps of the State by these wireless stations, including Bullfrog, Goldfield, Tonopah and Reno, in addition to Searchlight.

"We will ultimately have wireless communication all the way from San Diego, Cal., to Seattle, Wash.," said Mr. Du Mont, "and with the system in Nevada we will have the nucleus of a service which, I firmly believe, will some day supersede the present wire system of communication.

"We not only guarantee to give quicker and better service in every way, but the rates will be much lower than now. The present rate between Searchlight and Los Angeles is 60 cents for the first ten words and 5 cents for each additional word. We will give better service at 40 cents for the first ten and 3 cents for each additional word.

"There is nothing experimental about this thing. Our company is a subsidiary company of the American De Forrest Wireless Telegraph Company, and we use exactly the same system as the parent company, although we are at liberty to use any system we choose. The De Forrest has been indorsed by the United States government and is now on a paying basis in the commercial world.

"In the West we have accomplished some remarkable things, and I think those who have investigated are convinced of the practicability of wireless communication. We already have four stations in successful operation—at Los Angeles, San Diego, San José and San Francisco.

"The one in Los Angeles is on the Huntington building, and we have had it in commercial operation with San Diego for six months.

"Last March, we handled over 10,000 words of news matter when communication by the wire lines was cut between San Diego and the Angel City, and carried considerable matter for the Associated Press, at that time, to the satisfaction of all concerned."

Football warriors representing the University of California of Berkeley and Pomona College of Claremont will meet at Rugby in Fiesta Park at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. It will be the first intercollegiate Rugby contest ever played in the United States since the old game attained its popularity and later decline.

The exponents of the new game invade Southern California from the North into a territory which has proven hostile to the innovation, and today's contest will show whether or not the new style will meet with the favor of rooters who have stuck tenaciously to the old game. Only the comparatively few intimate friends of Pomona College care which team wins; the real point of interest lies in the contest between the intercollegiate game and Rugby, between the old and the new.

From the statements and attitude of the California players it is evident that the English game has scored in the North and that it has surprised both those who were in favor of its adoption from the first, and those who were loudest in declaiming against it when the move was made. Several of the men who will line up this afternoon in the scrum for California declared bitterly last spring that they would never be seen in football garb again if Rugby were played in the fall, and they are now enthusiastic in their changed allegiance.

ATTITUDE IS CHANGED.

"The attitude up North has changed completely since the opening of the season," said one of the Blue and Gold players yesterday, "and it is a significant fact that the ones who are most strongly in favor of the Rugby game now are the players. The reason is simply this—in place of going home worn out and bruised from every practice, a man goes to his room feeling in perfect trim, and able to stay up late if necessary to do his work. There is none of the battered and worn-out feeling that the old practice brought and to the men who had to undergo that for three straight months and keep on with the grind of college work, it is an immense relief. Rugby keeps a man in perfect trim."

Twenty-four men under the charge of Trainer Walter Christie, Dr. O. N. Taylor, U.C.'s coach, and "Ollie" Snedigar, the California student body manager, arrived in town yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, and immediately took up their quarters at the Hotel Angelus. The appearance of the men was strangely altered from that of the great U.C. aggregation which appeared in Los Angeles to play the Sherman Indians, last year. The men looked too small to be the immediate successors of the heavy-limbed and broad-necked youths who wore the blue and gold last year, and there was an astonishing lack of bandages and scars about their anatomy, and an almost incredible amount of flimsiness about the moleskins worn by the bunch, only explainable when it was known that all the padding had been removed therefrom.

At 11 o'clock Coach Taylor took his men to Fiesta Park to an hour and a half's practice on the field where the game is to be played. The field is in poor condition and the management of U.C. will endeavor to have it improved before the game this afternoon.

In the plays that were run through the California players showed good speed and passing, their work as a team was ragged. The men have been playing in a series of interclass contests up north, and only recently have been brought together as one team, so that team work has not been given a good opportunity to develop as yet. While Pomona has not had the same length of time to acquire a knowledge of the game, her men have played together longer, perhaps, than the northerners, so the advantage will be about evenly divided.

STANTON WILL PLAY.

Stanton, who will appear in the line-up, this afternoon, as one of the three quarterbacks, is the fastest man on the team. Stanton is a Los Angeles boy, and has more than upheld the reputation as an all around athlete which he won while at the Harvard School in this city. He is now a sophomore at the university, and has won laurels both on the track and the gridiron. Out of the twenty-four men who came down only four were on the football squad last year. Haffey, who has won the captaincy of the team by his fine work at forward, was center on last year's varsity, and Tuller, Whitman and Foster are the others. Cerf and Stanton played on the freshman team, but the remainder are new material as far as football is concerned.

Taylor brought a large number of men along in the hope that Pomona would allow him to try out some of his material, but Rugby Coach Densham has insisted upon the strict letter of the English rule adhered to, and only three substitutes will be permitted to take part in the game.

POMONA IS READY.

HOPES TO BE VICTORIOUS.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

CLAREMONT, Oct. 19.—The Pomona team finished its practice work this afternoon, preliminary to the big Berkeley game in Los Angeles tomorrow. The men merely warmed up with passing running and kicking.

During the week the men have been trying out the formations used by the northern teams, and have been showing up a little more poorly in consequence, as the old formation used at Pomona differs widely from that practiced at Berkeley and Stanford. Pomona, with an English coach, Densham, has been following the game as it is played today in England, while the northern coaches have been teaching their men the formations used in Australia and Canada. When Head Coach Noble went north to view the work of the big 'varsities, he found that they were playing a game that differed in many respects from that used by Pomona. On his return the first of the week, he talked the matter over with Densham, who has especial charge of the Rugby coaching, and they decided to give the northern formations a try. This resulted in a change at the beginning of the week, and was largely responsible for the poor showing made by the Pomona team against Pomona High School Tuesday. The northern formations were found to be less fitted to the Pomona material, after two days' practice, than the older style, and the two coaches decided to go back to the game that they had been playing through the season, adding a few points gained from the Canadian game. This means, curiously enough, that in tomorrow's game the two teams will line up with different formations and styles of play.

CHANGED FORMATIONS.

The Pomona formation through the season has been eight forwards in the scrum, two halves close to the scrum, four three-quarters behind them, and the full-back in the back field. The northern 'varsities have lined up with only seven forwards in the scrum, with the eighth man out at the side and a little behind the scrum, called a wing-forward. This position is close to that of half, so the half on the side of the wing-forward is dropped back to a position between half and three-quarters, called five-eighths, or simply five. The position of the other half, the three-quarters, and the full-back remain unchanged. The seven men in the scrum line up with only two men on the front line, while the eight-man scrum keeps all its men close to the line. In tomorrow's game the Berkeley fifteen will play the seven-man scrum, with two men at the front, while Pomona will keep to the eight-man scrum she has been using through the season.

Coach Densham believes that his team will have the advantage through retaining the English formation, which he thinks is better adapted to any but a veteran team. Behind the scrum Pomona will throw one of her halves a little forward, calling the position that of wing-forward, as in the northern formation, but will keep her back-field otherwise the same. The change in the formations and the consequent shake-up of the team brought one or two men into new positions, and now that the old play has been resumed they will keep the more advantageous places. This brings Metcalf from forward to wing-forward, which corresponds to half. Collins, who has been freed from full-back by the retiring of Capt. Chisholm to that position, has gone to forward, into Metcalf's old place. Stevenson, who has only been out for practice a few days, has shown up well enough to capture the half position, and will take the place of Valle, who has been playing it through the season. He is a strong, fast man, weighing 190 pounds. Crawford will substitute for the forward positions, and Valle and Canterbury in the back field.

BIG POMONA RALLY.

The greatest enthusiasm was manifested at a rally held this evening, and the team will go into the game sure that the college is behind them to a man. The whole rally was more than merely hopeful, and showed that the student body has confidence in the ability of the team to win against California, or at least to put up a game that will do credit to the college. Coach Noble expressed himself as satisfied with the work that the men had done during the season, and said that they deserve to win.

The team will pass the night at the college and leave at 9:30 o'clock in the morning for the city. Immediately after lunch they will go to the field to rest up and get ready for the game.

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Milwaukee's first ten-round fight, tonight, between Jack Dougherty and Harry Lewis, who was substituted for Willie Fitzgerald after Lewis's defeat of Fitzgerald at Philadelphia, last week, was a rattling hot fight and after the hottest exchanges of blows ever witnessed in a local ring, Lewis, who twice sent Dougherty to the floor, was given the decision.

It was easily Lewis's fight though Dougherty did well in the last round. The superiority of Lewis was manifested from the fifth round, when Dougherty took the count of nine. Again in the seventh Dougherty fell on the floor, but was up again and at the fighting game with little intermission. In the eighth Lewis got busy with Dougherty's chin and had the local welter's top piece wobbling.

Young Boxer's Condition Wears Down Veteran's Experience and Generalship.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Condition won a wrestling match for Fred Beell of Marshfield, Wis., tonight, the clever Badger athlete defeating Dan McLeod, the veteran of the mat game, in two straight falls. The time was 23:36 and 19:07 and both falls were excellently contested.

McLeod tired easily, holding his own only for about twenty minutes of the struggle. After that he sagged off in his work and fell a victim to a half Nelson and bar lock in the first and an ugly head hold in the second fall. During the decision of the second bout of the main event the bleacher seats on the north side of the hall collapsed but as few were seated on them nobody was hurt.

Unexpected Turn in Intercollegiate Golf Championship Contests at Garden City.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

GARDEN CITY (L. I.) Oct. 19.—There is no chance of Yale's losing either of the honors in the intercollegiate golf tournament, which began last Tuesday, on the links of the Garden City Golf Club. Yale's team of six men won last year and duplicated the victory last Wednesday when they won out against Princeton.

Today the semi-final round brought about an unlooked-for result as Robert Abbott, of Yale's last year's champion team, was beaten by W. E. Clow, Jr., a New Haven collegian, after a hard match, the champion being one down after nineteen holes had been played. The other semi-final match between Dwight Partridge of Yale and Dudley H. Barrows of Princeton was won by Partridge by one up.

The final round of thirty-six holes match play will be decided tomorrow between Clow and Partridge.

FIGHTING OVER LIPTON.

Boston's Mayor and Fashionable Racing Association Are at Sword's Points.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When Sir Thomas Lipton visits Boston the last of this month, the dinner to be tendered him by Massachusetts yachtsmen will be entirely separate from that given by Mayor Fitzgerald.

The yacht racing association in charge of the function has sat down hard on Mayor Fitzgerald and the latter retaliates by leaving out the yachtsmen and including some personal friends. Sir Thomas and a Boston yachting editor whom he particularly desired to be present, from the banquet committee and plans. The Mayor's name was stricken out of resolutions passed by the association.

The Mayor also deliberately snubbed Alderman Bell in making up his committee and this may result in some unpleasant complications for the city, as Bell secured Lipton's visit and alone knows the Lipton itinerary.

GJOA ENTERS BAY.

CROWDS GREET PLUCKY SLOOP.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—The Norwegian sloop Gjoa, in which Capt. Roald Amundsen traversed the Northwest Passage, arrived heer this evening from Cape Nome and is now at anchor off Sausalito. Capt. Amundsen who arrived here several days ago overland, met the Gjoa outside the Golden Gate and brought her into the harbor.

The Gjoa arrived early this morning off Cape Reyes after weathering the worst storm of her trip from Nome. For forty-eight hours she was hove to, unable to take advantage of the northwest storm blowing. She had to use oil in a lavish fashion on the water. At 6 o'clock this morning the wind calmed down. As the barometer was falling, Lieut. Hansen, her commander, took a line from a steam fishing vessel. Pilot Magnus Anderson boarded the Gjoa outside the Golden Gate and took her to anchor off Point Bonita.

Capt. Amundsen with a large party of friends went out in the United States revenue cutter Golden Gate, placed at his disposal by United States Collector of Customs Stratton, and boarded her at 2 p.m. After again heaving anchor, the Golden Gate tows the Gjoa in tow to Sausalito, where she now lies awaiting the official reception to Capt. Amundsen in San Francisco.

The crew of the Gjoa are all well and together with Capt. Amundsen will go to New York as soon as possible. They will leave for Norway November 8, on the Oscar II of the Scandinavian-American line.

SIMSBURY (Ct.) Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When Walter Camp, the Yale football adviser, framed the new rules he made a code under which his own son, Walter Camp, Jr., broke his collar bone, today. The fracture was reduced and the player will be kept out of the big games of the school, much to his own regret and that of his parents.

VIRGINIA CITY ALIVE.

Offers Big Purse for Battle Between Herman and Some Other Good Lightweight.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Kid Herman's hopes for a match with some top-notch light weight are about to be realized. Manager Nate Lewis received a telegram from the former Chicago bookmaker, Mike Brennan, at Virginia City, Nev., offering Herman a $20,000 purse for a finish battle with either Nelson or Gans, or an $8000 purse for a similar go with McGovern or Corbett, also $500 to cover expenses.

After a brief consultation with his protege, Lewis wired back to Brennan that Herman would fight any one in the bunch for the terms offered, and that he might as well include Britt. Lewis stated that George Siler or any other referee would suit Herman.

ALL GAME AWAKES FANS.

Lively Wrangle as Result of Mahaffey's Ruling.

Forced a Run by Interfering With Thrown Ball.

Kemp's Manager Is Fired Out for Kicking.

Portland, 5; Los Angeles, 4.

Why is an umpire?

Most of the fellows who think they could guess this riddle would not be slow to if you hit them with a club, but those who really could think it wouldn't be worth while. It doesn't make much difference for no one cares why.

The Champs won again, and they seem to do it with their batting. In fact a great batting game the fans saw another illustration of some of Mahaffey's umpiring. He was very good when he first came here, but has gone to the bad rapidly in the past ten days. All the fans are hoping he will get fired before the season closes. He saw some funny balls and strikes yesterday, and made two decisions that came near causing a riot. One was at first base, when he called a local runner safe, which resulted in two Looloos scoring in the first inning, and the other was in the second inning when he cut off a run that the Champs were undoubtedly entitled to.

Smith opened the second inning for the Champs by striking out. Then Wanner drew a pass and went to second on Carson's out at first. Then Lindsay flied to center, and Wanner scored for the plate. Ellis got the ball far back of second base and threw around the plate. As Wanner rushed home from third, Mahaffey also ran in front of the pitcher's box, and the thrown ball hit him in the back and bounced into the stands. Eager was waiting to receive the ball, but had little chance to get Wanner if he had got it, for the throw was wide, and Wanner passed over about the time the ball hit Mahaffey.

To the astonishment of the fans and players, Mahaffey said the run couldn't count, and immediately the players of both teams flocked toward the pitcher's box and commenced to argue. McCredie rushed out to the field, and the Los Angeles players came in from their positions. Some of the Portland men started out to theirs, and the others rushed to get Mahaffey and McCredie when to call each other some rough-house names, and the fans howled for the teams to play ball. There was much confusion as to whether Wanner scored or whether some one was out. But after a wrangle of ten minutes, in which McCredie was ordered off the field, the game went on, Wanner being given out back to third base.

McCredie's ruling on his claim that Mahaffey interfered with the ball, was in accordance with section 4 of rule 55, which reads: "If the runner must return to first if the person or clothing of the umpire interferes with the catcher in an attempt to throw, or the umpire is struck by a ball thrown by the catcher or other fielder to intercept a batsman."

The only question was whether Eager could have touched out Wanner if he had caught the ball on the bounce, and from the position of Wanner and Eager the out could hardly have been made.

The decision, whether good or bad, gave the Champs a run at a time, but they got no more that time and swatted Lindsay hard for twelve hits, and won the game.

The other decision was in the first inning, for the locals. Ellis drew a pass and after Lamer had flied to left, Smith forced Ellis at second. Crandall stole second, and then Brashear scored with a bouncer to deep short. It was a long throw, and the ball beat the runner, but Mahaffey held that the ball had stopped off the bag to catch the runner, and let Crandall score. The Portland players thought Smith was out, and started in from second, and Carson was so disgusted apparently that he threw the ball toward second base wildly, and when it got past him, and both Cravath and Eager scored.

Neither these decisions were right by any means, there was a funny taste in the mouths of some of the fans, but they soon forgot it in the hitting that followed. After the second the Champs settled down to hit Berkeman hard, and got a single, fourth, fifth and sixth innings, eleven hits and the five runs that won the game.

The locals made their third run on Lindsay's wild throw of Lamer's sacrifice, and Cravath's double over second, and the fourth came from Totman and Ellis.

Eager was the bright star of the game, for he made three of the five hits, and had four outs. The fielding of Mitchell's fly to left in the ninth inning was the prettiest thing of the game.

RACE DESPITE POLICE.

Autoists to Go Against Balloons Sent Up by Aero Club, Whether or Not Officials Set Traps.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSFIELD (Mass.) Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Autoists here say they will race tomorrow against the balloons to be sent up by the Aero Club, in spite of police traps laid for them in towns over which the balloons are likely to sail. Police officials say they will arrest every auto speeder they can catch, whether racing with balloons or not. As a result of the police ultimatum, the Aero Club may dispense with the racing feature, in which event the autos will be racing unauthorized.

Four balloons are expected to take part in the race, Le Centaur, manned by Caset Hedge, president of the Aero Club; L'Orient, manned by Allen R. Hatley; Nirvana, carrying Dr. Thomas, and Aero Club No. 2, navigated by Leo Stevens. Maj. Samuel Reber and Capt. Charles De F. Chandler, both members of the Signal Corps, will attend officially. Signey Rosenfeld will be a spectator with a view to gathering dramatic material.

Gans-Nelson Pictures.

The "real" Gans-Nelson fight pictures will be exhibited in Los Angeles the coming week at the People's Theater, in Main street. The films are more than two miles in length and show every blow struck in this greatest of lightweight battles. The first exhibition will be given tomorrow afternoon and others will follow each afternoon and evening for a week. It is said that the surrounding hills of Goldfield are plainly shown, and that the facial features of spectators near the ringside are clearly delineated. Popular prices will prevail.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

Auto Goes Dead, Train Strikes It but Three Occupants Are Saved.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SPRINGFIELD (O.) Oct. 19.—The big touring car of W. E. Page of Columbus was struck by a Big Four train at a crossing in this city yesterday, and Mr. Page, his wife and three-year-old daughter, Paulina, were miraculously saved from death.

The motor on the automobile went "dead" as it was at the crossing. Page saw a train approaching, and leaped to the rear to assist his wife and daughter to get out. He did not have time enough, and scarcely had loosened the clasp when the engine struck the automobile and sent it high in the air.

The automobile fell, a mass of wreckage, thirty feet away, and Mrs. Page and the child were buried under it, but sustained no injuries beyond a few slight scratches and nervous shocks.

At a meeting of ribbon manufacturers held in the rooms of the Silk Association of America, in New York, it was decided to advance prices from one-eighth to one-half cent per yard on all lines of ribbons, on October 24.

BIBLE LESSONS.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL TEACHERS AND OTHER BIBLE STUDENTS.

Prepared for The Times by J. S. Kirtley.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 21.

Matthew xxiv, 14-30. "The Parable of the Talents."

ITS CONNECTION.

Follows as the parable of the ten virgins that teaches the disciples the need for the coming of Christ to be ready for emergencies; this parable to the opportunities that have been given them for service, the climax should come. It is distinguished also from the parable of the pounds, spoken four days before at Jericho. To adopt the view that parables taught the same truth, that fidelity in the use of talents would be unequally rewarded, that equal fidelity in the use of unequal endowments would be unequally rewarded. The talent is a sum of money, the very word, it seems to be used in a figurative sense for some valuable thing, but as the parable of the ten virgins in the soul or character, some quality of mind. In the parable it was the teaching apart from one's ability or talent in the modern sense of the word. It stands for opportunity of every kind. Fidelity to the teaching of the parable.

THE LESSON.

I.

Matthew xxiv, 14-30.

"For the kingdom of heaven is as when a man, going into another country, called his own servants, and delivered up to them his goods. And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, to another one; to each according to his several ability; and he went on his journey."

Jesus addresses the eager disciples in explanation of which they thought was far enough off to give time for work. The figure of speech is "another country" for other kingdom of time. Further on in the parable of returning "after a long time" we also learn that the servants had time to double the talents given them to handle.

Jesus tells them that they were living at that time; for He gives them to understand that will require a long time. His return, and He requires a rigid account of work unfinished in the hands of one who knows the work is there to be done and has power there to do it. No other persons, Mrs. Stowe says. All have their appointed work in purchasing power. All the dead and all the rooms on the earth. Burglars have been servants perfectly, in their ability to open the premises twice or two months and fix your house was burglarized or fire.

He treats us fairly. He is the man that can and opportunity more than he can be capable of larger things. It is to be done and the talents commanded to work. Not for each one, indiscriminately, authoritatively. It is one of those disciples to and every other opportunity, fitted to the consummation. No one is without from whom it is of his unfaithfulness of ability. This arrangement of the money and its amounts suitable to the servants he stayed long assets and liabilities complish something was in them.

The colossal bronze statue of the seated Buddha at Naro, Japan, is the largest one that has ever been cast. It is fifty-three feet in height and is supposed to have been cast in the ninth century.

The International Roman Catholic Society for the propagation of the Faith, with headquarters in this country, in the years from 1822 to 1905, collected and distributed more than $70,000,000 for missions. During the same period the society gave to the work of the Roman Church in the United States, nearly $6,000,000.

A long statement issued by Dowie defends his methods and denies the charges made against him, in the attempt to appoint a successor at Zion City. He closes his defense with an appeal to the faithful to send him their tithes to aid him in his defense against his enemies, and in his effort to recover his old place as leader of Zion.

THE TRUE TEST.

Terse Comments Upon the Uniform Prayer-meeting Topic of the Young People's Societies, Christian Endeavor, Baptist Young People's Union, Epworth League, etc., for October 21. "Faithfulness." Luke xvi; I Cor. iv, 1-5; Rev. xx, 12.

By William T. Ellis.

A business firm was in trouble, and most of its employés left it. A few, however, stood by the ship. At considerable cost to themselves, they remained loyal to their employers, and thus the firm was able to weather its difficulties. Today, in its new prosperity, that firm gives places of honor to the few faithful workers who were true to it in distress. It feels that its obligations to them is too great to be repaid. They remained loyal to it when others deserted it. Now the faithful few are being rewarded. Yet why go to the business world for an illustration of the truth which is its own best illustration? Our debt to Christ is greater than we can repay because in the day of our distress He stood by us though all others fell away. The fidelity of Jesus to us, at incalculable cost, has made us forever his debtors. Is it not reasonable that, if he asked anything at our hands, we should freely and gladly grant it?

It goes a great way toward making a man faithful, to let him understand that you think him so.—[Seneca.

Worth is highest honor. Indeed, there is no real honor except worth. All the praise that comes to the undeserving is shame rather than honor. For surely the standards of honor are higher than men's hands; if applause determines merit, then this truly is and always has been, a sadly mixed world. The real standards of honor are within us, or above us, in God's true heaven, where is kept an infallible record of the worthy. If we would seek honor—and it is not the end most worth seeking in life—let us look for it from our own consciences and from the approval of God.

Nothing is more noble, nothing more venerable, than fidelity.—[Cicero.

Hold faithfulness and sincerity as first principles.—[Confucius.

Faithfulness can feed on suffering, And knows no disappointment. —[George Eliot.

Faithfulness is better than favor; purity is better than popularity; merit is better than money, and uprightness is better than height.

Faithfulness is the door to fellowship. They who do God's word know His will and walk in His way.

Sometimes we cannot mend our lot. Our surroundings may be hard to bear; loneliness and oppression may be our daily portion. These conditions we cannot change.

GREAT STRIKES OF PAYING OIL.

MORE ACTIVITY THAN AT ANY TIME IN YEARS.

Now Wells Being Sunk and Real Estate Booming—Good Indications for Product Within City Limits. Outlook Better Now—Believed That Prosperous Times Will Last.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

FULLERTON, Oct. 17.—The oil industry in the Fullerton fields is booming and there is more development work now under way than at any time heretofore since the first well was drilled in this district, over twenty years ago. Many new wells are being drilled on the old leases, with day and night shifts, and several new wells are to be drilled within four miles of the center of the city. Often the water wells, right at the city water works here, show good indications of oil and there are good surface indications in the narrow cañon, only a mile north of the business portion of town.

Ten days ago the Murphey Oil Company tapped a big gusher, four miles Southwest of Fullerton and, this week, the Union Oil Company commenced a well on its Bastanchury lease, three miles northwest of town, near the road to La Habra. G. W. Brown and George Kammerer, two expert drillers formerly with the Santa Fé, but who have been drilling for the Union company in the northern fields the past year, have been called here to rush work on the hole and complete it at the earliest day possible. If a strike is made this company will drill a large number of wells near the city limits, having only a few weeks ago leased several thousand acres for twenty years from D. Bastanchury. As soon as a showing for oil is made in this hole, capitalists declare they will take up the matter of drilling for oil within the city limits.

TO DRILL TEST WELL.

Arrangements have also been made for a test well to be drilled about three miles northeast of town, near the Toussau ranch, and about three miles east of the Murphey well, opened up ten days ago.

An experienced pioneer driller here, said yesterday: "Some day there will be a line of oil wells from the Olinda district southwest to a point a mile north of the city of Fullerton and on to Northam station, covering a distance of about thirteen miles. All indications show that there is oil along that belt."

E. W. Mullin of Los Angeles, J. J. Grogan and A. D. Yost, for many years drillers on the Santa Fé lease here, have formed a partnership to drill oil wells in the Fullerton fields, and have closed a contract to put down three wells for the Brea Cañon Oil Company. The first hole, now down 300 feet, will be well No. 21; it is in the mouth of the cañon, near the wells of the Loftus and Menges company. The three wells will be each at least 3000 feet deep, unless a big strike is made before that depth is reached.

The Fullerton Oil Company's well near the Menges lease is down 1800 feet, with good indications for a strike.

The Graham-Loftus Oil Company's hole, also near the Menges property, is down 1300 feet and is showing up well.

The Menges Company commenced work this week on a new rig for its third well. This company is getting 150 barrels of good gravity oil daily from well No. 1, and No. 2 is good for 150 barrels every day in the year.

The Fullerton Oil Company has signed an agreement for a lease, or the purchase, of twenty-five acres from the Stearns Ranchos Company in section 2, T. 3 S., R. 10 west; consideration $25,000. There are some indications of oil on this property.

The outlook for the oil industry in the Fullerton districts was never better than at the present time and it is believed the boom and development work will continue for years. It means much for the steady growth of this portion of Orange county.

MRS. OELRICHS MUST DECIDE.

Monday Is Last Day to Defer Contest for Her Share of Husband's Estate.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Mrs. Herman Oelrichs has until Monday to make up her mind whether or not she will accept the terms offered in settlement of her claims upon the estate left by her husband. If she decides adversely, her lawyers, on that day, will file objections to the probating of the will.

Upon the authority of F. B. Chandler, the attorney who represents Charles May Oelrichs and Mrs. William Jay, brother and sister of the testator, it can be said that there has been no settlement as yet, despite reports to this effect. That negotiations are under way was intimated by both Chandler and by Lawyer James W. Gerard, who represents Mrs. Oelrichs and her son.

Probate Clerk Washburn adjourned the hearing yesterday until October 22, after the lawyers had held a conference. It is understood there will be a meeting and conference of the interested persons some time between now and Monday.

Versatile Hebrew Lad.

Little Adolph Asher, a bright Hebrew boy of 7, of Portland, Or., isn't afraid to call a spade a spade when speaking of his race. Adolph has made a record as one of the brightest boys in his class at school. The other day he was the only one that was able to come up to the expectations of his teacher and he failed not in the time of stress.

"Who can give me a sentence with the word 'delicious' in it?" asked the teacher of her little hopefuls. Puzzlement sat on every brow. It was to big a word for them. Suddenly little Adolph's hand went up and his black eyes sparkled as he recalled the New Year's feast he enjoyed last Thursday.

"Well Adolph?"

"I like potatoes and onions and garlic and Jew dishes," came the answer.

ONE FIERCE DAY WITH BEN WARD, MOST PICTURESQUE CAMPAIGNER.

Some men Ben argues with; others he tells stories about Irishmen.

THIS is the story of one fierce and strenuous day spent floundering in the wake of Ben Ward—Non-Partisan candidate for County Assessor. He is one of the most picturesque politicians who ever tried to hunt an office into its lair.

Just one day with Ward has sent two wrecks of newspaper men to the verge of collapse; Ben is still going.

No politician ever campaigned the way he campaigns. And he never does it twice the same way.

The Southern Pacific machine, which is straining every nerve to defeat him by dirty politics, is beginning to wheeze and blow at the joints. The heelers are gasping, red in the face, ready to yell for help. And Ben is just getting limbered up for action.

IN HIS CONNING TOWER.

The big Courthouse clock had just dragged around to 9 o'clock when a stocky, swarthy-faced man with an engaging grin came tearing full tilt down the corridors, slapping people on the backs, jollying the clerks, going through the press of the regular morning crush like a football halfback.

Ben had come into his conning tower.

In the days when this was a little county, an architect built the Courthouse with an eye to beauty and made some handsome balconies. These have long since been glassed over, and one of them is the office of Ben Ward, the County Assessor.

That little glass coop has seen some games of bluff and intimidation that are history. Out of the glass house have come divers crestfallen railroad agents, who are now thirsting for revenge.

Hiss! Bang! Up goes Ben's office desk.

The typewriter girl hands him a bunch of mail that would fill a trunk.

"Good boy; you're all right." (Lights a cigar.)

"Hmp; the lobster." (Throws it away.)

"Ha. There's one for Congressman McLachlan." (Lights another.)

GOOD AND "LOBSTER."

Benjamin is opening the mail. The letters are filled with clippings from the country papers. Some of them are good and some of them are—are "lobsters."

Nearly all the papers of the County Press Association are with Ward, however. Most of the clippings he pours out are good ones.

One of the roasts makes him rub the stubble field on top of his head. "Here, (turning to the girl stenographer,) take this."

Somebody has charged that Ben Ward has not raised the assessment on the property of the big newspapers.

"Tim," says Ben, getting ready to dictate, "let's see if I haven't. The Times is the biggest. I didn't do a thing but raise the assessment of The Times for personal property alone from $43,000 to $208,000 in four years."

Ben is his own press bureau, his own press agent, partly his own clipping bureau.

The glass door bursts open to admit a hurried individual in a short black apron, such as clerks wear. Fistful of papers; tax troubles.

Ben grabs the papers; grins, rubs the stubble. In three short sentences the county gets that complication out of its system, and the man with the apron dashes out again. Everybody about Ben gets into the habit of moving at a full gallop.

In the wake of a tax man comes a husky individual built for travel. "Take that pile," says Ben, over his shoulder without looking up, but jerking his head toward a bunch of posters two feet high. They are as characteristic as Ward himself. They jolt out such sentiments as these:

"Don't let the 'Machine rooster' think you must vote the 'G.O.P.' (Good Old Push) ticket. Roosevelt discourages this in local affairs where the machine is trying to run things—Why not you?"

The husky man grabs a pile and tears out like the tax man to further decorate the landscape, the fence posts, the telegraph poles and the dead walls.

LANDING THE CALLERS.

The imposing gait of this next one is self-explanatory, self-identifying—country editor. Sure!

Ben pats him on the back, reads him an intricate lecture on the subject of the legal method of taxing franchises, sticks a cigar in his face and lands him grinning in the corridor to make way for a typical rural politician, who cuts no ice, except about three weeks in every four years, and is making the most of his importance while it lasts.

He marches into the office as though he owned the Courthouse and was lending it to Ward. He takes the best chair in the room, all three newspapers and five cigars from Ben's desk.

Ward's telephone clicks. Something needs him in the front office. Taxes not politics. Dashes out.

Politicians get up with thundrous brow. Insulted. He only dares to get insulted three weeks in four years.

"Me come in here to talk politics and this is what I get! Damf he hasn't gone out and left me alone." With ponderous indignation he strides out.

Enter Ward.

"Hey, where's that man? Mad, hey?"

Exit Ward. (Hurry.)

He overtakes the indignant politician in the hall. Nose in the air.

Ben hits him a whack between the shoulders that makes the pride of the village hunch up like a bucking mule.

"Trying to make yourself believe you're mad? Forget it. You make me think of an Irish hod carrier—"

Two more Irish stories and one about a Mexican, a fat cigar and—next.

HE HAS TO BE "SHOWN."

The next is an influential, hard-headed man from the foothill country, who is pretty chilly and has to be "shown." Ten minutes of straight, hard common sense, with the tax figures to show for it, does for him 'Nother Ward vote.

Every one in the office can hear all of it; there is no whispering; Ben doesn't wage a bated-breath campaign; he hollers.

He "shows" them as fast as they come along.

Ben yanks out his watch, whips open the case and jabs it back into his pocket, with "one time and three motions," as they used to describe the old military salute.

"Lunch," says Ben, grabbing up about a tubful of tickets with his photograph and his epigrams on.

Ward lunches at the Union League—stronghold of Republicans. There he loves to flaunt his non-partisanship.

Walking down Broadway was an old man with a bundle of pick handles over his shoulder. Ben touched him on the shoulder and whirls him half way round.

"Here," said Ben, "you're the man that I want; the man who works needs me. I make the big corporations do a little of this taxpaying you have to do—kind of get this paying habit spread around."

The old man took the card and gave Ben a very severe look; evidently he was not a jocular person; but he kept the card, all the same.

By the time he of the pick handles recovered from his astonishment, Ben was half a block down the street and had given away thirty-seven more cards.

Just after the pick-handle man, he saw a man on a load of hay. Ben shinned up the side of the fodder and jabbed a card in the driver's fist. The fellow, who had been shifting his load a little, looked up in surprise, read the card, grinned.

"You're all right, Ben," he yelled, as the form of the Assessor disappeared in the next crowd.

HUMAN THUNDER CLOUD.

In a clear space on the sidewalk, Ben, swinging along, came face to face with a human thunder cloud. This was Luther Brown, minion and manager of the forces of the enemy, by whose orders the puppet Congressman, McLachlan, has taken the stump in half-crazy abuse of Ben Ward.

A bluff of not seeing each other absolutely would be too ridiculous; there is no one else on the sidewalk for half a block. Ward waves his hand and dashes on. Brown's nose is observed to lower three-sixteenths of an inch, or about five millimeters; that's a bow from the Push to B. Ward.

Ben claims that before he is through the Railroad Push will make a salaam like a freight elevator.

Brown probably gets indigestion from hat meeting, but Ben forgets all about it before he gets to the end of the block.

Ben "shows" them as fast as they can come.

Ben plunges into the midst of a little crowd of street-car motormen and conductors who are waiting to take their cars. Second and Broadway being one of the relieving stations.

"Hellow, fellers," says Ben, passing out cards with both fists.

"Hello, Ben," roars one of them, sticking out his fist. "I used to run your line."

"Say, whatever else I have done? I never owned a railroad line," says Ben, laughing.

"Never mind, I named a Belgian hare after you once," replies the old conductor.

"Not machine-made; home-made," yell a pair of lawyers who blow past, waving their hands. Ben tries to say "hello," but some one else grabs him by the shoulders and another pokes him in the ribs; in a minute he is half way down the block, shaking hands, yapping persiflage. No one can equal him for quick repartee.

He keeps on shoving out cards with his last breath.

The tables at the Union League were nearly all filled when Ben Ward came bustling in.

THREATENS THE FUZZ.

He stopped back of the chair occupied by a bald-headed man whose cranium was decorated with a fine fuzz.

"What do you think of that?" Ben inquired of the tableful of men, rubbing his hands over the fuzz.

"Say, if you don't get that burned off or mowed I'll assess it for a hay field."

The man with the bald head grinned and Ben went bubbling on to the next table.

A tall, dignified man stopped back of his chair and said something. "How's Covina?" said Ben. "You didn't help me much last time; you'd just better get busy and square yourself this time."

The man laughed and passed on.

"That was Chapman; he ran against me for Assessor last time," said Ward. "I never would have forgiven you if you hadn't won," called back the Covina man, as he sat at a neighboring table.

That was the way it went; they are fish that come to Ben Ward's net—laborers, political managers, employes of the railroads which are trying to defeat him. Nobody passes him without a card and a "jolly."

After lunch Ward went to his office and put in the rest of the day in stiff, hard work on the county taxes and its various problems.

Oi, oi, this being a candidate is a great business.

FIRST TEACHER DIES IN WANT.

Miss Eliza Benbough Sinks to Last Long Sleep.

Declining Days Darkened by Misfortune's Cloud.

Early Pupils Plan to Show Final Respect.

Miss Eliza Benbough, the first teacher ever appointed to the public schools of Los Angeles, is dead.

After forty years of active work in the schools of the West, and thirty years as a teacher in the public schools of this city, this remarkable woman passed away in Pomona yesterday, surrounded by only a few friends. She died in poverty.

Thousands of boys and girls scattered over this land knew and loved this gentle woman, who taught them their letters. Scores of business men remember her for the lessons she inculcated, and matrons, whose locks have the first silver strands, received from her their first inspiration to learn. There was no other woman in this Southland who touched the lives of the young in just the way "our teacher" did.

Her record of faithfulness harks back to the "sixties," when she was named by Morris Kremer, then a member of the Board of Education, as a teacher for the one Los Angeles public school, which stood on the site of the present Bryson Block at Second and Spring streets. Miss Benbough continued in the schools until 1876.

DIES AWAY FROM "HOME."

Saddest of all, she died away from the scenes she loved. Los Angeles was her city. She had seen it grow from a mere pueblo to a thriving metropolis. She had watched its educational progress, had seen her pupils grow to become factors in the life of the city, and her every interest was here.

She loved her work and laid down her books with reluctance ten years ago, when it became necessary, because of advancing age, for her to give up active work. She went then to the Hollenbeck Home on Boyle Heights, where many happy years were passed.

Biting poverty sought her out. She was compelled to seek aid from charitable organizations a few years ago. The Salvation Army found her a home in Pomona.

Shortly before Miss Benbough laid aside her work, a great misfortune came into her life. By diligent saving she had managed to gather a snug fortune—about $15,000. It was more than sufficient for her needs. She intrusted her wealth to friends in the East. The money was invested, some say, carelessly. It was lost, and the tired teacher, ready to leave her desk, saw her savings swept away in a moment.

FRIENDS WILL BURY HER.

But the unkindest fate of all came when it was found a few hours after her death, that it would be necessary for the county to bury her. This seemed the cruelest blow of all. Last night friends in this city remembered their teacher and she will be buried at their expense. There will be flowers in abundance, they say.

Miss Benbough was born in England sixty-nine years ago. She came to California just after the Civil War, and taught for several years in the schools of San Mateo county. In 1868 she came to Los Angeles and after a few months as a private teacher began her work in the public schools. Associated with her were Dr. Rose and Miss Frances Scott, the entire corps of public school teachers.

There are many in this city who attended school in the building which stood at the corner of Second and Spring streets. Those who did will remember the wavy-haired young woman who was such a power in the school room. She ruled by the law of love and the little girls often gained a respite from lessons by asking, "Please, teacher, can I smooth your hair?"

There is in this city a mother of a large family who told last night with tears in her eyes how on a Friday afternoon, long ago, when "teacher's" head ached, she smoothed the gathering wrinkles from the loved brow."

Though it has been arranged that the funeral shall take place in Pomona, there is a possibility that the body may be brought to Los Angeles for interment.

SCHOOLMASTERS' CLUB ELECTS.

Earnest J. Lickley was elected president of the Schoolmasters' Club at a meeting held yesterday at the home of J. W. Henry, the retiring president. W. W. Tritt was chosen vice-president; A. M. Fosdick, secretary, and D. W. Reed treasurer. The club is planning an educational course for the year, a part of which includes a series of lectures by prominent educators. Dr. Moore, Superintendent of Schools, will deliver the first lecture. It is hoped to secure Dr. Jacob Riis of New York and Judge Lindsey of Denver, as speakers.

WESTLAKE LOTS SOLD.

A. W. Skinner has sold to J. B. Duke of the Westlake Hotel, 100x140 feet on the east side of Carondelet street between Wilshire boulevard and Seventh street, for $10,000 net. The buyer paid commission to C. C. C. Tatum, the agent.

UNCLE SAM REFUSES HARBOR APPLICANTS.

APPLICATIONS and protests in the case of the tract of reclaimable land in the outer harbor at San Pedro, for which the Southern Pacific Company, the Imperial Investment Company, and the San Pedro Home Dock and Warehouse Company each made application, were returned by the Secretary of War yesterday to the local United States engineer's office—refused. Notice is given by the government of intention to establish new harbor lines in the outer harbor of San Pedro.

By this act the government indicates that it will not go into the controversy in any way as to who has the right to the disputed tract, and whether the Southern Pacific company or some other corporation gets the valuable holding will now become a matter for the courts to decide.

When the harbor lines have been finally established, then the claimant shown to have the proper local authority, through franchise from the city of San Pedro, or by title established through court action, will be granted a permit by the Secretary of War. No corporation can go ahead with the building of a bulkhead until the lines of the outer harbor have been established by the government, and it is, therefore, safe to assume that extended legal action will tie up the intended improvement for a long time to come.

A map (almost identical with that published in The Times two months ago,) showing the tentative harbor lines, will be on exhibition at the United States engineer's office Friday, November 9. All persons interested are invited to examine this map and submit comments or suggestions. Another map is to be then prepared, showing harbor lines so modified as to include any suggestion that may be considered to the best interests of navigation. A public hearing will be held later, and then the map, with all objections, will be submitted to the Secretary of War. Upon its return the harbor lines will be finally established. It is hardly probable that any changes will be made in the present map of recommendation.

Capt. Amos A. Fries last night stated that the returns from Washington received yesterday in this matter place all applicants on an equal footing.

The fight will now be between the Southern Pacific company, which claims to own all of the shore-line property adjacent to the desired tract, and the city of San Pedro, which will hold that the Southern Pacific does not own this shore line and that the city has the power to sell a franchise for the tract.

Annexation of the harbor front territory to Los Angeles will introduce a new element.

Application has been made by the Southern Pacific company to build bulkheads and dredge an area at Timm's Point, San Pedro, beginning at an angle in the west jetty and running thence parallel to the shore end of the west jetty, a distance of about 2050 feet. If this permit is granted the company will establish an inner harbor basin 250 feet wide, 30 feet deep at low tide and more than 2000 feet long.

A map showing the location of the proposed bulkhead and cut will be on exhibition in the United States engineer's office until 11 o'clock Friday morning, November 2. It is probable that the city of San Pedro will enter protest.

EUCALYPTI FOR TIES; SANTA FE TO PLANT.

EIGHT THOUSAND acres of land will be planted with eucalyptus trees by the Santa Fé, to be used a few years hence for making railroad ties.

The San Dieguito ranch, lying just north of El Toro, has been purchased by the Santa Fé for $100,000, and ground was broken yesterday for the first planting, which will consist of 16,000 trees.

Arthur G. Wells, general manager of the Santa Fé Coast lines, looking well into the future and foreseeing a scarcity of tie timber, is fathering this scheme, which he has every reason to believe will prove successful and through its success develop a new and important industry in Southern California.

Ties now cost from 65 to 70 cents, "at ship's tackle," which is 100 per cent. more than they cost six years ago. As the Santa Fé uses 700,000 ties annually on its Pacific Coast lines alone, the importance and magnitude of the new venture will be apparent. Formerly redwood ties were user almost exclusively and were considered best for this purpose. The rapid advance in the value of that timber has practically taken the redwood tie off the market, and Oregon pine ties are now supplying the demand.

Mr. Wells is of the opinion that it is becoming more profitable each year to ship lumber east, and that this increase in eastern shipments will force the prices of lumber on this coast still higher. In Australia eucalyptus has been used for ties for twenty-five years, and it is largely on Australian statistics that Mr. Wells came to make a test of the wood, and suggest his plan to the tie and timber department of the Santa Fé.

E. O. Faulkner is manager of this department, and is carrying out the idea. Under the care of F. P. Hasp at Oceanside are the 16,000 trees which are to be planted as soon as the first rain falls upon the prepared ground. The tiny blue gums are in boxes undergoing a scientific course of propagation. They will be set out by Foreman Crawford of the ranch, closely together, and then will be gradually transplanted. It is the intention to eventually cover the entire 8000 acres. Undoubtedly the foliage will be utilized by being sold to be used in the manufacture of a medical extract.

The eucalyptus wood is of lose fiber, and when well dried is so hard that an ax can hardly be driven into it. Three varieties are to be used, and it is claimed that all of them will attain a trunk one foot in diameter in four years from a box slip. The trees will be topped near the ground, and two shoots will be allowed to grow up from the trunk. These shoots, on account of the extensive root growth, develop more rapidly than the original tree. The tops of the trees from a point where the trunk ceases to be large enough for tie purposes will be sold for firewood, and the profit from the thousands of cords will much more than pay the cost of planting and the maintenance of the ranch.

It is highly probable that the Santa Fé will carry out this same idea in Texas and it is believed that other railroads will follow the example. The eucalyptus needs no irrigation and constitutes the principal tree growth of the valleys of Southern California today, breaking the skyline in all directions with deep masses of blue, shading into the delicate green of the waving tops.

PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Miss Agnes D. Terry filed suit yesterday against George Cunningham to recover $6500, which she claims is due by reason of alleged fraudulent representations made to her when she deeded certain San Diego property to Cunningham.

A jury in Judge Bordwell's court returned a verdict yesterday, awarding $2500 damages to A. N. Adams for injuries sustained in the Oneonta wreck of a Pacific Electric Company trolley car.

Harry Babbitt filed suit yesterday against E. J. Bondie and E. Gerety to recover $1000 damages. Babbitt claims the men beat him severely in a fight a month ago.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Warner, who attempted suicide recently at Nordhoff, were removed to the County Hospital yesterday for examination as to their sanity.

The Salt Lake Railroad Company began suit yesterday against the county to recover $1262 which was paid as taxes on wharves and wharf franchises at San Pedro, claiming that the State Board of Equalization had already dealt with the taxes in question.

Applications were made to the Fire Commissioners yesterday, which indicate an attempt to reopen some of the almost abandoned oil wells in the northwestern and western districts. Much opposition is expected against the move.

The Board of Public Works yesterday rejected recent oil bids, and will readvertise for offers to sell the city 30,000 barrels or parts of this amount.

A petition was filed yesterday, asking for the widening of Maple avenue from Fifth to Washington streets to a uniform width of eighty feet.

The proposed city veterinary hospital was given a vigorous rap yesterday by the Fire Commission, the members of which declare that the hospital is not needed.

The police department yesterday secured a case in which the evidence against a man passing worthless Confederate bills would warrant the city prosecutor to issue a complaint. The police say the case will have much weight with the future action in arresting and prosecuting parties passing the valueless bills.

While the City Justice Court was examining Frank Hetzel yesterday on a charge of grand larceny, it was learned that the lad is under 16 years of age. He was, therefore, remanded to the Juvenile Court.

AT THE CITY HALL.

OLD OIL WELLS REDIVIVUS.

HIGH PRICES CAUSE DESIRE TO RESUME PUMPING.

Applications to Fire Commission for Permits to Install Engines Arouse Protests from Citizens Who Seek to Clean Out All Traces of Old Wells and Derricks.

After a concerted effort of many citizens in the western and northwestern hill sections to secure the cleaning out of old derricks and the closing down of oil wells and pumping plants, there has now sprung up an effort on the part or oil men to revivify the city's western and northwestern oil district.

This fact was made apparent at the meeting of the Fire Commission yesterday forenoon. There were two cases cases before the Commission which aroused some rapid-fire discussion. Both cases were referred to the committee of the whole, and the commission will visit the districts and make a personal inspection.

H. C. Cates applied for a permit to establish and operate a gasoline engine to pump oil at No. 2105 Ocean View avenue. This brought forth a vigorous protest from men who have been interested in getting the block cleared up, so that it may be used for residential property. The leading spokesman against granting the permit was J. F. Book, who resides at No. 2101 Ocean View avenue, and who owns five wells in the block himself, but who has abandoned them all in the interest of the cleaning-up movement.

The block in which the Cates' wells are located is bounded by Ocean View avenue, Lake, Alvarado and Miramar streets. Within the territory immediately adjacent to the wells are several fine residences, including a $12,000 home of Mr. Book, a residence of Frank Garbutt, costing probably $85,000, and a $35,000 residence belonging to Frank McCray.

It appears that the wells have either been shut down entirely or have only been pumped in a desultory way for some time past; but the recent increase in the price of oil, and the predictions that this is to continue for an indefinite period have aroused owners of wells to a new interest in their operation.

Richard Green asked the Fire Commission to grant him permission to establish a pumping plant at No. 1625 West First street, and this also brought forth a storm of protest, several women participating to such an extent that they talked themselves clear out into the City Hall corridors before their ire abated.

It was declared by the protestants that Green's well is the only one left rigged up within the block, and that there has been a general clearing up of the surrounding premises. The statement was made that the block is assessed at $125,000, but that Green's property only bears $400 of this and an assessment of $100 for personal property. The claim was also made that there is an invalid young woman residing on the property adjoining the well, and that her physicians have stated the operation of the plant would probably prove fatal to her. Among the voluble speakers was Mrs. Viola Howe Jeffreys, who continued to catechise the commissioners even after they had taken action on the subject, and who expressed the opinion that "not one of you know any thing about the situation or what ought to be done."

There is a difference of opinion among the members of the commission as to the advisability of allowing the reopening of wells which have long stood without active use. A visit to the districts will be made early in the week, and the subject will be studied first hand.

Hospital Not Wanted.

Members of the Fire Commission took occasion, yesterday morning, to give the proposed city veterinary hospital some vigorous punches. They don't like the idea of erecting a $5000 hospital to care for horse-sickness that is at present handled for less than $150 per year.

Dr. W. E. D. Morrison, County Veterinarian, appeared before the commission and asked if it had taken action on the subject of hastening the building of the proposed hospital. Commissioner Robinson stated that he had been making investigations, and that he had found that the city has paid but $300 for the care of sick horses in a period of more than two years. He said he thought it was poor policy, in the present state of the city's finances, to invest $5000 in a horse hospital to handle sickness that costs the city less than $150 a year.

Dr. Morrison made the plea that the funds were provided by a special appropriation made by the City Council, and that, therefore, the Fire Commission should hasten to expend it; but there was no enthusiasm shown by the commissioners for the project.

Commissioner Schwamm asked Dr. Morrison if it was not a fact that he had been promised supervision of the proposed hospital by members of the City Council, but the veterinarian declared there had been no such promise, and that his only interest was to see that the sick horses had the best of care. The commissioners decided to defer their report on the proposition.

Who Wants to Go?

Arthur F. Francis, secretary of the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress, has sent to Mayor McAleer an announcement of the forthcoming convention which is its seventeenth session, and which will convene in Kansas City November 20, lasting three days. Los Angeles is asked to send delegates. The secretary states that this will be the largest congress of the kind ever held, and that it will have from 1500 to 2000 delegates. The chief address will be given by Secretary Root on "The Possibilities of Establishing Direct Trade Relations Between the Mississippi Valley States and South and Central American Countries." Other speakers of note will be James J. Hill, E. H. Harriman, Hon. M. C. Blanchard, Governor of Louisiana; Gov. Pardee of this State; William Jennings Bryan, Joseph E. Ransdell, president of the National and River and Harbor Association; H. D. Loveland, president of the Pacific Coast Jobbers' Association of San Francisco, and Hon. John G. Carlisle of New York. In addition to these speakers, acceptances have been received from twelve United States Senators and twenty-one Congressmen to take part in the deliberations.

City Hall Notes.

The Chamber of Commerce has sent to the Fire Commission a letter of thanks for the prompt and efficient service rendered by the fire department in the recent fire at the Chamber of Commerce Building.

The Fire Commissioners yesterday ordered the payment of the sum of $149.13 to the Los Angeles Hay Storage Company as the last payment on its contract to furnish the city 500 tons of hay.

Petitions have been filed with the City Clerk, for presentation to the Council, asking for the improvement of Logan street, between Sunset boulevard and Park avenue; Echo Park avenue, between Sunset boulevard and Bellevue avenue; Montana avenue, between Echo Park avenue and Alvarado street and Park street, between Lake Shore Drive and Echo Park avenue. A petition has also been filed, asking for the establishment of grade on Cypress avenue, between Idell and Pepper streets.

Fire Commission's Budget.

The Angelus Steam Dye Works was granted a permit by the Fire Commissioners yesterday, to establish its plant at No. 3122 Maple avenue, after the application having been held up for several weeks. The application of Eugene Walker for a similar permission for No. 1220 Birch street was denied, as Walker did not appear to answer inquiries of the commission, notwithstanding the fact that the application had been carried over three weeks to secure his attendance.

Goodwin Bros. wanted a permit to install motive power for the operation of a paint-grinding plant at No. 1654 Donabel street. This is another case which has been pending for several weeks, and it was finally denied yesterday. Later the commissioners agreed to give the firm a temporary permit to operate their paint-grinding plant at their store, No. 622 South Spring street, until they could file a regular application for a permanent permit at that location.

The German Sausage Factory was allowed to install an electric motor at No. 411 East Seventh street; and the Los Angeles Engineering and Construction Company was given similar permission for its machine shop at No. 1815 East Seventh street. The application of the Underhill Shirt Factory for permission to place an electric motor and a steam boiler at No. 416 South Broadway was denied, because of the protests of business men in the block. M. Sandberg was allowed to operate an electric motor in his basket factory at No. 125 Savannah street.

Will Ask for Free Site.

The Board of Public Works will be asked to give the use of certain city lots for the establishment of a camp for the care of epileptics of Southern California. It is probable that the high lots back of the old Catholic cemetery, and belonging to the city, will be desired for this purpose. They have been inspected and considered favorably. Calls are to be issued today for a meeting to discuss plans for the proposed camp. These invitations are to be sent to the various civic bodies, women's clubs and other prominent organizations, and the time set for the meeting is Monday night, October 29, in the parlors at Hotel Haywards. The signers to the call are Bishop Conaty, Rev. Baker T. Lee, Mrs. Jefferson T. Gibbs, County Supervisor C. E. Patterson, and Dr. H. S. Brainerd. Special interest in the care of epileptics has been aroused in Los Angeles through the efforts of Miss Katharine Rolston Fisher, who has been connected with this phase of humanitarian work, and who has given especial attention to the benefits which epileptics have derived from the camp life or outdoor treatment.

Oil Bids Rejected.

The Board of Public Works yesterday decided to reject the bids received for furnishing the city 30,000 barrels of oil, and new bids will be asked for by the board. There will be some changes in the new specifications, and bids will be asked on any amounts of the total bulk desired, so that the small producers will have an opportunity to submit their figures.

Hoover Street Widening.

The proposition to widen Hoover street, from Ninth street to Gage street to a width of sixty feet drew a delegation of property owners before the Board of Public Works, yesterday. No agreement was reached by the conflicting interests, and the board made a personal inspection of the grounds last evening.

Would Widen Street.

A petition was filed yesterday asking the City Council to begin proceedings for the widening of South Los Angeles street five feet from Fourth street to Winston street. The petitioners ask that the strip for widening be taken off the east side of the street. The signers are N. Bonfilio, representing 102.5 feet, and the Mills interests, representing 161¼ feet.

Greater Maple Avenue.

Yesterday afternoon a petition was filed with the City Clerk, asking for an important improvement on Maple avenue. The petitioners want that thoroughfare widened from sixty feet to eighty feet between Fifth and Washington streets, a distance of fourteen blocks. It is desired that ten feet be added to each side of the street. About 8000 feet of frontage has been pledged or this improvement out of probably 12,000 represented in the whole project. It is said that if this improvement carries it will be followed by important building developments along Maple avenue.

DECLARES MAN SWINDLED HER.

MISS TERRY CHARGES GEORGE CUNNINGHAM WITH FRAUD.

Young Woman of Twenty Years Brings Suit Against Her Family's Former Confidential Adviser, Accusing Him of Securing Two Blocks of Land by Misrepresentation.

Miss Agnes D. Terry, aged 20, has begun suit against George Cunningham, accusing him of having swindled her out of two blocks of real estate.

The transaction complained of took place in 1904. The plaintiff avers that Cunningham was the confidential advisor of her mother and brothers and sisters, and as such won her confidence. She owned blocks No. 39 and 42 in Manitou Park, in San Diego county, and says that Cunningham induced her to deed over this property to him for $500 cash, 10,000 shares of the capital stock of the Hermosa Mining Company, and an agreement to pay a further sum of $300 in thirty days.

Representations made to her at that time, Miss Terry now claims to have been utterly untrue and fraudulent, but that she relied upon his judgment and the confidential position he occupied toward herself and other members of her family. Cunningham told her, she says, that the Hermosa Company, of which he was one of the principal stockholders, owned the Mariposa mine, in Sinaloa, and that it was a rich and promising property. The company, he said, had expended $15,000 in installing machinery, and that the stock was worth $1 a share and all of it was being held close and none could be obtained on the market. Miss Terry says that she was assured that within ninety days she would be receiving dividends and that the stock was going to make her a wealthy woman.

In her complaint, filed yesterday, she says that the whole string of representations made to her by Cunningham were false and fraudulent; that the ore in the Mariposa mine is a low-grade proposition, not yielding more than $1.50 per ton, and that the stock is a drug on the market at 15 cents, and was at the time Cunningham told her it was being held tight. Instead of being worth the large sums represented, the property is not worth over $2500, she says, and by reason of the misrepresentations to her she claims to have suffered an actual damage of $6500, for which amount she asks judgment.

MINDS DISTRAUGHT.

HUSBAND AND WIFE INSANE.

W. D. Warner and Mrs. Warner, both of whom attempted to commit suicide in a hotel at Nordhoff a few days ago, were removed to the County Hospital yesterday to await their examination on an insanity charge.

Both are in a pitiable condition, mentally and physically. Warner suffers from jaundice and diabetes, while his wife has partial paralysis of one side. He belongs to the Odd Fellows, and for years Mrs. Warner has been identified with the city as a leader of the Maccabees. By reason of failing health they fell into poor circumstances, and then became mentally unbalanced when, in addition to their hard condition, they believed that they had broken the law in connection with a chattel mortgage on the furniture of their home. No. 709 West Jefferson street, and were liable to arrest and imprisonment. Feeling that they were forsaken by everybody, and that any moment they might be in the toils of the law, they decided to hasten the end that does not appear very distant for either of them in any event.

HALF HIS WAGE.

WIFE ASKS MAINTENANCE.

Kathalene D. Bartley married George M. Bartley on Christmas Day, 1904, at El Modena, Orange county, and in September of the following year she claims that he deserted her though he continued to contribute to her support up to December. After that she had to make her own way. She filed a suit asking that her husband be compelled to support her. The plaintiff says that she is in ill health and unable to work, and as her husband makes about $60 a month she believes that half the amount should be given to her.

LOST THE FIGHT.

BRICKLAYER ASKS DAMAGES.

Harry Bobbitt, a bricklayer, got into a fight with Ed J. Bondie and Edward Gerety, and the latter beat Bobbitt severely, he says. This encounter occurred a month ago and yesterday Bobbitt began suit against Bondie and Gerety to recover $1000 damages. The plaintiff says that he had to pay $50 to have his wounds and bruises dressed, and has been prevented from following his business at which he was making $6 a day.

DAMAGES AWARDED.

ONEONTA COLLISION CASE.

The jury in Judge Bordwell's court that heard the damage suit of A. N. Adams against the Pacific Electric Railway Company, returned a verdict yesterday in favor of Adams for $2500. The plaintiff was in the Sierra Madre car that was wrecked by a freight train at Oneonta Junction, and was severely injured. In addition to the fracturing of several ribs, his left lung was punctured, and otherwise he was badly shaken up and his nerves upset.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

PROBATE ASKED. Emma S. Ogden has petitioned for probate of the will of the late Mary Ann W. Smith, who died at Long Beach on October 10, leaving an estate valued at $16,000. The will bears date of September 25, 1901.

HANFORD CASE. Susie E. Tandy was granted a divorce from Henry V Tandy on the ground of desertion. They were married at Hanford in August, 1903, and in July the husband is alleged to have deserted her, though he did not remove from the town of Hanford, where they had lived since their marriage. The wife then came to Los Angeles and is a clerk in Jacoby's store.

TOOK A RACER. J. W. Hall was tried and acquitted in Judge Smith's court yesterday on the charge of having stolen a broken-down racer from a pasture near Compton. The defendant is said to be half-witted, and his responsibility consequently was not considered up to the average.

DUO OF DESERTIONS. Sarah Jordan was granted a decree yesterday divorcing her from Joseph J. Jordan, on the ground of desertion. They were married on December 17, 1895, and in August, 1906, the husband deserted his home. Sarah A. Harer was divorced from Nathaniel Harer on the same ground. He and his wife married in October, 1894, at Phoenix, Ariz., and in June of the following year he abandoned his wife.

STRING OF CHARGES. Harry McGee and Charles Smith are two young men who took to robbery for a living, and yesterday they pleaded guilty to two charges, and there are two more to which they have to plead one way or another. On September 19 one J. H. Robinson was held up for 25 cents, and about the same date C. S. De Vos was robbed of $30.40 and property valued at as much again. McGee in one of his escapades had another chum named Guy E. Epperley as his associate, and together they robbed a man named Sanborn of 85 cents. McGee's father is an employé of the Santa Fé. Smith is said to be a brakebeam tourist from Chicago. When all the charges have been pleaded to, sentence will be given for the two to which the defendants pleaded guilty yesterday.

SUIT CONTESTED. W. A. Almond brought suit for divorce against Lottie Almond, on the ground of adultery, and yesterday the case was tried. The parties have been married a comparatively short time and lived at Alhambra and Long Beach. At the latter place the father, mother and four children came down to the Almond cottage of five rooms, and after that there wasn't room for the husband. He was crowded out and took another cottage and asked his wife to come and live there, but she refused. The court gave the husband the divorce on the ground of desertion, the adultery charge not having been sustained.

TO RECOVER ASSESSMENTS. The Salt Lake Railroad Company has begun suit against the county of Los Angeles to recover $1362.94 paid under protest as taxes for 1905-6 on wharves and wharf franchises at San Pedro. The claim is set up that the State Board of Equalization had already dealt with the wharves and franchises. A similar suit has been brought by the same corporation against the city of Pasadena, in an endeavor to recover $274.09 assessed against part of the right of way, which had also been assessed by the State Board of Equalization.

RATELL DIVORCE. Maud Ratell has been divorced from Claude Ratell on the ground of desertion. They were married on Christmas Day, 1897, in Wisconsin, and last year the husband abandoned his wife in this city.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

WANT TO TEST BILL PASSING.

POLICE SUCCEED IN GETTING A STRONG CASE.

Cigar Dealer Arraigned on Charge of Trying to Secure Silver for a Worthless Note—Much Will Depend on Outcome of Case, Say the Authorities.

Detectives Chapman and Rico believe that at last they have solved the problem of the method of prosecuting passers of worthless Confederate bank bills, and through the trial of Samuel Harbert they will endeavor to test their new plan. Harbert was arraigned before City Justice Austin yesterday, and was held for examination on October 22, in the sum of $200.

Complaints have flooded the police department detective office for the past five months of persons passing the worthless paper. Detectives detailed to run down the cases have failed to secure convicting evidence in nearly every case, and the persons arrested succeeded in going free.

Despite the numerous warnings that the police have sent broadcast throughout the city in the newspapers, business men and women continue to accept the worthless bills. When the authorities made arrests the prosecuting attorney's office have found that their cases would fail if taken in court, and have been forced to deny complaints.

In answer to a telephone call Thursday night, Detective Chapman was sent to Miss Vammie Green's house, No. 438 North Alameda street. He was told that Harbert had attempted to pass a valueless $10 Confederate bill on a woman living at the place in exchange for silver, and that a special officer had captured Harbert while he was attempting to escape.

From Harbert the officer claims to have secured the statement that he won the bill in a poker game, and that he did not know that it was not money, but when asked where the game was running the man could not tell. However, the officer located the man, who says he gave Harbert the worthless bill, and secured from Harbert a statement that he knew that it was not a good bank bill.

Through this chain of evidence the police hope to convict Harbert. The police believe that if he is allowed to go free it will encourage the passing of the worthless money. They say that Harbert has been in charge of a cigar stand at No. 172 North Main street.

Remanded to Lower Court.

The preliminary examination of Frank Hetzel of No. 815 West Twenty-seventh street on the charge of grand larceny before City Justice Austin, yesterday, was terminated in an unlooked-for manner, through a misunderstanding of the lad's age. When the court learned that young Hetzel is under 16 years of age he ordered him certified to the Superior Court and his bail fixed at $500.

Hetzel was arrested with Robert Brewer, Guy Frazee and Eugene Smart on a charge of stealing automobile tools. The detectives working on the case began to trace the thefts to the quartette, but had some difficulty in getting evidence. The lads were finally arrested.

According to the officers, the lads would take tools from motor cars and repair shops. Their methods were the most daring. By their investigation of the case the police learned that Hetzel took a motorcycle. When they arrested him at his home Hetzel's mother told the police that her son was 16 years old and this was confirmed by the lad. When Mrs. Hetzel, the boy's mother, took the witness stand yesterday she stated her son was but 15 years of age. This threw the case to the Juvenile Court.

Fined for Escaping.

After searching for Luke D. Sheets for nearly a month, Patrolman Humphreys captured him yesterday as Sheets was about to board a car at San Pedro. Sheets escaped from the officer, who had arrested him on a charge of drunkenness, on the night of September 30, when Walter Patterson, a fellow-workman, interfered and rendered the officer powerless to retain Sheets. Patterson and Sheets were employed as deliverymen by an ice company. The patrolman captured Patterson later, and he was fined $50 for interfering with an officer. A charge of disturbing the peace was placed against Sheets and he was fined $15 or fifteen days. The police say Sheets has a suspended sentence of sixty days over him.

Court Accused by Chinese.

Ah Lee was arrested in a South Main-street saloon yesterday on a charge of having lottery tickets in his possession, but when he was taken before Police Judge Austin he plainly informed a friend that he believed the court was a bunco scheme. The court fixed his bail at $20 in the morning, but when the case came up in the afternoon and the Celestial demanded a jury trial the bail was doubled. This gave the Chinese the idea that there is no justice in American courts.

Wants Plumber Punished.

E. G. Thye, proprietor of a plumbing establishment, was arraigned yesterday on a charge of disturbing the peace, having been arrested on complaint of a woman on Aliso street. Thye installed some fixtures and after he had called several times for his pay he then appeared with another man, the woman alleges. The men demanded to go into the house and the woman refused, fearing that they would take out the plumbing. According to her statement to the prosecuting attorney, Thye attempted to take off the screen door and enter, but neighbors interfered.

Kessler Fined for Battery.

S. P. Kessler was fined $25 by Police Judge Austin yesterday for throwing a saucer at his wife, while they were quarreling at their home, No. 1347 Myrtle street, Thursday night, and inflicting an ugly wound on her left temple. At the time the police thought that the case would be a serious one. Kessler and his wife have been married fourteen years. He is a potato peddler. Mrs. Kessler is improving.

May Take the Pledge.

Pedro Lopez told a friend yesterday after being fined $25 or twenty-five days by Police Judge Austin that he intended to join the "water-wagon brigade." Tuesday evening Lopez imbibed too much wine and began to hunt out his imaginary enemies. He thought of Nicholas Cejas, a Mexican friend, living at Sixth street and Santa Fé avenue and decided after listening to a Socialist lecture to wreck the Cejas home just to obtain "equality" if nothing else. He was captured and sent to jail.

Mexican Threatened Women.

Francisco Hernandez was fined $20 or thirty days yesterday by Police Judge Austin on a charge of disturbing the peace. According to the police, Hernandez got drunk and when making his way through the Plaza became ugly. He threatened to kill several women with a long knife and at last landed in the City Jail.

"Scotty" Allen Files Appeal.

J. S. Allen, known as "Scotty," was fined $25 yesterday by Police Judge Austin on a charge of conducting a pool hall without a license. For some time the police have been seeking to secure a conviction of the notorious "Scotty" but they had hitherto found it impossible to get evidence. Allen appealed the case.

YOU'VE TOUCHED A LIVE WIRE

When you pick up the November Everybody's Magazine

¶ Whether you dip into fiction or fact the men and women who move through its pages do things and think things in a way that's worth reading about.

Travel the "Runaway Road" with "the girl on the white pony" and find out where it runs away to. She's a girl you'll like, and adventure and a spice of mystery lurk down that road; and when you turn the last corner and follow the dusty trail up the creaking stair — well, you'll just have to go along yourself to get the good of it.

The real Leopold has been caught and caged in the November number. Leopold II King of Belgium, famous and infamous as far as the sound of his name goes. You can step up and walk around him and size him up from every side — and he has sides worth studying.

If you want to get clear out of yourself and into another world, try Justus Miles Forman's "Grayosa Road" and see where the "gypsy look in his eyes" landed the well bred English boy. It may not land you quite where you expect, but that's Mr. Forman's fault.

Read about Marie Schuylart in "A Mother of Americans" who sits in her little Chicago cottage, looking backward on her three score years of the finest type of womanly success. You'll see that all the "Mrs. Wiggs" didn't live in the Cabbage Patch.

Fair play never hurts. Get the other side of the "Bucket Shops" from Christie's answer to Merrill A. Teague.

If you're too rugged for sentiment don't touch the "Autobiography of an Only Child." There may be a "cry" in this if you don't steer clear.

There's certainly a laugh in Maximilian Foster's "You?" in spite of Miss Ogden's pathetic exasperation over his climb to fame.

And you'll find Herman Whitaker's story, "The Devil's Slide," has got plenty of desperate "go." This story is ballasted. It's got lead in it, outside the amount they shoot from their guns.

Go back with Jack London and grope in the dark "Before Adam," wade with him through that dim primeval epoch before time had been invented.

Get, from his own pen, that rare glimpse of his real personality that Lawson gives us in his heart-to-heart talk with his readers. The greatest sensation that this giant among fighters has ever hurled at his enemies will follow closely in the December number. You can't afford to miss his preface in November.

And then, after you've done drumming and laughing and crying with all these, come away with Russell to that far country, New Zealand, where right has armed itself with might, where fair play has captured government, and rich and poor alike (foolish as it may sound) actually enjoy doing the thing that is for the common good of the common people.

FIRE OPENS ON FIRE WARDENS.

Federal Agents Probing the San Fernando Calamity.

Rangers Might Have Enforced the Law Better.

Supervisor Charlton Answers Reported Charges Made.

[illegible] investigation is reported under [illegible] by Federal authorities into the [illegible]tion how, with the new laws now [illegible]ced, empowering the forest ran[illegible] as fire wardens to press every [illegible]bodied citizen into service to as[illegible] in fighting forest fires, or to place [illegible] under arrest; and with govern[illegible] trails all over these ranges, the [illegible] of two weeks ago spread unchecked [illegible] more than 200 square miles of the [illegible] Fernando Mountains.

[illegible]deral investigation over the burned [illegible] justifies the statement that this [illegible]one of the most disastrous calam[illegible] of its kind which has fallen upon [illegible]rt of the country for many [illegible]. The extent of the damage is [illegible] now only partially realized, but [illegible] familiar with every part of the [illegible] burned off declare that they [illegible]ed the water shed, the importance [illegible]ich will only be appreciated since [illegible] destroyed. It will mean mighty [illegible] to the wet season and dearth of [illegible] in summer. Not only will the [illegible]men of the great San Fernando [illegible] suffer, but also it is believed [illegible]the ing to Los Angeles city will [illegible]reparable for half a century.

[illegible] territory burned is largely in the [illegible]Barbara Reserve, and it is a [illegible] of much regret that Forest [illegible]Willis M. Slosson of that [illegible]ve was absent in another part of [illegible]state, as he is a recognized fire [illegible]r of ability. In his absence Chief [illegible]r Samuel Douglas took charge [illegible]e operations, and it is reported [illegible]Federal investigation will pass [illegible]d judgment on the efficiency of [illegible]rvice during this fire. It is also [illegible]ed that complaint is to be lodged [illegible]t Ruston Charlton, supervisor [illegible]n Gabriel and San Bernardino [illegible]t Reserves, who, it is claimed [illegible]t not be found during the first day [illegible]e fire. Neither Slosson nor Doug[illegible]ould be found yesterday by a [illegible] reporter, but Supervisor Charl[illegible]ton gruffly in regard to Fed[illegible]eration, he has been on the scene of his acti[illegible]

CHARLTON'S VERSION.

I am to be called to answer for [illegible]ction in connection with that [illegible] I stand ready to give a satisfac[illegible]explanation why I did not hear [illegible]e fire until late in the evening. [illegible]on as the news reached me, I [illegible]ed the 11:30 trains for Pernando, [illegible] I took a saddle horse and rode [illegible]across Cañon far enough to sat[illegible]myself that the report that the [illegible]re was fire was false. I did not [illegible] to Pernando until dawn, and [illegible] went to Newhall. The fire [illegible]started at Lang, burned south[illegible] over the northwest cor[illegible]of the San Gabriel Reserve, where [illegible] only forty acres of land. [illegible]t is the only portion of the San [illegible]ernardino that was touched by [illegible]

[illegible]t the same time the fire broke [illegible] Lang, a fire was started in the [illegible]Tejunga Canon by a spark from [illegible]engine used in the oil wells. The [illegible] employed there were eating their [illegible]fast, and the fire got such a rapid [illegible]start that some were burned over [illegible]re it was put out. Seven San Ga[illegible]Reserve Forest Rangers hurried [illegible] some of them even com[illegible]the mountains back of Mon[illegible]rose that occurred fifteen men [illegible]went to the Little Tejunga. The [illegible]ere out in the Little Tejunga by [illegible]rs of night, and my rangers, [illegible]an increased squad of fire fighters [illegible]Pernando, went into the San[illegible] Reserve and fought all [illegible]. While I have no jurisdiction in [illegible]anta Barbara Reserve, my men [illegible]as hard there as they would [illegible]r own ground."

RANGER'S MISTAKE AT LANG.

[illegible]rs to me that the first great [illegible]r in this fire was made at Lang, [illegible]e that three men, jumping [illegible], could have prevented its [illegible]. I am quite certain of this. In [illegible]o the work done by Douglas [illegible], I can make no statement. [illegible]y fair to take into considera[illegible]e fact that a large portion of [illegible]e outside of all forest re[illegible]s in a section lying northwest [illegible]. I believe that there ought [illegible]ce of men paid by the coun[illegible]fire on outside of reservations, [illegible]a county appropriation for [illegible], but it is far too small. [illegible]ngeles Game Warden W. H. [illegible]s to his work. While the law al[illegible]s swing any man into service [illegible]ers for a wage of $3 a day, [illegible]e warden has to find his [illegible]m to the fire and supply [illegible]food while they are there. [illegible]s a big expense.

[illegible]e opening of a number of [illegible]s in the northern part of [illegible]e appropriation for the [illegible]servation has become still [illegible]limited. There are 1,000,000 [illegible]forest reserves in the United [illegible]for appropriation from Con[illegible]their maintenance is small [illegible]main body of the fund is de[illegible]proceeds of the Forest Re[illegible]ng charges for cattle. Seven [illegible]band of cattle are allowed on [illegible]Gabriel Reserve and 2000 in [illegible]ardino. At present there [illegible]000 head grazing on these [illegible]per permit. A fee of 45 [illegible]per head is charged, pay[illegible]made direct to Washing[illegible]these reservations and [illegible]timber at that, which is, [illegible]o seldom accessible. The [illegible]timber is 50 cents a [illegible]cubic foot scaled by the rangers. [illegible]ervations that the income from [illegible]ations with the slight ap[illegible]from Congress is sufficient. [illegible]here are eighteen rangers [illegible]in the San Gabriel Reserve [illegible]could be used to good ad[illegible]in the San Bernardino. [illegible]After the first hard rainy [illegible]fire line construction will be[illegible]ctively to guard against [illegible]the summer, the rangers [illegible]are paid from $75 to $100 [illegible]have to supply their own [illegible]. All rangers are vol[illegible]ate fire wardens under the [illegible]ester without salary."

IS STRINGENT.

The funeral of Herman W. Hellman, millionaire banker and a leading citizen of the State, who died at his home in this city yesterday morning, will be held at his late residence, Tenth and Hill streets, tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The services will be conducted by Rabbi S. Hecht of the Temple B'nai B'rith. Interment will take place in the Jewish Cemetery.

The pallbearers will be Isidore Fleishman, Adolph Fleishman, Isidore Klingenstein, William Klingenstein, Emil Sloss, William Heilman, M. S. Heilman, Irving Heller, W. H. Holliday and Dr. W. L. Owing to the extensive business connections of Mr. Hellman, the family decided to name no honorary pallbearers, and all friends are invited to attend the obsequies.

Isaias W. Hellman, brother of the deceased banker, was notified on Thursday of the serious condition of his brother's health, and left San Francisco on the Owl train, arriving here yesterday morning.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

The directorate of the Merchants' National Bank yesterday adopted the following resolutions:

Whereas, Herman W. Hellman has been for years president of this bank, and as such has contributed in a large measure to the growth and success of the institution, and in his relations to the officers, employees, and all those with whom he came in contact, has been ever courteous, considerate, generous, a wise counsellor and a true friend, and, whereas, he has been removed by death from the scene of his activities, therefore, be it

Resolved, that in the death of Herman W. Hellman, this bank has lost a most able, conservative, wise and efficient officer, the members of this board a faithful, true, and trustworthy friend, and the community an honored, honorable and patriotic citizen.

Resolved, that we deeply sympathize with the family of Mr. Hellman in their sorrow and bereavement.

Resolved, further, that a copy of this resolution be given to the public press, and a copy thereof be sent to the widow of Mr. Hellman.

WILL HONOR HIS MEMORY.

The Los Angeles Clearinghouse Association will hold a meeting this morning, and will pass resolutions touching the career in this city of their late associate, who had been a resident of Los Angeles for nearly fifty years and connected with the banking business for a large part of that time. It is probable that the association will recommend that each local financial institution appoint a representative to attend the funeral. It has been usual to have a committee appointed by the association to observe this formality on the death of one of the members, but it is now likely that the action indicated will be taken instead.

TRIBUTE OF DIRECTORS.

At a special meeting of the directorate of the Security Savings Bank the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, Herman W. Hellman, for many years a director of this bank, has been called to rest; and, whereas, we desire our records to show the great esteem in which we held him; therefore,

Resolved, that this board deeply feels that in him the bank has lost a long-tried officer, in whom the highest integrity was united with a clear and wide comprehension of his official responsibility. As a citizen, the community in which he lived will lament his death, and individually we mourn him and remember him with affection as a true friend;

Resolved, that we hereby tender our sympathy and condolence to his family, whose loss is far the greatest of all.

Resolved, that these resolutions be spread upon the records of this bank, and a copy of them be sent to the family of the deceased, to the Merchants' National Bank, of which he was the president, and to the press of this city.

CHRYSANTHEMUM SHOW TO OPEN.

GREAT FLORAL EXHIBIT WILL BE GIVEN BY GROWERS.

Southern California Horticultural Society Is Making Arrangements for Display of Thousands of Plants and Rare Blooms in Blanchard Hall. Premiums for Decorative Displays.

The chrysanthemum show to be opened in Blanchard Hall on October 31, continuing three days, promises to be one of the most interesting exhibitions ever held in the West. The Southern California Horticultural Society has been working for months, arranging for the show and interesting florists to exert their best efforts to make the exhibition a memorable one.

There will be a competitive display and also a competitive exhibit in the skill of arranging flowers, bouquets and decorative pieces for dining tables and like efforts. A large orchestra will be in attendance. The show of rare plants and orchids will be well worth the visit of those who appreciate the good climate of California with its productive possibilities.

The following officers of the society have charge of the exhibit: M. Walter Raymond, president; Fred Howard, vice-president; Jacob Dieterich, treasurer; Ernest Braunton, secretary; Henry W. O'Melveny, J. W. Wolters, T. H. Wright, J. C. Morley, E. H. Rust, directors.

A pamphlet describing the classes of flowers to be judged with premiums and prizes may be had on application to the secretary, Mr. Braunton, at No. 115½ South Broadway, or to F. W. Blanchard, at Blanchard Hall.

Growers of chrysanthemums are rivaling with one another in their efforts to produce the most beautiful blooms. The hall will be filled with thousands of flowers and plants to please the eyes of visitors. Besides chrysanthemums there will be an elaborate display of other flowers.

The floriste of this section have kept pace with the great development in other lines and are producing plants and flowers previously unknown. The officers of the society are well known and their efforts in arranging the exhibition assures patrons that the show will surpass any previous exhibit of the kind ever held here.

TWO YEARS OF SCIATICA

Awful Suffering of a Locomotive Engineer.

Patient Permanently Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

After Being Confined to Bed For Months and When Ordinary Remedies Failed to Bring Relief.

Pain that seems almost unbearable is a characteristic of sciatic rheumatism. In some cases the pain is knifelike, sharp or shooting; in others it is dull and aching. In acute cases there is some fever but in the more frequent chronic cases there is little or no heat in the affected part.

Sciatica is stubborn in resisting treatment and the patient frequently suffers for years. This was the case with Mr. Herbert E. Spaulding, a locomotive engineer on the Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific Railway, whose home is at Longview, Texas. Mr. Spaulding endured the agonies of sciatica for two years in spite of all that ordinary remedies could do for him until he tried Dr. William's Pink Pills and was cured.

"While running an engine some years ago," he says, "I fell off and hurt my knee and spine and I have always considered this to be the cause of my illness. The sciatica took hold of me from my heel to the back of my head. The pain was the worst I ever suffered in my life and my leg and back were twisted out of shape. I was under a physician's care for several months and for six months could not get out of bed. I also went to Hot Springs but came back in a worse condition than when I went.

"It was when I was down in bed that I heard of the case of a Mr. Allison, a much older man than myself, who had been cured of sciatica by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I began taking the pills and soon was able to get out of bed. When I had taken six boxes I was able to work about the house and yard. I kept right on with the pills until I was cured and I have never had any return of the trouble. I have been running an engine ever since."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do not simply relieve pain but they cure, and cure permanently, diseases caused by depraved or vitiated blood. They actually make new blood and have therefore a direct and powerful curative effect on such diseases as rheumatism, anaemia, general debility and after-effects of the grip. As their nerves depend upon the blood for nourishment and medication, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are unequaled for the treatment of even the most severe nervous disorders, such as neuralgia, partial parnlysis, St. Vitus' dance and locomotor ataxia. As a tonic for the blood and nerves they are used everywhere with the greatest success, building up wasted bodies and bringing the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists; or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50c per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

BEN WARD CAMPAIGN.

Ben Ward was out in an automobile with Dr. Lamb and Marshall Stimson, battling with the storm on the way to address a political meeting at Sherman.

It was almost pitch dark and the wind was blowing so it was almost impossible to hold the auto in the road. Words shrieked from one to another in the auto were torn into crazy noises. The wind blew with such fury that the candidates were splashed with petroleum dashed from the oil wells passing through the Brea Rancho, near Sherman.

Every once in awhile Ben would gaze placidly out into the thick darkness and say: "I tried to get a man from Colorado Springs to buy that eighty acres once. He would have made—dol—hundred—thous——" and the wind chewed up the rest of his speech.

Once the figure of a man suddenly loomed up in the road. As he jumped for safety and the auto suddenly gave a violent veer to avoid hitting him, Ben yelled out of the darkness of the back seat. "Look out, Doc; don't kill him; he may have a vote."

Several times the wind blew the auto lights out; but at last the auto, after trying to leave the road and run up a railroad track, over the ties, finally draggled into Sherman.

SAILS IN WITH FACTS.

The storm was so fierce that only nine or ten enthusiasts ventured out. Didn't fease Ben any. He stood up in front of the thin row of them with his overcoat collar turned up and sailed into the "push" methods and bossism, driving home sharp-edged facts. Dr. Lamb and Stimson also made vigorous little talks.

The trip back was of slightly milder incident, Ben and the doctor and Stimson pulling up in a blaze of triumph at Faulk's Hall on Washington street.

The political editor of The Times, who was present at the meeting, said it looked like the scenes in Down East plays, where Cousin Cyrus comes in with a sudden gale through the snowstorm—Ward and his comrades were covered from top to toe in thick white dust, their features almost unrecognizable, peering wanly out of the chalky whiteness.

It was nearly midnight before Ben Ward's long day was ended.

DID SHE TRY TO KILL SELF?

Wife Estranged from Husband Is Found Unconscious from Fumes of Chloroform.

Mrs. Mary Smith was found in an unconscious condition in her apartments at No. 703 East Seventh street about 6 o'clock last night. By her side was a bottle of chloroform and a soiled skirt. Prompt action of the police in getting the young woman to the Receiving Hospital undoubtedly saved her life, but the officers are at a loss to know whether she attempted suicide or her condition was the result of an accident.

From some of the officers it was learned that Mrs. Smith is estranged from her husband, and is trying to secure a divorce. It is claimed that Smith still tries to see his wife, and the police are not sure that a meeting between them did not cause the woman to attempt her life.

After being revived at the hospital, Mrs. Smith was questioned. She stated that she was cleaning a soiled garment, and that in the closed room the chloroform overcame her. She said that family troubles were not worrying her, and laughed at the idea of having attempted to take her life. She was released in the evening, and assisted to her home.

Pen Points

The King of Belgium must be a close reader of the Los Angeles newspapers. He has the building mania.

Whether or not it be true that some one sowed the wind, there can be no doubt that Havana has reaped the whirlwind.

The reason so many lawyers go into politics is that lawyers always find it to their interest to be wherever the trouble is.

Political politics is hot enough, heaven knows, but it's icebergs to what's going on inside of the life insurance companies.

Miss Krupp's wedding trousseau was inexpensive, costing only $250. Did she display good taste, or is she just naturally stingy?

We respectfully call the attention of foreign nations to the record being made at target practice by the gunners on our ships of war.

The favorite song of William R Hearst is now said to be that tender and touching old ballad entitled, "Everything Going Out and Nothing Coming In."

Gillet now goes North, and the Republican majority that will follow him on election day will be one of the largest ever given a candidate by Southern California.

As far as known, no steps have yet been taken to enlarge the voting booths in order to accommodate the presence of the extra tickets that are in the running at the present writing.

The effort to place men and women on an equality is gradually forging onward toward success. There are more women tailors and more men dressmakers now than there ever were.

"Why Smith left home" has been explained to the satisfaction of those interested; but why Congressman Smith persists in so grossly misrepresenting the Owens River project still remains to some extent a mystery.

Between the communications he receives from candidates for political offices, and those he gets from candidates for offices in the life insurance companies, the average citizen spends most of his time, these days, reading his mail.

Policy holders in the life insurance companies can vote by mail at a cost of two cents, but candidates for political offices sometimes have a hard time getting a man to vote for less than two dollars.

The average wage per hour has increased nearly twenty-two per cent. in this country in one year, according to the statistics of the United States Bureau of Labor. This is a Republican argument that the Democrats will not try to answer.

A St. Louis woman complained in court that her husband got home "as late as five o'clock in the morning." Five o'clock in the morning is not late. It is early. But a woman wouldn't be a woman if she were not contradictory.

About once in a couple of centuries the Pacific Coast is visited by an earthquake, but four or five times every year the Atlantic Coast is visited by wind quakes that blow the skin off the earth. This place is good enough for us, thank you.

There was a time, at the beginning of things, when instead of signed agreements and sealed bonds, men took each other's words in business deals. But if you will read history you will find that the time was of very short duration.

Jim Hill makes the statement that politics in Minnesota are corrupt. When Jim has found a place where politics are not corrupt, we will consider it a favor if he will drop us a postal card pointing out that particular locality on the map.

When the Democrats of other sections bolt their ticket they do so by calling their candidate a "lobster" or something like that, but Boston Democrats preserve the traditions of "The Hub" by pronouncing the objectionable person as "fundamentally unfit."

In the midst of our great prosperity we must not forget that there are still among us those who are poor and needy, because of the force of circumstances and through no fault of their own. It is still true that sometimes one man lies down to die of dyspepsia beside another man who lies down to die of hunger.

Whoever is to be Chief of Police of this town—in view of the fact that Ascot is about to reopen and that all kinds of thieves and crooks are soon to be dumped upon our backs—he will have his hands full, and is not to be envied. But it may as well be understood now as at any other time that the people will not stand for any kind of Chief of Police except the one who works hard to give the community the protection it is entitled to.

CALIFORNIA MUST LEAD.

A movement has been in progress, for some four months past, having for its object the formation of a league for the promotion of California. By promotion is meant legitimate publicity, founded upon a substantial basis of truth; not wildcat "promotion," founded upon exaggeration, misrepresentation and falsehood. The enterprise is now approaching completion. Success is assured, and very soon the colossal work will be entered upon in earnest.

The funds required to carry out this great enterprise are to be raised entirely by subscription among the leading business men of the State. About half of the amount required has already been pledged, and there is no doubt that the balance will soon be raised, for the movement is steadily gaining momentum. The entire amount realized by subscription is to be used in the work of promotion, by means of well-placed advertisements. Forty per cent. of the funds are to be used for advertising in the leading magazines, 40 per cent. in daily, weekly and agricultural papers, and 20 per cent. in booklets, literature, and other expenses incidental to the office.

Officers of the "League to Promote California" (which should not be confused with the California Promotion Committee of San Francisco) will receive no salary whatever. This organization will be entirely independent of any other in the State. It will not antagonize, but will rather assist, local bodies such as chambers of commerce, boards of trade, county organizations, etc., engaged in the work of informing the world of the great advantages of California, and the unusual inducements which the State holds out to the actual settler.

One of the commendable features of this new promotion enterprise is the fact that it will represent no particular section of the State, but will faithfully represent all sections. Its steadfast purpose will be to promote the interests of California as a whole. This breadth of purpose should and will enlist the coöperation and support of all sections of the State. It is proposed to conduct the enterprise on lines so broad and liberal that there will be no cause for petty jealousy or factional opposition in any part of the State. The main office of the organization will be located in the central section of the State, away from the larger cities, in order that no question of partiality or favoritism may be raised.

No Californian needs to be reminded of the fact that there is a field and a necessity for the "League to Promote California." One of the most important results which it is proposed to accomplish is the refutation of false reports and the correction of false impressions in the Eastern, the Middle, and the Middle Western States regarding the earthquake and fire of April 18 in San Francisco and the region adjacent thereto. But for the great fire, which caused the principal loss, the damage would have been comparatively slight. Many persons in the East, from the circulation of false and exaggerated reports, have gained the impression that the whole of California was affected. This impression has naturally created, in some sections, a prejudice against California, and a suspicion that the whole truth about the disaster of April 18 has not been told. Widespread publicity, based upon the truth, will serve to dispel these prejudices and suspicions, and to show that California "was never more prosperous, never offered bigger rewards for labor or investment, never extended more opportunities, never possessed more charms and diversions for the pleasure-seeker, than she does today."

Article I, section 2 of the bylaws of the organization state concisely its purposes behind the movement, which are: To advertise the State of California in a manner which will help to make it the best-known section of the United States; to induce capitalists, business men, home-seekers, health-seekers and tourists to come to the State; to overcome the bad effects of false impressions regarding the San Francisco disaster; to show the marvelous advantages of the region, its commanding position with respect to oriental commerce, its natural riches, its superb summer and winter climate.

These worthy objects all patriotic residents of California can surely indorse. We cannot afford to be less enterprising than our sister States to the North. Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana are about to join in a great advertising plan for the purpose of attracting population, capital and enterprise. California cannot afford to lag behind in this matter. We must lead, and we will lead; for we yield to no other State in advantages and attractions. It rests with us to let the world know of these advantages and these attractions. In proportion as the world knows the world will lay its priceless tributes at the feet of California.

BUILDING A CANAL.

Of course there are radical differences of opinion as to whether the Panama Canal Commissioners have acted wisely in deciding to have the work performed by contract instead of by the government direct. Much can be said on either side of the question. Taking everything into consideration, the weight of argument appears to be in favor of the contract system.

One of the strong arguments in favor of having the work done under contract is that it can be performed much more rapidly in that way. It is a matter of common knowledge that work done by the Federal government invariably drags. It may be claimed that this delay is needless, but the fact remains that there are no known exceptions to the rule. The machinery of the national government moves slowly, and is subject to all sorts of interruptions, while work done under private contract is usually expedited as much as possible (sometimes too much, it is true,) for obvious reasons. The contractor is anxious to complete the contract and secure his profits. He will use all possible diligence in pushing the work; whereas, if the work is in the hands of government agents, there is no inducement to expedite it, but there is rather a temptation to delay it.

It is important not only that the Panama Canal shall be constructed, but that the work of construction shall be completed in the briefest time consistent with good and thorough workmanship. Time (within a reasonable latitude) should be made "of the essence of the contract," and the contract, once made, should be enforced, making due allowance for unforeseen obstacles. In this way the completion of the great waterway can probably be advanced several years, as compared to the plan of government construction.

It is more than probable that by letting the contract the government will be able to save several million dollars in the cost—for work done by the government is notoriously costly. The government is not in the canal-digging business, and consequently it is not equipped for that kind of work. Some millions of dollars have already been expended by the government in acquiring machinery and equipment at Panama, it is true. But the successful contractor will probably be glad to purchase all that is available of this equipment, on the ground, in preference to paying the cost of transporting other like machinery and materials which would be required to carry on the work. What the government would lose on materials already purchased, would probably be more than made up by the saving which would be effected on the contract.

It is proposed to let the contract to a single responsible concern, which may or may not be an association of contractors dealing with different details of the work. Under this plan the work will not pass from the control of the government, nor will there be any greater opportunities for fraud than would exist if the work were performed under the immediate direction of the government's agents. There will be enough for the latter to do in inspecting the work as it progresses and in keeping account of the various branches of construction, to make sure that the contract is carried out in good faith. It is hardly probable, however, that responsible contractors will be ready to submit bids by December 1, the date set by the commission. The time will probably have to be extended or the work readvertised.

THE COST TO CUBA.

It is of course too early to estimate, even with approximate accuracy, the cost of the present occupation of Cuba by American troops. The question as to how long the occupation is to continue is still indeterminate. It may be for a month longer, and it may be for a year. The work of pacification, whatever time may be required to accomplish it, must be performed with thoroughness—so much thoroughness that it will not have to be done over again. The American occupation will last no longer than is necessary, in any event. The Cubans are certainly no more anxious for the time to come when the American troops can be safely withdrawn from the island—than are the Americans. We are there unwillingly. We regret the necessity which called us there, and the sooner we can get out the better we shall be suited.

As a matter of course, the expense incurred in the preservation of order in Cuba will be paid out of the Cuban treasury (which, by the way, is well filled and able to bear the burden without embarrassment.) The interests which were foremost in asking for American protection are those which pay most of the taxes, and the protection which they have received and are receiving is worth more to them than all the cost. Moreover, the bill of expense will be as light as it can be made, in justice to ourselves and to the Cubans, and there will be little room for disagreement or misunderstanding on the question of its payment.

It has been suggested that in order to make the burden upon Cuba as light as possible during the American occupation, the provisional government might suspend the diplomatic and consular establishment of Cuba during the pendency of the American régime. While this course would effect a considerable saving of expense to Cuba, its expediency is questionable. If the Cuban diplomatic establishment were suspended or destroyed, the provisional government would be obliged to exercise all diplomatic functions literally and confessedly. This would be needlessly humiliating to Cubans of all classes and parties. It would be easy for the provisional government to confer upon all the diplomatic representatives of Cuba the power to continue their functions as if nothing had happened, making their returns to the provisional government as they would have made them to the Palma government if that government had remained in power. Then, when a new Cuban government shall have been elected and installed, the diplomatic service could be revised to conform to the policies and desires of the new government.

The American occupation of Cuba is to be comparatively brief, in any event. Our government is not called upon by the exigencies of the situation to remould the diplomatic service of the insular government, even though the Palma administration has stepped aside, and a temporary government has taken up the reins of power. There is still a government in Cuba, and no very cogent reason is apparent why its diplomatic representatives should not continue to exercise their functions until the change from one elective administration to another shall have been completed. We can probably administer the foreign affairs of Cuba (to the extent that it is incumbent upon us to administer them) as well through the present diplomatic and consular establishment as through any other channel.

INDEPENDENCE AND SERVILITY.

Young Mr. Bell, the Union Labor Party candidate for Governor, as quoted by the Express, can see no virtue in Congressman Gillett's manly act in standing up in the Capitol at Washington, acknowledging his mistake in the Swayne case and changing his vote. Ex-Senator Bard called attention to this illustration of Mr. Gillett's independence in dissenting from other members of his committee and of his party when convinced that they were wrong, and Mr. Bard's letter to The Times dealing with the subject has attracted much favorable comment from independent Republicans. Mr. Bard laid stress on Congressman Gillett's absolute independence and fearlessness and illustrated it by Gillett's action in the Swayne case, quoting from the Congressional Record. Said Mr. Gillett:

"If I made a mistake in the first instance, I now want to stand up and say after the disclosure of all these facts which I have mentioned, that I did Judge Swayne an injustice, and if I have a chance I am going to vote and undo the wrong I did him."

Brave words these, and worthy of a strong, brave man. It is impossible to conceive of such a man being subservient to any corporation or any class or ring. That Mr. Bell should fail to discern merit in such a stand is not surprising. It is not to be expected that independence of character and freedom from pernicious influences or motives should be esteemed by a candidate who has put on the labor-union necklace. Having demonstrated his subserviency to the walking-delegate party and accepted its nomination for Governor, Candidate Bell is not in a position to admire rugged independence. But the voters of Southern California will beg to differ from young Mr. Bell. They like the sort of thing that ex-Senator Bard described, and they don't like the sort of thing that young, talkative and indiscreet Mr. Bell wears around his neck, with the totem stamped on the same.

THE WHITE FLAG OF BROTHERHOOD.

If we will but look through the black pall of pessimism that too often overwhelms us because of the restless devilment of the evil spirits who never cease in their efforts to make the world unhappy, we can see from the mountain tops a signal that promises not only a better day than this, but a better day, by far, than any that has yet come to bless mankind. The signal is the white flag of brotherhood. It is flying in many a place where it has never waved before. It is a fact that men are coming closer and closer together, everywhere.

It is not so long ago that mere differences in the nationalities of men were sufficient to make them enemies. And still more bitterly engendering enmities arose from the differences of religious beliefs that existed. A mountain range or a flowing river between people whom God made alike in form and feature, in heart and hope, set them to regard each other with suspicion and distrust. Two church spires erected in the same village seldom failed to rend that village into factions that fought their ways to wounds and grievous hurts.

But it is passing away—that olden folly. Men are coming together. They are becoming more tolerant. The nations are counting the cost of their foolish wars and blushing for the shame of their unfounded and useless hatreds. The step has been slow in coming, but coming it is, and the day is not far distant when the barriers that kept us apart, the one from the other, shall be thrown down never again to be lifted.

AUTO VERSUS HORSE.

Persons living on a rural free delivery route near Paterson, N. J., have "chipped in" and presented the carrier an automobile in which to make his deliveries. It is explained that his route runs through the mountains and covers a distance of twenty-seven miles. To travel this distance with a horse and make his deliveries required eight hours' time, while he can now cover the same distance and perform the same work in about three hours and three-quarters.

Here is a suggestion which will undoubtedly be taken up in other sections. The advantages of the automobile over the horse for this purpose, and for numerous kindred uses, are so obvious that they need not be enumerated. Few carriers on rural routes are well enough paid at the present time to warrant their maintaining an automobile, but these conditions will no doubt be modified in time, as the regions served by rural free delivery increase in population and importance. It is not difficult to forecast the time when many of the longer and more difficult routes will be regularly served by automobile, to the vast improvement of the postal service.

The world moves; slowly, it appears, at times, and again at a pace that almost takes the breath away. There are seasons of apparent retrogression, but in the long run there is distinct advancement. Electric traction has been a practical reality for only a few years. Men still young can remember the earlier experiments of Edison, in the United States, and of scientific mechanicians in Germany, in the direction of electric power transmission; yet electric traction today is swiftly transforming our civilization. One of its most striking results is the moving of crowded populations out of the busy centers of cities into the freer and purer atmosphere of suburban and country life. This tendency away from the congested centers is a good omen, and it seems destined to gain momentum. The extension of free rural delivery is a distinct help to the movement.

One of the more serious objections to life in the country has been its isolation. Man is a social animal, and he likes the companionship of his kind, under normal conditions. Rural free delivery brings to the isolated dweller in the country the daily paper, with its resumé of the world's news, only a few hours later than it is brought to the dweller in the city. This and the telephone serve to place the dweller in the country in close touch with the world of men and action, thus doing away, in a marked degree, with the isolation and loneliness which formerly characterized life in the country. Now, if we are to have rural free delivery carriers equipped with automobiles instead of slow-going country nags, we have indeed achieved another step forward.

"ALL AMERICA."

PROPOSED AS A NATIONAL ANTHEM.

My country, 'tis of thee,
Sweet land of liberty,
Of thee I sing;
Land where my fathers died;
Land of the Pilgrims' pride
From every mountain side
Let freedom ring.

My native country, thee,
Land of the noble free,
Thy name I love;
I love thy rocks and rills,
The woods and templed hills;
My heart with rapture thrills
Like that above.

I love thy inland seas,
Thy sweet magnolia trees,
Thy palms and pines;
Thy cañons wild and deep,
Thy prairies' boundless sweep,
Thy rocky mountains steep,
Thy matchless mines.

I love thy silvery strands,
Thy Golden Gate that stands
Afront the West;
Thy sweet and crystal air,
Thy sunshine everywhere;
O land beyond compare,
I love thee best.

Then, music swell the breeze,
And ring from all the trees
Sweet freedom's song;
Let mortal tongues awake;
Let all that breathe partake;
Let rocks their silence break,
The sound prolong.

Our father God, to Thee,
Author of liberty,
To Thee we sing;
Long may our land be bright
With freedom's holy light;
Protect us by Thy might,
Great God, our King.

ARMY AND NAVY MEN.

Brig.-Gen. Frederick Funston is expected to arrive at the Presidio today from Washington, D. C.

Maj. Charles E. Wheeler, ordnance department, and Maj. Harry Hale, Thirteenth Infantry, who arrived from Washington, D. C., recently, sailed on the Sherman last week for the Philippines.

The War Department has ordered Maj.-Gen. Greely to assume temporary command of the Department of the Missouri during the absence of Brig.-Gen. T. J. Wint, who is in command of the mobilization and embarkation of troops for Cuba, with headquarters at Newport News, Va. Gen. Greely retains his present duties as commander of the northern division.

Brig.-Gen. Allan Smith, who is enjoying a visit with his son, Lieut. Allan Smith, at Fort Wright, is welcomed in Spokane because of his connection with the labor troubles in the Coeur d'Alene mining district in 1899. The general was placed in command of the troops, relieving Gen. Merriam, who had under his command companies of the First, Fourth and Sixth Cavalry regiments, and was instrumental in putting an end to the strike.

Chief Boatswain's Mate Henry Thompson, U.S.N., retired, who resides in Washington, D. C., is still full of patriotism. At sunrise and sunset each day the American flag is run up on a staff in the yard of his home, while a phonograph in the parlor plays the "Star Spangled Banner." Having raised the flag, Thompson stands at attention until the strains have died away, regardless of the curious stares of his neighbors.

Maj. Eugene F. Ladd, U.S.A., who went to Cuba on leave shortly before the insurrection took form, to look after personal interests in the island, is having about the most strenuous vacation that ever fell to the lot of an army officer. When the critical nature of the situation called Secretary Taft to Havana, he promptly made Maj. Ladd a member of his administrative staff because of the major's executive ability and intimate knowledge of Cuban affairs. Since then Maj. Ladd has had about as much and as many different kinds of work as the most enthusiastic toiler could desire, all of which, it is needless to say, has been performed promptly and in a businesslike way. His latest task, assigned to him on October 9, was to count the gold, some $12,000,000, in the Cuban treasury.

PEOPLE OF THE COAST.

Burgess F. Ford of Portland, Or., has accepted the chair of history of the Montana Wesleyan University and will assume his duties November 1st.

John McGough of Vallejo has received a bequest of $50,000 from English relatives, and the same has already been paid to him. He will give up his position as an employé of the Mare Island navy yard.

A number of the professors of the University of California have formed a combine for the purchase of groceries, clothing, hay, and other articles so as to get the same at minimum prices.

Word has reached San Francisco that Judge A. L. Rhodes, formerly Chief Justice of the State, but now of the Superior bench of Santa Clara county, will resign within a short time. It is stated that the judge, who is 85 years of age, was anxious to resign at once, but he was urged to retain his position until after the election.

The Post Card.

The post card is something that is more blessed to send than to receive.

Post cards are now on sale at every point in the known world. The shirtless and otherwise untutored savages of the inner recesses of Africa are making bestie-nut money selling post cards which show their devotion to decollété.

The unctuously oily Esquiman displays a set of post cards on his window sill to attract the eye, and the money of the explorer. The post cards depict him in the act of turning on the aurora borealis, also they show the belle of Ukmuktukfix daintily partaking of rancid blubber and canned dog.

The proud Patagonian, who never wore clothes, and who thinks an old rug hat and a pair of suspenders is plenty warm enough for his winter weather, has got in the habit of rowing out to ships that are going around the Horn and selling the tourists post cards which illustrate his family life.

Last week a totally new and hitherto unheard of island was bumped into by a steamer crossing the Pacific. Before the ship could back off a crowd of natives of an unclassified tribe came aboard and offered three post cards for a quarter to any buyers.

You cannot go to Paisley's Crossing, O. (Gladstone postoffice,) or to Pigville, Ark., or to New York, or to any of those places without having to dig your way through a layer of post cards before you can get a view of the cigars in the case.

The mail carriers are getting bent and gray in the cities from carrying several hundred weight of the cards each day, and the rural routes are making deliveries half a day late because it takes up too much time for the rural postman to read the cards.

Our best citizens go about the country and they send back to the loved ones at home gay and festive colored cards, showing a red-nosed person waving a stein in one hand and clutching at a lamppost with the other. On the card is printed "You ought to be here." Mother packs her trunk and starts on the next train, only to learn that the card is not a photograph.

In every home there is now a post-card room, and when the joyous traveler returns you have to search through four million cards to find the one he sent from Bombay.

And the world is being cluttered with post-card humorists.

WILBUR NESBIT.

The Dirge.

I hear the thrum of the throbbing drum
As it times the throbbing tune—
Was he sad or glad of the life he had?
Was the hand of death a boon?
God knows.

And the music nears, with its tone of tears,
And its muffled chords of woe—
Was he low or high in his fellows' eye?
Was he man of friend or foe?
God knows.

So I hear them pass, with the moaning
brass,
And the wailing of the reeds—
Of his joy and pain could he count a gain?
Had he profit of his deeds?
God knows.

Now slowly on, and the chords are drawn
To an echoing refrain—
Was he false or true to the friends he knew?
Did he live or die in vain?
God knows.

And the notes they play seem to fade away
To the shadow of a sound—
Is he quits with life? Has he done with strife?
Is he out or homeward bound?
God knows.

"God knows; God knows!" So the trumpet blows
In the slow song of the dirge.
And the meaning strain beats across my brain
And the words and music merge—
"God knows."

Old Man Giddles's Opinion.

An ideal is something you cherish so long as you can talk of it.

When a man dies he is forgotten, unless he so makes his will that there will be a contest over it.

A preacher has a hard time. He is either too old-fogyish or he is too free and easy.

If public opinion was incorporated in many a man's epitaph it would read "Skiddoo."

I have always felt sorry for the Czar until I read that he has an income of ten millions a year.

If a man can't get attention in any other way he will grow a long beard and then shave it off.

One-half the world wonders why a woman isn't jealous of her husband; the other half can't see why on earth she need be.

Very few men hide their light under a bushel without making sure that the bushel will be accidentally upset.

There's a terrible lot of second-hand advice being passed around.

It must be interesting to a child to hear its father tell of his boyish pranks, just after he has whipped it for some mischief. WILBUR NESBIT.

SHRINERS TELL OF JOYS HERE.

Many Thousands Being Spent to Advertise Fiesta.

Every Noble in United States Will Receive Invitation.

Chairman Flint Gives Don'ts on Good Times Coming.

The Los Angeles Shriners have begun the advertising of their great spring celebration. Like everything else they have ever done, it will be on the biggest and most elaborate scale.

A personal letter, a magnificent, illustrated poster, an official programme of events, an elaborately designed return envelope and pretty postal cards will be sent—not to the temples and isolated officers—but to every Shriner in the United States.

This means a tremendous amount of work, and the greatest advertising that any fraternal body has even done in America. It will cost more than $5000 in stationery and postal expenses alone.

Says Mr. Flint, as chairman of the Executive Committee, to the Nobles: "Great was your disappointment, and our sorrow was keen that circumstances arose which rendered it necessary to postpone the meeting of the Imperial Council originally planned to be held in this city, until May, 1907.

"The Executive Committee had worked nearly one full year in the preparation of a splendid entertainment for the visiting Nobles and ladies and contracts aggregating over $50,000 had been entered into. Consequently it was necessary that the night electrical parades and the La Fiesta de las Flores take place the same as if the Imperial Council had been held in this city. The illustrations shown in this programme are a few of the official entries in the electrical and floral parades. For the entertainment next May entirely new details will be arranged, and while our last effort was most beautiful, we promise to far excel it when you are with us to enjoy the magnificence and splendor of our Oriental and Floral pageants.

"Please remember that the entire programme as outlined provides for entertainment entirely free, and that Al Malaikah Temple is eagerly awaiting the opportunity of greeting you in sunny Southern California and giving you a true Arabic welcome."

Pointed "Dont's" abound in Flint's booklet.

"Don't forget to show this programme to your wife and friends.

"Don't forget that coupon books will be issued to every visiting Noble and lady and that a separate coupon will be required and issued for every event.

"Don't forget that Los Angeles has a population of 250,000 and has more hotel accommodations than any city of its size in the world.

"Don't forget that you want to see the entire snow and in making up your itinerary allow sufficient time in Los Angeles to allow Al Malaikah Temple to show you a good time."

The preliminary programme begins Sunday, May 5, in which the arrival of the guests is the main point of consideration.

On the following day Catalina will be visited, and this invasion is expected to be a large one.

Venice Day also will be on Monday, and Kinneytown will show its best attractions to all the visitors.

On the next day the opening sessions of the council will be held at the Scottish Rite Cathedral. In the afternoon a banquet will be served and an excursion to Pasadena will also take place.

Wednesday will be a full day indeed, for there will be a business session of the Imperial Council, exhibition drills of the patrols at Ascot, and daylight fireworks, concluding with electrical parade in the evening and a number of theater parties.

More beach excursions will follow on Friday, with a special display at Long Beach.

Friday will be devoted to the great floral parade, the main event of Fiesta. In the evening the great Shriners' ball will take place in the new Auditorium, which will be completed by that time.

Saturday will be devoted to a Spanish barbecue at San Gabriel.

Flint's postal cards, which he is sending out, call for answers from the Shriners receiving them. The idea is a wise one, so that the number coming may be correctly estimated.

MINING CONGRESS ENDS.

Elects New Officers—One Is from San Francisco and One from Los Angeles.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

DENVER, Oct. 19.—The ninth annual session of the American Mining Congress came to an end this afternoon with the announcement by the directors of the reelection of the old officers as follows: J. H. Richards of Boise, Idaho, president; Thomas Ewing of San Francisco, first vice-president; E. R. Buckley of Rolla, Mo., second vice-president; E. A. Colburn of Colorado Springs, third vice-president; J. F. Callbreath, Jr., of Denver, secretary.

President Richards stated that the Board of Directors had met and organized and had appointed the following committee to raise $50,000 to bring before the Congress of the United States the matter of establishing a national department of mines and mining: John Dern of Utah, Thomas Ewing of California, E. A. Colburn of Colorado, J. W. E. Dorsey of Nebraska and E. R. Buckley of Missouri.

Tonight, a large number of the members of the Congress left for Cripple Creek, where tomorrow will be spent in examining the mines of that district.

W. F. R. Mills of Denver, was elected a director of the American Mining Congress to succeed J. Frank Watson of Portland, Or., whose term expired. Thomas F. Walsh declined for business reasons to become a member of the board at present but announced that probably next year he would be in a position to accept such an appointment. The new board includes J. B. Richards, Boise, Idaho; C. M. Shannon, Clifton, Ariz. and Los Angeles; J. W. Malcolmson, El Paso, Tex., and Thomas Ewing, San Francisco.

The congress voted to hold its meeting next year at Joplin, Mo., the vote being as follows: Joplin, 63; Douglas, Ariz., 22; Goldfield, Nev., 2.

ASK MERCHANTS TO SEE BEATTY.

DIRECTORS OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ISSUE LETTER.

Members Are Earnestly Requested to Visit the New Mining District and Secure Mercantile Benefits Before They Are Taken by the Tradesmen of San Francisco.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday sent the following letter to the members:

The members of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, especially those who are interested in the commercial growth of the city and in the advanced method of doing business, and in new and undeveloped mineral districts, are most urgently requested to take advantage of the privilege offered for visiting the richest mining region in the United States, that tributary to Beatty and Bullfrog, now being opened up and made accessible to Los Angeles through the completion of the railroad to Beatty, constructed and to be operated by the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad.

Communication so direct with a tariff rate favoring Los Angeles, should appeal to every jobber, merchant and mining man as a most desirable trade incentive, and stimulate an interest in the locality sufficient to induce personal investigation, by the proprietor or trusted agent of every wholesale establishment in the city. An extra effort should be made to see that every representative is fully equipped with data calculated to establish trade relations that will be lasting and beneficial.

The advantage that Los Angeles holds just now over San Francisco and Salt Lake lies in the fact that the mileage is less and the tariff lower. While this is true with reference to Beatty and surrounding territory, other roads are now being completed to Bullfrog and Tonopah that will place the merchants of San Francisco on nearly an equal footing. This is an opportune time to start a trade campaign and get a substantial foothold.

The completion of another road to Borax Lake, which we are informed will be in operation inside of six to nine months, gives Los Angeles and her tradesmen the decided advantage over her competitors. This prospective trade should be corralled now, and an extra effort made to hold it after the completion of this road. After being once established it will be hard to divert it to either San Francisco or Salt Lake.

This territory is known to every merchant in the United States, and any effort set forth should result in benefit to the merchant in the locality wherein he has business. Any merchant who desires to reap this benefit should go after this trade, and go after it quick.

The excursion inaugurated by the Salt Lake road to traverse this territory next Sunday should be well patronized by our people. This gives an opportunity of getting in a little "gladhand" work and establishing an acquaintanceship that should be not only mutual, but lasting. First impressions are always the best, and this opportunity should be grasped by those interested in order to make this impression.

We most earnestly urge favorable consideration by the members and trust that a goodly number will visit this mining region, which is gaining more notoriety at the present time than any other in the world. If our people in the East can afford to send emissaries into the territory for trade, it surely warrants us in canvassing the territory, being so much nearer and of easier access.

[Signed] W. J. WASHBURN,
President Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

All members contemplating joining the excursion are requested to notify the Chamber of Commerce by letter or telephone.

NEED CREEL IN CHIHUAHUA.

Consul Francisco Mallen Talks of Mexican Ambassadorship to the United States.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Francisco Mallen, Mexican Consul to El Paso, gave out an interview yesterday in which he declared Gov. Enrique Creel of Chihuahua would not be the next Ambassador from Mexico to the United States. He said: "Gov. Creel stands high with President Diaz and his Cabinet, but he could not afford to leave his immense private interests and his influence, needed in the State of Chihuahua, where he is doing a great work."

It is regarded here as certain that Consul Mallen would not speak unless he had full authority, and his statement probably means that Creel will not be named.

Ten persons are reported to have been injured in a collision between a Long Island Railroad passenger train and a line of empty cars standing near the station at Belmont Park race track, near New York.

FILIPINOS ASK GREATER POWER.

WANT TWO MEMBERS ON ALL PROVINCIAL BOARDS.

Assembly of Governors Recommend Changes in Government Which Would Place Control of Affairs in Native Hands—Matter Is Referred to Washington for Decision.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MANILA, Oct. 19.—A radical change in the system of provincial government is imminent if the Philippine commission approves the recommendation of the assembly of provincial Governors now in session at Manila. The recommendation provides that another member of the provincial board shall be elected instead of appointed. At present the treasurer and school superintendent are appointed. As they must be Americans they constitute a majority of the provincial boards. The provincial Governors want a member elected to replace the school superintendent, thus giving the Filipinos a majority on all the boards.

If Gov.-Gen. Smith and the commissioners approve the recommendation it will practically give the provinces complete autonomy. The matter will probably be referred to Washington.

The Governors also unanimously condemn the road law which requires that work be done on the public roads in lieu of taxes. All fear that the law will be made oppressive the same as the old Spanish law and that it will be badly administered, being in the hands of the municipal presidentes.

The provincial Governors advised the appointment of A. B. Ferguson as member of the Philippine commission and refuse to suggest a Filipino for the place.

RIFLES ASSIST FAITH.

Monks of the Wealthy Monastery of San Spirito in Sicily Repulse Robbers at Midnight.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ROME, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Brigands at night attacked the monastery of San Spirito, which is reputed one of the wealthiest in Sicily. They found to their surprise that the monks had other arms than those of faith.

The robbers began to make a breach in the garden wall of the monastery at midnight. The noise alarmed the monks, who hurried to the place, armed with rifles. They fired at the brigands, who replied, and sharp fusillades were exchanged.

The superior of the monastery, who was not armed, took a prominent place, and, with crucifix in his hand, alternately recited prayers and directed the defense.

What the result of the fight would have been cannot be said, but the sacristan went to the belfry and rang the alarm bell. The unwonted clangor had the effect anticipated. Hundreds of peasants came running to help, and the brigands fled, dodging the villagers.

None of the monks was wounded. This is ascribed by them to the special protection of the Holy Spirit, to whom the monastery is dedicated.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

At Flagstaff early Saturday morning an attempt was made to assassinate Henry M. Ashurst, Democratic candidate for District Attorney of Coconino county. He was lying in bed, reading, when a bullet crashed through the window and the bedding itself and into the wall just above his head. Ashurst rushed to the door, but was unable to find any trace of the would-be assassin. The District Attorney has made a number of enemies through his prosecution of the Bright Angel Trail litigation against R. H. Cameron, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, which, on behalf of the county, has leased the Bright Angel Trail, without financial return, to the county. Cameron, on the other hand, has charged Ashurst with merely being an attorney for the Santa Fé Railroad Company.

FEDERAL JURY MEETS.

The United States Grand Jury for the Third Arizona District is now in session at Phoenix. It is understood that witnesses are being summoned who have knowledge respecting the alleged meat trust in Phoenix. Dist.-Atty. Alexander has announced that he will prosecute with all energy any local trusts whose existence can be established. It is denied that the jury is to be held in session till after election, but it is understood that there may be a special session of the jury called to consider the cases of any persons charged with election frauds. Ordinarily this class of offenders has been handled as misdemeanors by the Territorial courts, but it is proposed this year to throw the cases under the United States statutes, which treat them as felonies. This may assure the suppression of election fraud.

Globe's new City Council has elected William S. Sultan as Mayor.

The Secretary of the Interior has approved an agreement to purchase a part of the old farmers' levee along the Colorado River at Yuma, at a stipulated price of $1425. The levee will be extended and made a part of the Yuma irrigation system.

John Hogan, a San Pedro, Cal., lawyer, who had been in this city for several weeks, died yesterday of consumption at a local lodging-house. He had made two attempts to end his life by means of a revolver, with little damage to himself, excepting the excitement that possibly hurried forward demise that was due to come within a few days.

BURGLAR STEALS DOG, ALSO BARK.

ROBS HOUSE AND THEN GETS AWAY WITH GREYHOUND.

Four House-breaking Offenses Are Committed in City During Thursday Night in Which Thieves Get Gems and Coin—One Home Looted a Month Ago Is Again Entered.

After robbing the home of W. E Hetrick at No. 1374 South Figueroa street Thursday night of $37.75, a burglar attempted to leave the house, and finding that a barking greyhound was barring his path of escape, he seized the dog and took it with him, bark and all. Hetrick reported the robbery to the police yesterday.

Since the numerous reports of burglaries became known, Hetrick has allowed his pet dog, "Queenie," to run about the house during the night. The thief evidently had succeeded in entering the house unnoticed by the dog. When Hetrick awakened and discovered the loss of his money he soon found that the dog was gone, too.

A burglar entered the home of C. B. Elberson at No. 1362 South Flower street about a month ago and secured $26. Thursday the Elberson home was again robbed, the burglar securing gems and some money.

Fritz Odmar of No. 741 West Seventeenth street reported to the police yesterday that a burglar entered his home Thursday night and stole $52.50 and a silver watch. The thief got in through a side window and ransacked the house without being discovered.

R. B. Wallace of No. 1045 West Washington street arose yesterday morning and found that his home had been robbed during the night, and that a valuable gold watch and a small amount of money had been taken. Wallace reported his loss to the police.

OCCIDENTAL NOTES.

Three New Names Added to the Faculty—President Baer Ill from Overwork.

President Baer of Occidental College has been indisposed for several days, and was compelled to cancel several engagements in the northern part of the State, and to drop his college duties for the time being. He was scheduled to speak at Oakland on Wednesday night, and three times at the synod of California in San Rafael yesterday. The nervous strain consequent upon his taking up the duties of president of the college, the pressure of outside engagements and the preparations for the inauguration on next Friday, has been very great, but Dr. Baer will probably be fully recovered by Monday.

Three new members have been added to the faculty. L. H. Wescott has been engaged as instructor in mechanical drawing; Miss Amy P. Gordon, who has been professor of English for two years, will be assistant Bible professor; Miss Jeannette Thomson of University of California, will occupy the Spanish chair, Prof. Behnke hereafter devoting his entire time to the German classes.

DEATH OF PIONEER.

He First Drove an Ox Team to California More Than Half a Century Ago.

Thomas Edwards, who first came to California driving an ox team, in 1852, died at his home, No. 275 North Belmont avenue, at the age of 81 years.

The deceased was a native of England but prior to coming to this Coast he was a resident of Wisconsin, to which State he returned in 1852, and lived on a farm. In 1872 he came back to California and has lived here ever since, first going to Orange county, from whence he removed to this city in 1881. His first wife died in 1888, and his second wife survives him, and also two sons, W. H. and M. J. Edwards. The deceased was a member of the Presbyterian Church, having been active at the time of the building of the First Presbyterian Church, on the corner of Second and Broadway, afterwards removed to Twentieth and Figueroa streets, and at the time of his death he was a member of the Central Church.

TWO IRON WORKERS INJURED.

C. W. Steele, an iron worker of No. 1907 East Main street, fell from the second story of the O. T. Johnson building at Fourth street and Broadway yesterday and sustained a badly-lacerated face and severe internal injuries. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital, and later was removed to his home. While working on the structural steel frame of a new building at Sixth street and Broadway, yesterday, Ira F. Kener of No. 307 North Pritchard street fell fifteen feet and sustained two fractured ribs and internal injuries. Workmen removed him to the lower floor and he was taken to the Receiving Hospital. It is believed he will recover.

MACHINIST MAY BE INSANE.

L. Pontey was arrested at the Advance Machine Company works at No. 128 South San Pedro street yesterday on a charge of insanity. Pontey was discharged some time ago and lately has been frequenting the shop and acting queerly.

AVALON FIGHT ON BULKHEAD.

Protests Are Heard by the Government Engineer.

Objectors Make Arguments Against Project.

Banning Company's Side Yet to Be Presented.

Stubborn opposition to the Banning company's plan for the establishment of a bulkhead at Avalon, Catalina Island, developed yesterday at a meeting held in the United States Engineer's office, before Capt. Amos A. Fries.

Three protests were filed, each signed by forty or more property owners on the island: M. H. Hunt, Jr., who owns an important corner across the street from the Metropole Hotel, registered complaint; the Avalon Hotel Association put in an oar, and Attorney Meserve voiced the purpose of the combined opposition in a heated argument.

The Secretary of War is asked by the Banning company for permission to build a bulkhead extending 120 feet from and parallel with the shore edge of the main avenue of Avalon for a distance of 2500 feet, practically the entire frontage of Avalon. The company desires to fill in the intervening space and use it for private purposes. They ask for this permit on the ground that they own all of the shore line property.

SHORE LINE CONTROVERSY.

Meserve claimed that the Banning company does not own the shore line and that when the main street of Avalon's frontage was laid out it extended to the high water line, which constituted the street a part of the city and places the ownership of the shore line with the city.

The protestants further assert that the Banning company is making application simply to get absolute control of Avalon, thereby divesting the property owners of the city of their rights. One petition, signed by thirty-five women, charges that if the permit be granted, the harbor view of property owners will be interfered with and in some cases will be entirely taken away and that the beach playground for children and citizens will be obliterated.

The hotel association points out that at present boats may be pulled high and dry on the beach and that if the bulkhead is constructed the property owners would have no place to harbor their boats without paying tribute to the Banning company and that great danger to shipping, especially in winter, would result. This claim is said to be important, as it reaches to the very foundation of the matter; namely, that if it can be proved that shipping is to be interfered with there is little likelihood of the permit being granted.

PROTEST ON WHARVES.

One protest asserts that the Banning company has erected wharves and a small bulkhead without applying for a permit from the Secretary of War and it is asked that if such be the case the wharves and bulkhead be removed by the government. It is claimed on the other hand that the permit for the wharf was not deemed necessary.

No representative of the Banning interests was present at the meeting and after it was all over a telephone message carried the information that the matter had been overlooked and that the company would like another meeting called at which their side of the case might be presented.

Capt. Fries already had decided not to close proceedings and will not send the papers in the controversy to Washington until next Friday. In the meantime, the Banning company will make answer to the protests filed yesterday and against other protests which it is understood are to be presented.

ENDEAVORERS IN INSTITUTE.

TALK BY DISTRICT ATTORNEY THIS AFTERNOON.

Los Angeles Boy Becomes Unitarian Minister in Massachusetts. Methodist Congregations Greet Their New Pastors—General News of Local Religious Field.

The Christian Endeavor Institute opened last night in the First Congregational Church. The convention sermon was delivered by Rev. F. M. Dowling of Pasadena, who gave an eloquent discourse on the topic: "The Master of Men and the Men He has Mastered." There was fine chorus singing under the direction of John Brower, and a consecration service, led by Rev. T. C. Horton. This morning's session will open at 9 o'clock, and the entire forenoon will be devoted to a number of conferences on various phases of the work. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon, Capt. J. D. Freedricks, District-Attorney for Los Angeles county, will deliver an address on "Christian Citizenship." At 4 o'clock, William Shaw of Boston will make his first appearance, and will lead a conference on "Society Problems." At 5:45 a banquet will be held, with Rev. A. S. Phelps as toastmaster, and John Willis Baer, William Shaw and Rev. F. M. Dowling as speakers. In the evening the address will be by Mr. Shaw.

LOS ANGELES BOY THERE.

Rev. A. Bertrand Thompson, formerly of this city, and a graduate of the Los Angeles High School and the University of Southern California, was yesterday ordained to the ministry in the Unitarian Church and installed as pastor of the congregation at Peabody, Mass. He first began his work as an associate of B. F. Mills, in connection with the Los Angeles Fellowship.

The Church of the Unity will give a secred concert on Sunday evening in the form of a "Song Cycle," by Charles Bowes, who will sing all the solos in "Eiliand," the programme being opened and closed with numbers by the quartette choir. "Eiliand" is said to be a most interesting example of this essentially modern type of composition.

METHODIST GREETINGS.

The congregation of the Union-avenue Methodist Church gave a reception on Thursday night, in honor of their new pastor, Rev. Will A. Knighten. The church was handsomely decorated and there was a fine musical programme, besides an address of welcome and a response by the pastor. A beautiful feature was the welcome on behalf of the Junior League, which was sung by fifteen little girls in white, who, as they filed off the platform, shook hands with Mr. Knighten, as a part of their greeting.

St. James Methodist Church last night tendered a reception to Rev. Robert S. Fisher. The church was crowded and it was an occasion of great cordiality. Judge Waldo M. York voiced the welcome of the community; P. W. Powers for the church, P. F. Johnson for the Sunday-school, Mrs. E. R. Caldwell for the Ladies' Aid Society, and Harry Tenniston for the Epworth League. Mr. Fisher made a happy response.

Rev. William Francis Ireland of New York, the former actor, will commence revival services in Trinity Congregational Church, Thirty-sixth and San Julian streets, on Sunday night. Dr. Ireland is an eloquent preacher and is well worth hearing.

Rev. William Horace Day, who is now in China, must have had a "hunch" some time yesterday that he was unable to explain. The official board of the First Congregational Church of this city added $1000 to his salary.

Rev. E. H. Emmett, a speaker of marked ability, will address the men's meeting at the Y.M.C.A. on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. All men and particularly strangers are invited to these meetings. There will be good music.

The First United Brethren Church, which has been closed for repairs, has been completed and will be re-opened on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Miss Mary C. Cunningham will be the speaker at the vesper service at the Young Women's Christian Association, at 4 o'clock tomorrow. Miss Jennie Jones will render a clarionet solo and Miss Gertrude Jones will sing.

"LIFE OF CHRIST" LECTURE.

Rev. Harry W. White, pastor of the Methodist Church at Covina, delivered the second of a series of lectures on "The Life of Christ" in the assembly-room of the Young Women's Christian Association, Third and Hill streets, last night. Stereopticon views of the Holy Land were shown.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

How the Other Half Lives.

Dr. Titian Coffey gave pause to the members and friends of the Friday Morning Club yesterday. He told them how the other half lives in Los Angeles. He showed, with word pictures and with horrifying statistics, the slums that are already fastened upon this city where beauty, light, freshness and wholesome living should be the God-given right of every man.

Dr. Coffey and Miss Elizabeth Kenney, the two speakers of the morning, are both members of the Housing Committee appointed last year by the Mayor, and no one hearing Dr. Coffey's forceful address, eloquent with the stark facts, that the commission is facing, could withhold aid, practical and personal, to this work.

He spoke of the crying need of new ordinances for inspection, for building, and for sanitation, and the necessity of increasing the powers of the health officer that he may have the right to destroy the menaces to public health found in the miserable lodging-houses and the wretched peon courts.

Dr. Coffey brought home to his hearers in no uncertain fashion the supreme importance of immediate action in changing and bettering conditions that now exist and in planning for the future so that we shall be spared the monster slum problems that confront so many large cities in America. "We must act in the present," said he, "that these conditions of filth, squalor and misery unspeakable may not be irrevocably engrafted upon the city."

Miss Kenney, in a brief paper, called the attention of the club to a number of the city's neglected ordinances. She left the larger part of the programme to Dr. Coffey, saying that her heart was in the work which he would present.

"I am like the small boy in his earliest ambition," said Miss Kenney, "for I should like to be a policeman to see if it really is practically impossible to enforce the ordinances that we have upon the statute books."

She attributed the lack of enforcement not to the unwillingness of the police officer, but to the pressure brought to bear through political considerations. "His salary and the support of his wife and children are bound to be dearer to him than the consideration of the general good," said the speaker.

Following are some of the existing conditions mentioned by Miss Kenney as violations of the ordinances of the city:

Tobacco sold to first, second and third-grade school children, one little Mexican even boasting of having begun to smoke at the advanced age of 2 years.

Unsprinkled railway tracks, and unsprinkled spaces between railway tracks.

Bill boards rising over ten feet high. Bill boards and lurid and melodramatic theatrical posters whose presence reveals a peculiar construction on the part of law enforcers as to what constitutes "lewd, obscene, and licentious posters."

Pepper boughs overhanging the sidewalks, raking the women's hats. Untrimmed palms and plants causing discomfort to the passers-by. The presence of weed-grown public walks in front of vacant lots, and the dumping of rubbish into depressions about the city. Right here the speaker advised that women be appointed unpaid, volunteer tree wardens, and wardens for other branches of municipal housekeeping.

The lack of numbers, two inches high, upon buildings. The flagrant violation of the expectorating ordinance, for which a fine of $25 may be imposed according to law. "I wish we had $25 for every violation of this ordinance," said Miss Kenney; "we could then pay for every need that might arise in the city."

Last of all, Miss Kenney dealt with the violation of the ordinance prohibiting persons under 20 years of age from entering or being sent to any saloon, billiard room, poolroom, house of ill fame or any other questionable resort, enumerated in the ordinance.

This ordinance, the speaker said, is almost a dead letter as far as enforcement is concerned, and the fearful boy problem that Los Angeles has to face is the pathetic result.

Audubon Society.

The Audubon Society will meet this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. William R. Myers at No. 306 North Avenue 66 in Garvanza. Miss Mary Mann Miller, daughter of the noted writer of bird life, Mrs. Olive Thorne Miller, and herself a student of the feathered denizens of the air, will talk to the members and the friends. The club expects to go out into the Arroyo Seco later in the season to do field work in connection with their regular studies and researches.

Ebell Department Work.

The Department of Art and Travel held its regular fortnightly meeting Thursday, with Mrs. O. O. Witherbee as curator, and Miss Alice Mitton, instructor. "The Venetian Painters of the High Renaissance" was the subject of study. Miss Mitton gave a prefatory talk on Venice and its art treasures, followed by a paper on "Titian," by Mrs. H. M. Mall, and "The Story of Calisto," by Mrs. L. J. Keese. "The Story of St. Christopher" was told in connection with Titian's well-known painting, and a paper on "Veronese, the Last Great Master Before the Decline of Italian Art," by Mrs. F. N. Wilkinson, completed the morning's programme.

A large number of women availed themselves of the opportunity for parliamentary drill at the first meeting of the Section of Parliamentary Law, Monday. Mrs. J. A. Clark is curator and Mrs. J. A. Osgood instructor of this section.

ANNEXATION ELECTION.

City-County Consolidation Commission Takes Steps for Active Campaign to Create Sentiment.

The City-County Consolidation Commission met last night and took steps to open a vigorous campaign for carrying through the annexation of a strip to San Pedro and the harbor front. Chairman S. A. Butler presided at the meeting of the committee and was authorized to appoint a committee of five to begin active work at once, which committee he will announce, probably, today.

The Harbor Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, having done the preliminary work of securing signatures to the petition and seeing the ordinance passed calling a special election for November 12, last night turned the work back to the commission, expressing the understanding that "the commission will immediately take hold of the campaign necessary for the final accomplishment of annexation."

The territory involved in the annexation is thus described in the language of the Harbor Committee:

"A parallelogram of about eight square miles in area, at the southwest half of the city, with a half-mile strip running thence between Vermont avenue and Figueroa street, to just beyond Gardena; thence across Vermont avenue and proceeding one-half mile wide, to and along the easterly boundary of Wilmington, and touching the north boundary of San Pedro."

But three weeks remain in which to make the campaign, and the expression by different members of the commission last night was that it will be pushed with vigor. A complete canvass of the half-mile strip between the two cities will be made, meetings will be held in advocacy of the annexation, and no stone will be left unturned to accomplish the desirable end.

FINE IS $108,000.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Judge Holt in the United States Circuit Court, imposed a fine of $108,000 on the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad for granting rebates to Lowell M. Palmer, who has charge of transportation for the American Sugar Refining Company. There were six counts and a fine of $17,000 was imposed in each.

Frederick L. Pomeroy, assistant traffic manager of the New York Central, was fined $1000 on each count, a total of $6000. Judge Holt criticised the practices of the railroad.

Ridgway's

A Real Stroke

You can learn to swim in two ways. You can go down and stick your toes into the cold water and scream, or you can jump off the dock into deep water. Ridgway's chose the latter. We jumped off a high dock into deep water and—a little chilly. On our first number we went clear down out of sight and when we came up we had to be pulled ashore in a row-boat. On our second number we didn't need the row-boat, but we did a heap of spluttering and splashing. On this third number we believe you will discover something that looks almost like a stroke in our swimming. Read it through and see if you don't think we are making some progress.

LINDSAY DENISON, one of our editors, after a consultation with President Hadley of Yale, has written an interesting article on "Social Ostracism as a Curb on Trust Wrongdoers." In January, 1900, Mr. Hadley advocated the social boycott as the best means for stopping the misuse of the Trust power by Trust and Insurance directors. Mr. Hadley was ridiculed for his suggestion. Since then public opinion has changed from condemnation to endorsement.

GEORGE W. OGDEN contributes a Western story entitled "A Doctored Edition." It is full of incident with a woman's wit and intuition called into play.

GELETT BURGESS has gathered a great assortment of humor for this week. His own contribution, a droll Bab ballad, is happily illustrated by Oliver Hereford.

SIXTEEN PAGES OF ILLUSTRATIONS are printed on super paper, depicting local and national scenes and incidents in Business, Politics, Finance, Sports and Society.

BANKERS IN EXCITEMENT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 19.—The American Bankers' Association adjourned today. The convention adopted a resolution to refer the consideration and formulation of a currency reform plan to a committee to be appointed by the Executive Council, which shall confer with the New York Chamber of Commerce Committee and submit a plan for enactment into law by Congress.

The assembly listened to the report of the Banking Legislative Committee, read by Chairman Arthur Reynolds, president of the Des Moines National Bank, introducing the currency subject and setting forth the plan formulated by the committee for a monitor currency clearance. The plan comprised ten sections, and Chairman Reynolds stated that it was prepared with consideration as to the condition of the country, its necessity, the temperament of the people and the best interests of the citizens as a whole, aiming to protect the interests of the humblest citizens, as well as those of the wealthy.

The moment the reading of the committee's report was concluded the convention was in an uproar. Resolutions were offered to adopt the report as a whole, another to refer it back to the Legislative Council without recommendation, another to consider the sections seriatim, and all the while the delegates were wildly clamoring to discuss the subject, and give expression to individually formulated plans. An hour's discussion was finally agreed upon, and the discussion was without definite conclusion.

At the expiration of the time limit a resolution to refer the report of the Legislative Council to a special committee was adopted, and ended the matter.

PLAN PROPOSED.

The plan for a credit or clearance currency proposed by the Bank Legislative Commission is as follows:

First, That a currency committee of seven members be appointed by the president and confirmed by the Senate; this commission to be non-partisan, and the Comptroller of the Currency to be a member.

Second, That a credit or clearance currency may be issued by any national bank or a majority of the national banks of any city upon application to the commission, in any amount not to exceed 50 per cent. of its said secured circulation outstanding.

Third, That the necessity for a credit or clearance currency and the maximum time that it may remain outstanding shall be determined by the commission.

Fourth, That the banks issuing credit or clearance currency must pay a tax during the time fixed by the commission for its redemption at not less than 5 per cent. per annum.

Fifth, The tax on the clearance circulation, after deducting the expenses of the commission and the management of this department, shall be deposited with the treasury of the United States as a fund known as "Bank credit and circulation fund," until this fund equals 5 per cent. of the bond secured national bank circulation outstanding.

Sixth, Before any bank can issue credit or clearance currency, it must deposit with the Treasury Department or depositaries to be designated by the commission, approved securities of the bank as passed upon by the Comptroller of the Currency's department, to an amount of at least 10 per cent. in excess of circulation to be issued.

Seventh, The credit or clearance currency shall be retired gradually at such times and in such manner as directed by the commission by depositing funds with the Treasury Department or at such depositaries as the commission may designate.

Eighth, The credit or clearance currency notes to be printed and an amount to be kept ready for emergency distribution by the government, equal in amount to 25 per cent. of the bond-secured circulation outstanding. Said notes to be acceptable in the payment of all obligations, the same as bond-secured bank circulation, and redeemable at any subtreasury or designated depository.

Ninth, The notes shall be issued in denominations of $5, $10, $20, $50 and $100 as desired, the expense of printing and engraving to be paid by the banks taking them out.

Tenth, There shall be nothing on the notes designating the name or the number of the bank issuing them, but each shall be numbered and registered in the Treasury Department and the commission, so that they may be able at all times the amount of such notes any bank has outstanding.

SCHOOL FOR YOUNG MEN.

Joseph F. Johnson, dean of New York University School of Commerce, in an address, urged the necessity of the establishment of a commercial school, that young men may be given a business education along educational lines. The report of the Bank Executive Committee presenting a plan recommended for credit or clearance currency was taken up as a special order of business. The report was read by Arthur Reynolds, president of the National Bank of Des Moines, chairman of the committee.

G. Vaughan, president of the National Bank of Cuba, at Havana, addressed the convention on "Banking in Cuba."

The following officers were elected: President, G. S. Whitson, vice-president of the National City Bank, New York; first vice-president, J. C. Powers, Citizens' State Bank, Henderson, Ky.; members of the executive council to represent the state associations, P. O. Waters, Nashville, Tenn.; Clay H. Hollister, Grand Rapids; E. C. Chandler, Wichita, Kans.; Frederick Kastel, Milwaukee, Wis.; Chamberlain, San Antonio, Tex.; Members of the Executive Committee at large, J. A. Lewis, St. Louis; J. H. Curtis, Boston; D. A. Culver, St. Louis; J. K. Otillay, Atlanta, Ga.; F. Tenney, Pawnee City, Neb. Members of the executive council to represent sections: trust section, F. J. Wade, St. Louis; P. S. STANDARD OIL TAKES STEPS FOR APPEAL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The legal department of the Standard Oil Company has given out the following statement:

"The verdict in Findlay against the Standard Oil Company carries with it a single fine of from $50 to $3000, which is the maximum, according to the law, under the information on which the suit was brought. The defendant lawyers in the case are taking immediate steps for appeal, which, before final adjudication, may pass through three courts, namely, the Court of Common Pleas, the Circuit Court, and the Supreme Court of Ohio. They feel confident of securing a reversal on manifold errors in the trial just concluded.

FINDLAY, Oct. 19.—The Standard Oil Company of Ohio has given notice that it will file a motion for a new trial. Under the practice of the court, the defendant has three days to put this motion in form. The next step will be for the court to impose the penalty. The defense will then take their bill of exception to such rulings of Judge Banker as they objected to to the Circuit Court of the State. The appeal from this court is to the Supreme Court of the State, by which tribunal there is no doubt the issue will ultimately be decided.

NEW PROCEDURE.

To the State, the suit, the verdict and the ultimate appeal is important, particularly because it initiates an entirely new method of proceeding against allied trade monopolies—that is, by information and affidavit, instead of by grand jury indictment.

The verdict was rendered at 4:30 o'clock this morning and resulted from a continuous deliberation by the jury during thirty-two consecutive hours. The trial occupied seven days preceding this deliberation.

When the case went to the jury at 5:30 o'clock Wednesday night, the first ballot of the jurors stood nine for conviction and three for acquittal. As the result of continuous deliberations to 4 o'clock Thursday morning one of the three for acquittal joined the majority. At 7 o'clock Thursday night, one of the two remaining for acquittal went over to the other side and at 4 o'clock this morning the last of the three gave his consent to the verdict of "guilty."

TOUCH OF DRAMATIC.

A touch of the dramatic marked the closing hours of the jury's deliberations. Hymns were sung during all but ten minutes of this time. This ten minutes came at the end and was occupied by the remaining juror, who had stood out, in explaining his position and surrender to the majority.

There was not the slightest levity about this hymnal service. The jurors had then been many hours without sleep. The songs, which were started shortly after 2 o'clock in the morning by about three voices, echoed at first feebly through the spacious Courthouse. After one familiar hymn after another was sung, it was evident that the spirit of fraternalism was gaining headway in the small chamber in which the twelve men were locked. The number of voices increased and the hymns gained in volume and enthusiasm. Then "Home, Sweet Home" was sung, the national anthem followed, then more hymns.

Laughter was heard between the limited pauses. It bore no tone of derision, but of cordiality. A few minutes later came the announcement that the jury had reached an agreement, and Judge Banker was hastily summoned.

After the verdict had been read, Attorney Troup stepped up to the bar of the court, as the jury was leaving the box, and said he wished to make the motion for a new trial in the case. He was assured by the court that the motion would be entertained, whereupon he returned to his hotel. The court at once adjourned.

After deliberating thirty-two hours, the jury in the case of the State of Ohio against the Standard Oil Company of Ohio returned a verdict of "guilty" on the charge of conspiracy against trade in violation of the Valentine anti-trust law. The verdict was rendered exactly at 4 o'clock. The court and attorneys arrived in a half hour, when the verdict was rendered.

When the jury came in and had taken its place in the jury box Judge Banker said: "Gentlemen, have you agreed upon a verdict?"

"Your Honor, we have," responded Foreman Bailes.

"What is the verdict?"

To this the foreman sent for the typewritten form which had been filled out, and the court read it as follows:

"We, the jury in this case, find the defendant guilty in the manner and form as the defendant stands charged on the information.

[Signed]

"A. L. BAILES, Foreman."

There was not a spectator in the room, aside from Attorney Troup for the defendant and Prosecuting Attorney David and several newspaper men, and no demonstration resulted from reading the verdict.

"Do you want the jury polled?" queried the court of Troup.

"That is not necessary," was the answer.

The court, then addressing the jury, said: "Gentlemen, you deserve all the credit and thanks which are due you for your patience and close attention to this case, and I want to thank you, and in a word I express all there is in it and I can express. You may now be discharged and go to your homes."

As the jury was leaving the room, Troup stepped up to the court and said he wished to make the motion for a new trial of the case. Judge Banker assured him that all such motions would be entertained as a matter of course. The court at once adjourned, and five minutes after the verdict had been rendered the building was dark and deserted.

Prosecutor David stated that he would take no action in the case against John D. Rockefeller until the Supreme Court passes upon the jurisdiction of the Standard cases.

WOMAN

"Woman" is the name of a new magazine for women. The first number is just issued. Your newsdealer has it. You can get it from him, and it is worth your while getting it. There is nothing startling about this magazine. There should be nothing startling about a decent magazine for women and the home. But this particular magazine is unique among all the so-called publications for women. You might not like it a little bit, and then, again, it might hit your fancy good and hard.

If you like fiction—good, wide-awake, snappy stories—both serials and short stories—you will like "Woman."

In fact, fiction is the big feature of the magazine.

All the other magazines for women are cast on the same model—a little bit of fiction, a few articles, more or less chit chat, some wise advice, a fashion department and a smattering of general miscellany. "WOMAN" doesn't look any more like this conventional model than a yellow dog looks like a race horse. It is built on new lines for a strictly woman's publication. To know what it is like you will have to get a copy of it. It would cost too much to tell you all about it in this advertisement.

The price of "WOMAN" is TEN CENTS A COPY, and the magazine is a very big one—192 pages.

By the way, two rattling good serial stories begin in this first number and it contains a big lot of other good things. You would do well to ask your dealer for it before his supply is exhausted.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

SAY THEY STOLE BOTTLED TALK.

TALKING MACHINE THIEVES CONFESS IN PASADENA.

Admit to the Police That They Took a Phonograph and a Lot of Records Belonging to the Independent Order of Foresters—Likely to Settle Elm Street Grade.

Office of The Times, No. 24 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, Oct. 19.—W. Grover Lewis and Albert Middleton were arrested this afternoon by Detective Copping, charged with grand larceny. The men are accused of having stolen a phonograph and a quantity of records from the Broadway Saddle Livery. The stolen goods have been recovered and are in the possession of the police.

The stolen property belongs to the Independent Order of Foresters. When the order moved out of its old building a large part of the lodge furnishings were stored in the barn of the livery company until the new rooms should be ready for occupancy. Night before last the phonograph was missed and the police were at once notified of the fact. Detective Copping was detailed on the case.

None of the employés of the stables were able to give any clews which would throw light on the matter, but later one of them remembered seeing Lewis around the place the day before the theft occurred. Copping went to Lewis's house and made a search which resulted in finding the stolen property hidden there. Lewis implicated Middleton and the latter was at once placed under arrest. When confronted with the evidence of their crime the men both confessed. Their bonds were fixed at $500 each and, neither of them having the money, they were taken in to the County Jail to await trial.

Lewis lives at No. 119 Waverley Drive, while Middleton lives in North Pasadena. Both are young men and have never been in trouble before, but the police claim to have a clear case against them.

THE ELM STREET GRADE.

On Monday morning another attempt will be made to bring order out of chaos in the Elm-street grade dispute. At 10 o'clock on that day a meeting will be held at which the officials of the Santa Fé Railroad, the committee from the Council and a deputation of property owners will be present. A strong effort will be made to reach some agreement at that time, as the city officials and the land owners are anxious to have the matter settled.

When the original grade for Elm street was announced there was an immediate protest from the property owners, who claimed that it would interfere with the trees along the sides of the street. The matter was taken up with the Council and finally the demands of the protestants were granted. No sooner was the new grade announced than the officials of the Santa Fé company came into the argument and complained that the changing of the grade would mean the outlay of several hundred dollars to them.

One of the fine points which will have to be decided is whether or not the railway company can be considered in the light of a property owner. The officials of the company claim that their right of way should be considered such, while the other residents of the street take a different view.

The members of the three committees will thoroughly canvass the situation and a visit to the disputed locality will probably be made. The legal points involved will be thoroughly investigated and a definite decision will probably be arrived at before the day is done.

WILLING TO MAKE AMEND.

Manuel Lopez, the young Mexican charged with statutory rape in having cohabited with Ceddelia Ramirez, a Mexican girl only 14 years old, was arraigned this morning and the date of his examination fixed for October 22. His bail was fixed at $1000 and, in default of the money, he was taken to the County Jail in Los Angeles to await trial.

Lopez's friends hope that it may prove possible to come to some compromise and an effort will be made to patch the matter up. The girl wants to remain with Lopez and is anxious to marry him. Lopez willingly agrees to such an arrangement, but Senora Lopez, the mother of the girl, has so far refused to sanction such an arrangement. Another conference will be held tomorrow, however, and it is confidently expected that some agreement will be reached whereby the prosecution will be dropped.

Lopez is said to be a hard-working young man and has always borne an excellent reputation up to the present. It is claimed by his friends that he did not realize the gravity of his act and that he is only too willing to make every amend in his power.

FINED FOR CRUELTY.

W. E. Brentner of Dolgeville, who was arrested yesterday afternoon by Humane Officer McAney on a charge of cruelty to animals, pleaded guilty before Justice Klamroth this morning and was fined $25. The case, according to the testimony of Officer McAney, was one of more than ordinary brutality.

Brentner is alleged to have turned a sick horse out into a field and to have left it there without food or water. The animal was so weak that it could not stand and the only nourishment which it received was given it by passing school children. The matter was reported to the Humane Society and McAney went to the scene. He found the animal in a pitiful condition and at once put it out of its misery. Brentner made the excuse that he had been too busy to give any attention to the horse but the court could not see it that way.

SENATOR BARKER'S PLACE SOLD.

An important real estate deal was closed yesterday afternoon when the handsome home of Senator George H. Barker at No. 75 South Grand avenue passed into the possession of Dr. Rudolph Schiffman. The purchase price is given as $65,000.

The Barker home is one of the show places of Pasadena and is in the very heart of the select residence section. Senator Barker has not occupied it during the past year and it was rented during the winter months. The grounds have a frontage of 400 feet on Grand avenue and run back to a depth of 540 feet. The sale was made through the agency of E. H. Lockwood.

DEMOCRATS WELCOME BELL.

Pasadena Democracy turned out in a body this evening to welcome Theodore A. Bell, candidate for Governor. Although the exercises were tame compared with those which welcomed Gillett, the reception was enthusiastic. Mr. Bell, after briefly discussing the issues facing the Democratic party at this time, called attention to the claims which Hearst's man Langdon was trying to impose upon the voters of the State. He exposed the Langdon policy and the mercenary methods which were behind it.

SAN PEDRO ACTIVITIES.

Extending First Street to Water Front. Steamer Line to San Francisco. Car Shortage Feared.

SAN PEDRO, Oct. 19.—City Attorney Goodrich and City Engineer Whitman are working on the necessary legal papers and grade points for the purpose of opening up First street to the water front. When this street is opened, San Pedro will have two public highways to the water front on the inner harbor, Fifth street being already opened.

The Board of Trustees on Tuesday night completed the purchase of fifty additional feet from the San Pedro Lumber Company on the front, adjoining First street, which will add materially to the wharfage now owned by the city.

As soon as the streets in the northern end of the city have been graded to conform to the grade of First street, the entire section will be sewered and an outfall constructed. Bonds for that purpose were voted several months ago.

The Crescent Wharfage and Warehouse Company, through Charles J. Lehman, manager, has purchased the steamer Hanalei, and she will be put in the coastwise trade between San Pedro and San Francisco after having made two trips to Eureka for the Hammond Lumber Company. The Hanalei was formerly the property of the Inter-Island Steamship Company of Honolulu.

Rev. James Blackledge, M.A., formerly of San Luis Obispo, has arrived here to assume the duties of pastor of the Methodist Church, succeeding Rev. George Steed, who has been transferred to Prospect Park.

The old tug Hercules, formerly the property of Heidmaier & New, who held the first contract for building the breakwater, and recently purchased by Capt. Napier of the Nelson-Napier Navigation Company, is being overhauled and put in repair. Capt. Napier states he will attempt to engage in the towboat business on San Pedro Bay.

A car famine is threatened in the different railroad yards at this port, which may seriously interfere with the prompt dispatch of vessels and necessitate the temporary reduction of the force of lumber handlers. The scarcity of cars is said to be due to a great demand for cars on the Colorado River fill.

CENTRAL OIL COMPANY LOSES.

A Dangerous Fire at Los Nietos Destroys Oil Cars, Pump House and Some Machinery.

LOS NIETOS, Oct. 19.—Black clouds of oil smoke have wrapped this place all day, and only a fortunate combination of circumstances saved the big storage tanks of the Central and Murphy oil companies from being burned. As it is, the latter company loses nothing, but the Central loses two tank cars filled with crude oil, a pumphouse and its machinery, a loading rack and about three hundred feet of sidetrack. The origin of the fire is not definitely known, but it is supposed to have started from a grounded wire near the pumphouse. The accumulated gas in the loaded cars exploded, spreading the flames to the loading rack, etc. The oil burned fiercely and the smoke clouds were so dense that many people supposed that the big tanks were on fire. Fortunately their distance from the blaze was sufficient to protect them, for had their thousands of barrels of inflammable fluid once caught fire the results could only be imagined. The family of San Perkins, who has charge of the Central tanks, live in a cottage near the pumphouse, and it was only by hard work that the dwelling and its contents were saved. The cars, engine, pumphouse, rack, etc., are said to be a total loss.

MANAGER GATTONE PROMPTLY PAYS SALARIES.

Dissatisfied Long Beach Musicians Start to Get Out Attachment Papers but They Tell the Baton Man of It and the Coin for Their Salaries Is Promptly Forthcoming.

LONG BEACH, Oct. 19.—Charging that Manager Gattone was in arrears with their salaries, several members of the Italian band this morning filed attachment papers before Recorder Hart, and then, hunting up the manager, told him of their action. Gattone promptly satisfied all demands and the rejoicing musicians wandered back to the City Hall and told the disgusted Recorder, who was industriously getting out the necessary papers, that they did not need them.

The retirement of Manager Gattone promises to be the next turn in band affairs. His men this morning intimated to the finance committee that Gattone's system of payment was not satisfactory. The committee then proposed to the manager that if he would relinquish control they would pay up all back salaries and leave him clear of debt. This proposition Gattone is inclined to accept and has under consideration. The members of the band have agreed to remain under the management of the committee and will deposit a forfeit of $2 each every week for six months, to be forfeited in case they leave the band.

LONG BEACH BREAKERS.

The junior class of the High School in order to secure funds for the athletic and debating societies is arranging for a circus, to be held on the campus Saturday, October 27. Besides the big show there will be twenty sideshows. An afternoon and night performance will be given. The menagerie, it is said, will contain animals classified in no known textbook of natural history.

At a meeting of the trustees of the First Methodist Church today it was decided to award the foundation contract for the new house of worship to a Los Angeles firm and papers were to be signed today. It was also decided to build the walls of Pasadena stone and pressed brick. The stone will be used up to and including the window sills, the remainder of the wall to be of brick.

Creditors of Wesley N. Godber today attached furniture found at his office and residence. Godber, who was a stock broker, disappeared two weeks ago and is said to be living under an assumed name in a distant city.

Reports of the first month's attendance at the grammar schools of this district show an increase of 22 per cent. over last year. The enrollment at present is 2577.

The Nellie and Music, rival launches, had an exciting race yesterday from the Long Beach wharf to San Pedro. All the way across they ran nose and nose and drew abreast of Dead Man's Island bow beside bow and less than five feet apart. Then the Nellie went ahead to the Chinese Junk and the Music fell astern and rounded into the harbor.

While attempting to land at the dock of the National Lumber Company at West Long Beach this morning the steamer Frances Leggett poked her nose into the sand and the combined efforts of the tugs Warrior and Falson were required to pull the steamer off.

Ed Hitchcock, employed at a local planing mill, got his hand in front of a circular saw this morning and is minus part of a finger.

The new steamer City of Long Beach will make her maiden trip December 5. The engines on the port side are in place and the opposite battery will be ready November 1. Capt. Charles Bell will command the new boat and Bert Moody will be chief engineer. The City of Long Beach will run between Long Beach, San Diego and Ensenada, alternating with the San Diego.

SANTA MONICA SEWERS.

Storm Drain to Pass Over Abbott Kinney's Land, Which May Be Objected to.

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 19.—The path of the Santa Monica Board of Trustees is not strewn with roses all of the way. They seem to no sooner get out of one difficulty or entanglement than another bobs up to make the pathway of the city dads one of strenuosity.

Some time ago the contract was let for an outfall storm drain on Ashland avenue. This is to afford relief to Main street and vicinity, which, during the rainy season, is often under water. Work on the outfall to carry off the storm water was begun Wednesday, which is being constructed of 24-inch vitrified pipe, with cemented joints.

The plan is to empty the storm water into the ocean, coming down Ashland avenue from the hill district and crossing Ocean Front on to the beach. Here is where there may be trouble.

The beach property from the north line of Raymond avenue to Kinney street is all private property, belonging to Abbot Kinney, who may possibly object to the Trustees running the outfall across his land to reach the ocean.

Mr. Kinney was asked by a Times representative if he would place an injunction on the work, or take any measures restraining the Trustees from carrying out their plan. That gentleman said that the first he knew of the storm drain being put in on Ashland avenue was when he was told about it yesterday morning. "The beach property at that point is mine," said Mr. Kinney, "and the Trustees have never asked me for the right to cross it for any purpose. I consider that it will be an injury to the beach to permit the storm drain to empty there. This has been demonstrated at other points on the beach, at Bay street, for instance," continued Mr. Kinney.

"Will you stop the work?" asked the reporter.

"I am not ready to say now just what I will do, but I will be heard from before the work is completed," answered Mr. Kinney.

Nieman & Kneen have the contract, and expect to complete the work in about ten days.

It is impossible to state at this time what the outcome will be. It is quite likely that the matter will come before the City Trustees next Monday night, and it is also quite probable that injunction proceedings will be instituted, although Mr. Kinney would not state so positively when seen tonight.

Mayor T. H. Dudley was asked tonight by The Times reporter what his recollection was of the city's right of way across Ocean Front to the beach.

Mr. Dudley said that he was of the opinion that when Ashland avenue and other streets were dedicated to the city that the dedication was through to the water front. He was not willing to believe that the streets were dedicated only to the Ocean Front walk, as Mr. Kinney contends, but that the city's right goes through to the water edge.

An examination of the city map in the engineer's office tonight shows that in the case of Ashland avenue, at least, that it is only dedicated to the walk. One of the clerks in the engineer's office said that Mr. Kinney is paying taxes on the beach property through which this sewer is to pass.

USE OF RELIEF FUNDS.

A meeting of the Santa Monica Bay Relief Committee, held yesterday afternoon, the disposition of the unused money on hand, subscribed to the San Francisco earthquake relief fund, was the important issue. The committee, of which T. H. Dudley is chairman, and Roy Jones the acting secretary, reached the conclusion that "on account of the present conditions in San Francisco, it would be wiser to expend the balance on hand for charitable purposes in the Santa Monica bay district." This will be done if the committee receives no objections from the subscribers to that fund. Subscribers are requested to file their objections to this manner of disposing of the balance now on hand with the president, at the Merchants' National Bank of this city.

The report of the treasurer of the committee shows that the people of the Santa Monica bay contributed in cash to the San Francisco relief fund $3717.97. Of this amount $2441.31 was disbursed, leaving a balance on hand of $1276.66. David Evans of Venice was treasurer, and his accounts of receipts and expenditures were audited by F. H. Gere, who reported that he had canceled checks for all disbursements, and that there was in bank the sum of $1276.66, as shown by the bank book.

The committee was unanimous in the belief that this was the best way to dispose of the balance, and no objections seem to be anticipated by the committee.

PROF. HATCH RECOVERING.

William Hatch, who was knocked down by a car the other night, but not seriously injured, is improving and recovering from the shake-up. Some people have been unkind enough to say that his ravings and actions of the past few days was only a scheme to recover damages from the Los Angeles Pacific Railway Company.

Prof. Hatch is an alchemist, who claims he can grow gold, but today he expressed himself as disgusted with the public because they decline to take him seriously. He said the people do not appreciate his untiring efforts, and for this reason he proposes to destroy his secret of gold making, and thereby end science of all the long years of research. Prof. Hatch says that several years ago he offered his secret of gold growing to the British government on the condition that it would free the Jews in Russia, but it appears that England was not in want of gold at that time, so he still has the secret in his trunk at his little Ocean Front home. But he will destroy it. He says the spirits have influenced the people against his secret of gold making, and the professor has "got it in" for the spirits as well as the public, and he intends to fool them all by destroying the secret. The professor is a spiritualist, and Christian Scientist, and a pleasant talker, though somewhat erratic.

SCHOOL BUILDING FAULTY?

Huntington Park Citizens Allege That the Construction Is of Poor Quality.

HUNTINGTON PARK, Oct. 19.—A petition signed by four contractors and practical mechanics has been presented to Superintendent of County Schools Keppel, praying that he personally, accompanied by an architect, make an inspection of the $22,000 schoolhouse now in course of construction here.

The petition alleges that the building is poorly constructed and has grave faults, in fact, is unsafe for occupation and a menace to the lives of the children. The petitioners offer to point out to the authorities the defects, before such defects are covered up.

The school question has passed through many phases, in which have figured heated elections, a fight over rival sites, and injunctions, and the end is not yet.

Rumors of faulty construction in the new building have been prevalent for some time. In response to complaints the school trustees appointed George E. Steele, J. S. Hadden, and W. C. Langhorst a committee to investigate.

This committee met over a week ago and again on Monday last and inspected the building, and, as work on the structure proceeded without a report to the trustees, the petition to the county Superintendent of Schools resulted. The petitioners object is to call attention to the alleged defects before a payment is made which is nearly due.

Among the defects alleged by the critics are that the cement piers on the ground, forming the foundations, are of poor quality, one objector alleging that a kick from his boot sent one to pieces. The underpinning is said to be too light, as is the main bearing partition holding up the whole building. In place of 2x16 joists 2x8s doubled have been used, and while the building should have been bridged every six feet there has been none. Over windows in the basement steel beams should have been placed for strength, whereas it is stated nothing but 2x8s have been used. It is claimed there is also an absence of bridging over any of the openings. For outside studding, in place of 2x6s, 2x4s have been used. Outside brick work is said to be of poor quality, and not tied properly, the ties being neither of proper size nor material, being made of sand screen and put on with roofing tacks, instead of being regular standard ties. It is also claimed that there is an unfilled space between the brick and woodwork, which in case of fire would be extremely dangerous.

Prof. George Garlow, secretary to the trustees, in an interview, said that the $19,000 originally appropriated for the building was cut down to $16,400, necessitating alterations of the specifications. He ridiculed the objection that the building was materially weakened thereby. He said that the hurry to get the roof on was caused by fear of fall rains, and was not done at the expense of the building. The work had been supervised for the board by M. J. Hund, manager of the Cudahy ranch.

The contractors for the building are Wilson & Julian, Los Angeles. An effort to locate one or the other of the contractors in order to get a statement from him was made today, but without success.

It is stated if the petition to Superintendent Keppell is insufficient, an injunction will be sought.

The land will be subdivided and Mr. Bell will be one of the first to erect a handsome residence on the property.

HAS THE HAY; WILL NOT PAY.

RANCHERS WANT MONEY FOR FOUR CARLOADS.

F. J. Fowler, Claiming to Represent Fowler Grain and Hay Company of San Jose, Their Debtor—Missing from Branch Office in This City. Main Office Unoccupied.

Several people are anxiously looking for a man who had, for a while, offices in the Copp building, and who said he was the representative of the Fowler Grain and Hay Company of San José. The man gave his name as F. J. Fowler, and got four carloads of hay from ranchers, promising to pay upon receipt of the cars. Some of the ranchers have not yet seen about $500 which is due for hay, and are also unable to see Mr. Fowler. He has not been around his office for nearly three weeks. Andrew J. Copp, Jr., has been retained in the interest of the ranchers, and he is trying to find Fowler or the $500.

About the middle of September, various ranchers got letters regarding the purchase of hay and grain. Some of these came from San José, bearing the letter head of the Fowler Grain & Hay Company, of No. 27 South First street, San José. The letters announced the opening of a branch in Los Angeles, where the same attention would be given clients as at the parent house, and requesting patronage. The letterhead was imposing, with a cable address, the announcement that the company was prepared to do an oriental export business, etc. A little later, letters came from the branch at Los Angeles. Attorney Copp has several of these in his possession, and they have one peculiarity. They are all signed by a rubber stamp bearing the company's name, or the same thing in typewriting—never personally or in handwriting.

During the course of negotiations with the farmers, the company referred to banks in San José and the commercial agencies for their standing. Dun's and Bradstreet's do not contain their name, and a telegram to San José reveals the fact that their office has been unoccupied for some weeks.

On the strength of the letters, Asher & Harris of Tehachepi sent to Fowler, at Los Angeles, two carloads of hay, for which they were to receive $252 on receipt of the cars. M. M. Strickler of Vista, San Diego county, also sent two carloads, for which he was to receive $228.

These gentlemen say they have not received any money or any word from Fowler since they shipped the hay, and they want to find him. In the letters they got it was stated that the bills would have to go to the San José office, and that, consequently, there might be some slight delay in payment. They consider the delay far from slight.

Fowler has not been at his office, No. 418 Copp building, for nearly three weeks, and no one seems to know of his present whereabouts. He rented a box at the postoffice, but has not left any directions for forwarding his mail. It is said that he has gone to Salt Lake City.

Fowler is described as a man of medium height, rather heavy set, with a full round face, clean shaven. He has black eyes and hair, and presents a good appearance, being always carefully dressed. He speaks with an English accent, and has been taken for an Englishman.

WIFE DAZED BY HIS BLOW.

Couple Living Apart Have Quarrel and Man Fells the Woman With His Fist.

Policeman Storey at 9 o'clock last night found Mrs. F. G. Donegan lying unconscious at the foot of a stairway in the apartment house at No. 1028 West Ninth street. By her side stood her husband. Storey says that Donegan and the woman got into a quarrel and that Donegan struck her in the face, rendering her senseless. He was arrested.

Donegan claims to have been invited by his wife to take her to a dance. He called at her apartments and a quarrel followed. They have been separated since January 1.

Friends of the woman removed her to her room, where she was revived.

ARREST BOY AS BURGLAR.

William Pochaska, aged 14, of No. 4015 Adair street, was arrested yesterday by police of the Pasadena-avenue station on a charge of burglarizing a grading camp on San Fernando road. The police say that another lad was implicated in the burglary, but escaped. It is alleged that Pochaska and the other boy went to the camp and took some articles of minor value from some of the sheds, after breaking in. Pochaska was sent to the Detention Home.

BRIEFS OF HEMET.

HEMET, Oct. 19.—Preliminary arrangements have been made for the University of California Farmers' Institute to be held at Hemet about the middle of November.

R. J. Dunn, C. A. Waters and W. F. Stutt of Redlands and H. Burris of Los Angeles were here Tuesday looking up the possibilities for a fuel gas plant to be located between San Jacinto and Hemet.

A Democratic rally was held at Hemet Thursday evening.

A large number of Republicans from Hemet went down to Riverside Wednesday to the Gillett meeting.

GILLETT WINS SANTA BARBARA.

ESTIMATED THAT HE WILL GET 1000 MAJORITY.

Democrats Struggling for a Final Mass Meeting—Will Mount Boys on Horses to Swell a Proposed Parade—Rousing Reception to Gillett and Porter Staggers Democrats.

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 19.—Chairman J. L. Hurlburt of the Republican County Central Committee, states that, after a careful canvass of the county, the returns indicate that Gillett will win by 800 votes, on a conservative estimate. It is possible that Gillett's plurality will exceed 1000. As this county is normally not more than 500 Republican, these returns indicate that a large number of Democrats have deserted Bell for the more logical candidate put up by the Republican party.

BOYS FOR DEMOCRATIC PARADE.

The Democrats of the city are planning for a parade of horse-flesh, and as many boys as they can hire to guide the animals, when W. H. Alvord comes to this city, November 3, to fire the final gun of the campaign.

The demonstration given Gillett and Porter last night has fired the supporters of the Bell-McNab organization to outdo the Republicans. A local livery stable has been prevailed upon to put all its horses in the parade. The number of horses will probably not be more than thirty, but the Democratic boomers say that as a horse has four feet, that will make as many as two men, and the length of the body of the animal will do much to lengthen out a parade, and if they can put a parade a block long on State street that it is a good showing this year, when it is as difficult to enlist Democratic enthusiasm in this city as it is to make the people believe Gillett is the nominee of the Expos.

EL CAMINO REAL.

A meeting of business men was called yesterday in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, to discuss plans to cooperate with the Camino Real Association in placing mission-bell signs at the intersections of county roads, along the highway of the padres. L. F. Block of Los Angeles addressed the meeting, explaining the desires of the association, and asking for the cooperation of the people of the city. As there was but a brief notice given of the meeting, the attendance was not sufficient, in the opinion of those present, to warrant entering into any agreement to authorize an expenditure of money that the project would require, and it was deemed advisable to defer action until November 9, at which time it is expected a large representation will be in attendance. The Chamber of Commerce, Commercial Club and Board of Supervisors will be appealed to for assistance. There is a strong probability that Santa Barbara county will do her share in the proposed erection of signs for Camino Real.

INDEPENDENCE MAN LOSES.

Ralph W. Schoonover of this city, Independence League candidate for Congress, in the Eighth District, will not be able to get his name on the ticket, as the nominating petition was not legally made. The law requires that the petition shall be on one sheet, so there can be no chance of fraud in pasting other sheets of names to the heading. This matter was overlooked in preparing the Schoonover petition.

WRECKAGE ALONG SHORE.

The wreckage of the schooner Shasta, which vessel went ashore at Point Concepcion, on October 5, has floated down the channel in large quantities and is scattered about, a menace to vessels. A portion of the deck and cabin of the Shasta washed ashore at Punta Gorda, about twenty miles below this city. No damage has been done the pleasure wharf and commercial wharf of this city, nor to the wharf at Miramar, or the one at Serena, the wreckage having passed down the channel about fifteen miles on the coast from these points. Nor has any of the wreckage struck any of the vessels of the Pacific squadron, now in this port.

DREDGER PASSES BARS AJAR.

Marine Excavations Are About to Begin on the Western End of Newport Bay.

NEWPORT, Oct. 19.—The "bars were let down" yesterday and the big dredger passed through the Southern Pacific bridge, which is across the Santa Ana River or the western end of Newport Bay. The dredger had been waiting for sime time to get through and begin work for the Townsend-Dayman Company, but the tide has not been sufficiently high until today to take the immense dredger through. S. Townsend was here to watch the operation of bringing the dredger through. Levees have already been built and dredging is to begin at once.

POWELL-PEABODY.

Miss Sallie Peabody, oldest daughter of Postmaster H. A. Peabody, was married yesterday to Clifford W. Powell of Plains, Mont. Rev. A. H. Hooper of the Congregational Church officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Powell departed for Los Angeles, and from there will go to their future home in Plains, Mont., where the groom is cashier of a bank.

LAND TWO TUNA.

Fishermen here landed two tuna yesterday and day before. One weighed 127 pounds and the other 168 pounds. Both were taken from the pier.

WOULD KEEP RIVER IN BED.

ORANGE COUNTY MAN SUES TO STOP DIGGING.

Avers That the Operations Planned by the First Street Land and Improvement Company Along the Santa Ana Would Result in Diverting the Stream.

SANTA ANA, Oct. 19.—I. M. Von Schrilitz, who owns a large tract southwest of Santa Ana along the river bed, objects to the plans of the First Street Land and Improvement Company, which he alleges in a suit filed in the Superior Court this morning, is trying to make a new channel for the Santa Ana River and divert it from its natural course.

Mr. Von Schrilitz owns about six hundred acres and he alleges that if the new channel is made that the water will be forced onto his property and do him damage to the amount of $100,000. Victor Montgomery has filed a suit praying the court that the First Street Land and Improvement Company be restrained from diverting the waters of the river from its natural course.

He alleges that the river after crossing the line of First street of the city of Santa Ana takes a southwesterly course, and that the company is at work below the street crossing digging out large willows and other trees growing upon high ground and is threatening to excavate the earth and to divert the waters of the river from its natural channel.

STOP ON DAIRYMAN.

State Dairy Inspector J. L. Starr and Milk Inspector George W. Hood of Los Angeles, visited Santa Ana yesterday for the purpose of inspecting the dairies. After the tour Mr. Hood said that he found them with but one exception in a fairly good condition. He had a few suggestions to make for the improvement of one or two of them, and the owners promptly agreed to comply with his requests. The Delhi Creamery, however, according to Mr. Hood, practically refused to conform to the demands of Los Angeles, and as this dairy is supposed to be shipping its product into that city, Mr. Hood promptly ordered the management to discontinue it. He notified the proprietor that as soon as he was ready to make the necessary changes he would be allowed to resume the shipment of milk into Los Angeles, but until then his product would be barred from that city.

DELEGATE TO PASADENA.

At a special meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce late yesterday afternoon, George A. Edgar, D. H. Thomas and F. P. Nickey, were delegated to go to Pasadena, for the purpose of participating in the effort to form a federation of the various boards of trade and chambers of commerce in this State. The meeting will be held on Thursday and Friday of next week. The local delegates have been instructed to favor a federation confined to Southern California instead of the whole State. However, final action cannot be taken until the delegates report to the Chamber of Commerce here regarding the results of the meeting.

BOATS ARE WRECKED.

High Tide at Huntington Beach Takes Craft from Moorings—Water Betterment.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 19.—For several days there have been unusually high tides, with rough seas and big combers. The heavy surf is what has done so much damage to the wharf from time to time. A gang of men has been strengthening the weak places for the highest tides of the year, today and tomorrow.

Some damage is expected here, in spite of the previous efforts. Three boats were washed from their anchorage and came ashore here, yesterday, one a total wreck. All fishing is at a standstill while the storm is on.

Two cholos undertook to go out in a small boat to fish yesterday. When only a short distance from shore the sea washed their nets and other belongings from the boat. They at once saw their danger and started for land, glad to return alive.

FOR MORE WATER.

Preliminary work will be begun soon on a big basin which will be of cement, and will be used to supply a better water system for Huntington Beach.

The Huntington Beach Company is to build this reservoir, which will hold a million gallons, on Signal Hill, which is 120 feet above the water and ninety-five feet higher than the bluff at the foot of Main street. This is expected to give a good pressure all over town. A twelve-inch pipe is to connect the big reservoir with the pumping station. Manager Reed is making an approximate estimate of the pipe necessary for the connection and extensions.

CELERY MARKETING DEAL.

The Orange County Celery Growers' Association has arranged with the California Vegetable Union, as on previous years, for the marketing of their celery in the East. They will be represented in Chicago by W. E. Gerhart, eastern representative of the California Vegetable Union, who is now in Chicago at their headquarters. The cost of selling in this way is but a few cents per dozen bunches. It is said that the loss last year was less than 1 per cent.

PASTOR RESIGNS.

Rev. G. N. Gardner, who has been pastor of the Baptist Church here since its organization, two years ago, has resigned. The resignation was not received by the members, and a call was given him for the coming year. Whether Mr. Gardner will remain and reconsider his resignation or not has not been decided.

VALLEY NOTES.

Rev. J. McKenzie of Bardsdale, Ventura county, has arrived at Wintersburg to take charge of the new Methodist Church there. Rev. Edgar E. Clough of River Falls, Wis., has also arrived to take the pastorate of the Westminster Methodist Church.

Mr. Gibbs drove a couple of miles north of town yesterday after wood. In crossing a field he drove through a dense thicket. A pit had been left partly covered, and one of his horses stepped into it and fell on its breast. Being unable to extricate the animal, Mr. Gibbs was obliged to leave his team and travel a mile for a shovel and on returning found his horse thoroughly planted in an old well five feet deep and four feet square. After an hour's hard work he succeeded in digging the horse out uninjured.

O. N. Frambes, who was summoned here from Oakland, arrived last night on account of the condition of Mrs. Frambes, which is critical.

VENTURA ABLAZE FOR GILLETT.

MONSTER MASS MEETING TO BE HELD TONIGHT.

Larger Attendance Expected Than Greeted McKinley and Roosevelt. Gubernatorial Candidate and Party Will Return This Afternoon and Prepare for the Great Meeting.

VENTURA, Oct. 19.—This county is ablaze with enthusiasm over the anticipated visit of Candidate Gillett, the Republican standard-bearer, tomorrow. Mr. Gillett and party, including Warren Porter, Frank Short of Fresno and Frank Dominguez of Los Angeles, the Spanish orator, will arrive tomorrow (Saturday) at 3 a.m., from Santa Barbara.

The party will continue to Oxnard and in the forenoon will visit the great sugar factory in that city. In the afternoon the distinguished visitors will return to Ventura and prepare for the meeting at night, which promises to be a record-breaker in the way of political meetings. It is expected it will eclipse even the McKinley and Roosevelt meetings in the town when those two great Republicans paid it a visit. Trainloads of people will be arriving all day from outlying sections. Hueneme and Oxnard will send, 500, while as many will arrive from Santa Paula. Great crowds are being prepared for from Simi, Conejo, Camarillo, Saticoy, Nordhoff and other sections.

The management thinks now, from the outlook, that there is nothing for it but an overflow meeting, as it will be impossible for the crowd to get into any hall in the town or county. This county has always been staunchly Republican, giving Roosevelt over 1000 majority. Its normal Republican majority is 600, and Gillett will get all this without a doubt, according to the best judges.

BAD MAN IN JAIL.

Dolores Quintana is again in the County Jail. He was landed there yesterday on a misdemeanor charge from Oxnard, where he was given ninety days for holding to the idea that he could shoot up the town with impunity. Quintana had just been dismissed from custody after trials in which he was tried for the murder of Watchman McNaughton in Oxnard last March. The officers insist he is a pretty bad man and are confident they will yet land him for a good long term.

NOTES AND PERSONALS.

A big slice of the deck of the lumber schooner Shasta, which went ashore at Point Concepcion a few weeks ago, is stranded on the beach at this point, and is being chopped into kindling wood by wreckers. There is also an air funnel from the boat piled up on the beach. The piece of deck is about fifty feet square. It drifted in above the wharf, and for fear it would beat the piles to pieces it was secured and hauled up on the beach.

Thomas Arthur Coultas and Edna Blanche Hughes were united in marriage yesterday at the home of the parents of the bride, near Camarillo. Both young people are popular in their circle of acquaintances.

Hubert Vancaster, aged 61, and Herdwig Brose, aged 47, both of Los Angeles, drifted into town yesterday and securing a marriage license, were made one by Justice Boling. For their wedding journey they departed for Los Angeles.

N. W. Blanchard, an orange grower, and family, have returned from an extended trip to Europe.

Guy H. France and Miss Gertrude Belle Dunn were married yesterday at Piru.

Why Many People Suffer From Constipation.

A SURE AND SAFE RELIEF.

Constipation is most often caused by a torpid liver or failure of the stomach and bowels to perform their proper functions. The condition is commonly due at first to irregular habits of living and improper food, and if properly treated can be readily relieved. It is, however, too often aggravated and made chronic by the use, as medicine, of powerful and expensive drugs, which purge and perhaps give temporary relief, but are so drastic in effect as to damage the tender lining of the stomach and bowels, leaving a condition worse than at first. This can, however, be avoided, and the bowels gently and thoroughly opened by the use of Nature's own remedy—the famous natural mineral Laxative Water—HUNYADI JANOS—which has been relieving suffering mankind all over the world for nearly half a century. One dose, one-half a tumblerful, drunk on arising in the morning, (slightly warmed for best results) will, within an hour, bring a delightful and refreshing relief. A whole bottle costs but a trifle, and it is best to keep one always on hand. Every druggist keeps it.

Be a Whole Man

NATURE INTENDED THAT EVERY man should live all his years a perfect man. Few men do. Most men can. The problem of living a perfect man is simple. Undo the injury that dissipation has wrought. Then avoid disease as nature built you to live.

DR. TAYLOR
The Leading Specialist

To men whose years are being lived in physical imperfection as a result of dissipation, whose lives are less than full and perfect lives and who yearn to be the men that nature meant them to be, I extend an earnest and sympathetic offer of consultation and advice, both of which are absolutely free.

What Weakness Is

"Weakness" is merely a symptom of chronic inflammation in the prostate gland, brought on by early dissipation or by the improper treatment of some contracted disease. A complete and radical cure is therefore a question of restoring the prostate gland to its normal state, and this I accomplish promptly and completely without the use of internal remedies. My treatment is a local one entirely. It is original and scientific, and has been proved absolutely effective by thousands of tests. I am convinced that by no other methods can full and permanent restoration of strength and vigor be accomplished.

Blood Poison

I regard my successful treatment of blood poison as the crowning triumph of my professional career. I employ no harmful nor dangerous drugs. The remedies I use are such as no other physician employs in the treatment of this disease. They drive the very last taint of virus from the system. Every symptom of blood poison vanishes to appear no more. The blood is thoroughly cleansed and enriched, and the patient becomes a clean, strong, vigorous and healthy man.

Contracted Disorders

Absolute safety demands the most thorough treatment in all contracted diseases. I treat contracted diseases as no other physician treats them, and I cure thoroughly in less than the usual time required. There are no relapses.

I also cure with unvarying success Stricture, Varicocele, Lost Vigor and all reflex diseases.

Those finding it inconvenient or impossible to call in person should write a full and complete description of their symptoms. Their letters will receive my prompt and careful attention. All consultation strictly confidential.

My clever book, explaining men's diseases, is helpful in making a home diagnosis, and is free for the asking.

My fees are fair, my cures are permanent, and you can pay me when you are satisfied that you are well.

Weather Conditions.—The low that was central in the vicinity of the Great Lakes Thursday morning has passed beyond the limits of the chart, but its influence is still felt in the lake region, and in connection with a low off the South Atlantic Coast, has given rain from the lakes to Florida. Liberal amounts have fallen at various points in that territory. The high in the Pacific Northwest has increased in intensity and gradually overspreading the North Pacific Slope, though rain is still reported from the extreme Northwest. Clear, cool weather is reported generally in the Rocky Mountain region, with heavy to killing frosts in Western Washington, Montana and Colorado. In Southern California the weather is generally clear and fair weather is probable in Los Angeles and vicinity tonight and Saturday.

Forecasts.—Local forecast for Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair tonight and Saturday.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—Weather forecast:

San Francisco and vicinity: Fair Saturday; fresh northwest wind.

Sacramento Valley: Fair Saturday; brisk northwest winds.

San Joaquin Valley: Fair Saturday; fresh northwest wind.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Marked apathy of operators characterized yesterday's produce trading, and the market continued on an easy basis with business restricted closely within local jobbing confines.

The egg situation was unchanged. Fresh ranch stock was in light supply and the demand absorbed receipts at current prices. On 'change yesterday 25c was bid on ranch eggs, but dealers held to 26c, the asked price.

Butter was in active request at unaltered quotations.

The sales made on 'change yesterday morning were as follows—Twenty sacks of No. 2 pink beans, 1 case of Star Northern cheese, 1 carload of Loma Fancy 4-liter Bellefleur apples, 100 boxes of 4-tier choice Bellefleur apples.

Potatoes and onions, offered nothing new to report. Two carloads of onions came in. The new crop of beans are beginning to make their appearance at the market, and yesterday over two carloads were received.

The feature of the fruit market was the advance in the price of cranberries. Predictions were made several days ago for higher prices on cranberries, but dealers decided on a raise at once, and yesterday the price was advanced to 9.50@10.00 per barrel. Peaches were scarce and unchanged. Watermelons were in fair request at 40@1.50. Cantaloupes sold at 2.25 flat per crate. Missouri Jonathan apples brought 2.50; Bellefleurs, 1.90@4.10; Gravensteins, $1@1.60; and Colebrook Spitzenbergs, 2.25. Fancy Bartlett pears sold well at 2.75@3.60.

Dealers in vegetables reported yesterday as being the dullest and most featureless day they had experienced in their line of business for many months. Price changes were of no importance.

A meeting of the members was held at the close of yesterday morning's Produce Exchange session, it was voted unanimously by the members present that out of respect to the memory of H. W. Hellman, as a very prominent citizen, and particularly as the father-in-law of Louis M. Cole, the president of the Produce Exchange, no call will be held until next Monday. A committee was appointed consisting of Messrs. John T. Jr. Lewis and Chester W. Thompson to purchase an appropriate floral emblem at the expense of the Produce Exchange.

The receipts of produce as reported for yesterday's exchange were as follows: Eggs, 117 cases; butter, 11,074 lbs.; cheese, local, 3458 lbs.; Eastern, 1275 sacks; onions, 688 sacks; beans, 1317 sacks; sweet potatoes, none.
